

SUMMER COMFORT

A Sewing Chair That's That and Lots More.

GIFTS FOR THE TRAVELER.

Amusements For Children on an Ocean Voyage—Summer Window Shades That Make For Coolness—A Delicious Lemonade That Is Little Known.

Dear Mabel—New York became so intolerably hot that we just rushed down to Belle Harbor one Saturday afternoon not long ago and luckily found a charming cottage which had not been rented, so we took it, and at the present moment I'm sitting on the porch with a glorious view of the ocean in front of me, for you must know that Belle Harbor is only an hour's ride from town and right on the ocean. Well, the chair that I'm occupying is one of the joys of my life, and I stumbled across it quite unexpectedly in a department shop last week. It is called a sewing chair, but it has many other uses. At first glance you would take it for an ordinary rocking chair, with the peculiarity of having solid sides, but when these sides, which are hinged at the seat, are let down its other uses are well understood. These sides become transformed into broad arms on which you may lay your sewing or use your writing pad as I'm doing now. Except for unusual work these arms are as good as a table. But I'm not half through with the attractions of the chair, for you can take the rockers off when you want it to be stationary and fold them up, and the chair will rest firmly on its four legs. What do you think of that for a "stunt" piece of furniture?

Gift For the Traveler.

Dorothy D. went abroad last week, and I made her such a pretty little steamer present, one that I found so useful the last time I crossed. It's a stuple portfolio made of gray canvas, with a single large pany "for thoughts" worked on the cover. To make the portfolio all that is necessary are two pieces of cardboard the desired size. These are covered with the canvas and lined with violet silk. The two materials I overcast together all round the edges. With a hinge of ribbon the portfolio is complete. Oh, yes, I forgot to say that on the reverse side of the cover I embroidered Dorothy's monogram and that two ribbons passed around the portfolio are tied to keep the contents secure. I used my case for preserving prints and drawings while traveling.

And, talking of gifts, when children travel a few well chosen presents will keep them happy. It really takes very little to amuse children. A box of gifts to last through the days of ocean voyage can be arranged that may make all the difference between a pleasant and a disagreeable trip to both mother and child. Such a box was recently got up for some children by a friend of mine. The outside box, of generous proportions, was tied about with a silk flag, for the youthful traveler, particularly if he is a boy, wants to flaunt the stars and stripes on all patriotic occasions. Each small box put into the large one was numbered, with directions as to when it was to be opened and how its contents were to be used. For instance, "Box No. 1" contained peppermints to be opened after the first meal on board. "Box No. 2" had an exciting deck game to be opened the next afternoon. A morning gift was a tablet and a set of colored crayons. Another gift was a set of bean bags made of blue linen marked with the owner's initials. A game of cards with the pictures of the masterpieces in art was a helpful gift. An outfit for making paper flowers was a very suitable gift for the girl of the party, and to one of the boys just learning to tell the time a dollar watch was given.

Older little people frequently get restless on long trips. For them was a box of candy made doubly sweet by writing some little personal messages and humorous sayings on bits of paper and wrapping them around the bonbons. And what child would not love to receive a pretty box containing a fountain pen, a book of stamps, a few special delivery stamps, postal cards and paper wrappers? Little red leather record books would not come amiss either, as the young traveler would feel most important when making notes of the trip. And what fun it would be to read such notes written by a child of an imaginative mind!

The Double Shade.

I think it so queer that more housekeepers do not know about double shades that are to be had for windows. In summer they are particularly desirable. They are not wonderfully new; but, as I have just hinted, very few women know of their existence. Most women who want to keep out the glare of the summer sun, yet have attractive window effects from the inside, use two sets of shades, the dark green ones hanging next the window to keep out the sun and the white ones next the room over which to hang curtains of cool looking net or muslin. This is bunglesome and unnecessary, as it is possible to buy shades that are green on the outside and white or cream on the inside, or if you want the dark side next the window they can be made in this way.

Mother has just brought me a glass of "frog lemonade." You never heard of it? Probably not. It's a southern drink that is perfectly delicious, and I know you'll bless me one of these hot days if I give you the recipe. Take a large punch bowl, put in a pound of sugar, three quarts of water, the juice of two dozen lemons and one of pineapple and add two bottles of seltzer water. Mix all well. Add a dozen or so ripe strawberries or cherries and thin slices of pineapple and lemon. If not sweet enough add more sugar. When thoroughly mixed add a large square of ice and let the mixture get very cold before serving. Fill the glasses one quarter full of crushed ice and fill up with the lemonade, adding with it some of the fruit. This is a very generous quantity, but the proportions could be easily reduced. Yours devotedly, MABEL. Belle Harbor, N. Y.

A New Reason.

Annette, aged three, has two very talkative little sisters, and sometimes she finds it difficult to make herself heard at the table. One day when the others had been monopolizing the conversation longer than she liked Annette raised her finger with a warning gesture and whispered half aloud: "Everybody keep still. My foot's asleep."—Dellneator.

"My Wife"

Call her that, won't you, whenever you speak of her? "My wife." That has a good, strong, true ring that does the soul good. So many men speak of her as "she" thinks this or that.

The woman who never gets higher in the mind of her husband than "she" never holds a very close relation to the great world about her. She stays in the home; she does all that comes to her to do faithfully and well; she lives and loves and wears soul and body out and never is known outside this little round, save by Him who sees and knows us all to the very hearts core. But "my wife!" There she goes now

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. FORD, 2207 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Queen of the home she loves so well and graces so beautifully. Her place is warm in the heart of the man who honors her with this, the only title she ever should have applied to her.

"My wife!" She is part and parcel of every farm operation. She is the woman of her husband's counsel and his guide, his stay in times of trouble and his helper always and everywhere. She holds his hands when storms come and cheers him in all the dark ways of sorrow. She is trusted because she trusts. She finds her real joy of living in the sunshine of her husband's presence.

"My wife" is honored by her little ones. "She!"—oh, the pity of the word! If it could only be blotted out and in its place be written that better and dearer and sweeter name, "wife!" You love your wife, don't you? Of course you do. She is the one for whom you would do most and strive most and live most. Then give her the most beautiful of names—"wife."—Farm Journal

Household Hints.

Do you know that coffee stains, even when there is cream in the coffee, can be removed from the most delicate silk or woolen fabrics by brushing the spots with pure glycerin? Rinse in lukewarm water and press on the wrong side until quite dry. The glycerin absorbs both the coloring matter and the grease.

Do you know if a cloth is wetted in vinegar and wrung out as dry as possible with the hands and wrapped around cheese and then the whole put in a large paper bag and kept in a cool place the cheese will retain the moisture and freshness of a newly cut cheese and will not mold.

Do you know that in peeling apples the brown satin that generally appears on peeled slices can be avoided by setting each slice as it is peeled in a basin of cold water? Thus no contact with the air is possible, and the stain is avoidable.

The water draws out the acids, and there is a sacrifice of flavor to color if this plan is used, and the apples are soaked too long. Any discolored slices will turn white again if rubbed with a piece of lemon.

Do you know that sometimes the most careful washing will not remove the flavor and odor of food from the utensil in which it was cooked?

This is frequently the case with fish, onion, cabbage, etc., but there is a remedy which may be a little trouble and yet is well worth trying. After any of these articles have been cooked wash the utensil well with soap and water. Then nearly fill it with cold water and for each quart of water add one tablespoonful of dissolved washing soda.

Place on the fire and let the water get boiling hot. Now pour the water into the sink. Rinse the utensil with clean water, and on wiping it dry it will be found perfectly sweet.

Election May Be Contested.

Louisville, Ky., July 23.—A count of the votes cast in the local option election shows that the city of Fulton, Ky., went dry by the narrow margin of seventeen votes. Leaders of the high license forces have not yet decided whether to contest the election in the courts.

EVERY FARMER

As well as every business man should have a bank account.

WHY?

Because: Your money is safer in the bank than anywhere else. Paying your bills by check is the simplest and most convenient method. Your check becomes a voucher for the debt it pays. It gives you a better standing with business men. Money in the bank strengthens your credit. A bank account teaches, helps and encourages you to save. This bank does all the bookkeeping. Your bank book is a record of your business.

A Change In Furniture Covers.

There is a change in the materials selected for loose summer coverings for furniture. The pale tans and grays that have concealed or protected, as the case may be, chairs and sofas for a number of years may have the quality of coolness, recommend them, but they were certainly depressing.

Now it is the fashion to make the slip covers of pretty cretonnes, not necessarily light, but in cool looking greens and browns, soft blues and dull pinks. These are much prettier than the linen and will last an entire summer without a visit to the laundry.
