BIG TIME AT THE COUNTY SEAT MONDAY TO HEAR CANDIDATES

Hon. Ben Johnson and Judge Settle Attract Large Crowds--Judge Sandidge Arrived to Preside Over Circuit Court.

There was a great crowd at Hardinsburg Monday. All sections of the county were represented and the people came from far and near to see and to be seen, to hear the news and chiefly to see the candidates, for politics filled the air.

Judge W. E. Settle and the Hon. Ben Johnson, who were billed to speak, were greeted by an enthusiastic crowd, which packed the court house. Mr. Johnson spoke first. In his plain, straightforward, earnest way he told the people what was being done to them by the trusts, combines and the robber tariff. He made it very clear that the great common people were being robbed right along, to pile up big fortunes for the few money kings. He said the only issue now before the people was the tariff. That the great Republican party could no longer fool the people on this question and the rank and file of that party were breaking away.

At the conclusion of Mr. Johnson's wholesome speech, Judge Settle was introduced by Claude Mercer. The crowd listened with interest to the Judge whom they are to have for Appellate Judge.

Aside from the candidates the crowd was especially concerned in Judge W. O. Sandridge, who was appointed by Gov. Willson, to preside over Circuit Court. He did not arrive until noon and little was done in court. Yesterday promised to be a busy day for the Judge and the Grand Jury.

Commonwealth's Attorney, J. R. Laymen, was on hand promptly to look after the interests of the commonwealth in his usual good way. He has a splendid Grand Jury to help him, made up as follows: Taylor Dowell, Irvington, foreman; John W. Ball, McQuady; Alton Clemmons, Rockvale; Chas. Bowldes, Axtel; James Stillwell, Stephensport; Eugene Beavin, LaHant; T. B. Cart, Union Star; James Perkins, Mattingly; Fred McMullen, Axtel; A. B. Cashman, Union Star; Eli Taul, Hardinsburg; John Critchelow, Hardinsburg.

THURMAN--ROBERTS WEDDING

Miss Mae Thurman And Mr. Virgil Dix Roberts Are United In Marriage In Louis- ville Last Wed- nesday

WILL LIVE IN TEXAS

Hardinsburg, Oct. 10 (Special)—On Wednesday, Oct. 5th at 5:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Edna T. Cremin, 1215 Garvin Place, Louisville, Ky., occurred a wedding, the culmination of acquaintance and courtship begun six years ago in the University of Kentucky between a fair daughter of Pulaski county and a worthy son of Breckinridge.

The contracting parties were Miss Mae the only child of Mr. J. H. Thurman, a sterling business man of Somerset, Ky., and Mr. Virgil Dix Roberts, youngest child of Rev. Felix R. Roberts a well known preacher of the M. E. church, South, now of Fordsville, Ky.

The bride is a 1905 Scientific graduate of the State University. In 1906 the groom was graduated from the same institution in electrical and mechanical engineering. Since graduating, he has been actively engaged in civil engineering work in Georgia, Arkansas, Kentucky and Texas. On January 1910, he became contracting engineer for the Weatherford Bridge Company, of Weatherford, Texas, where he has a splendid position at a lucrative salary.

On account of a deluge of rain and late trains, the wedding took place at the beautiful and hospitable home of the bride's friend classmate and university roommate, Miss Cremin, instead of at the Seelbach, as was scheduled. The pastor of the Broadway Baptist church impressively pronounced the ceremony in the presence of a few friends and relatives among who was Mrs. Thurman, the mother of the bride, and H. J. Roberts, the brother of the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party took supper at the Willard Hotel after which the bride and groom left for Weatherford, Texas, where they have been at home to their friends since Oct. 10th.

Breckinridge county has furnished the Lone Star State no worthier citizen than Virgil Roberts, and together we rejoice that through his yet in the Lone Star State he is of long a "home" man but is happily mated and located with every promise of years of success and happiness.

Attention Ye Spellers

On Friday night, Nov. 11th, there were held a spelling contest given in Hardinsburg at which the best speller will be awarded a ten dollar gold medal suitably inscribed and proclaiming him the champion speller of the county. The second best will receive a five dollar gold piece. Everybody is invited to participate. The spelling will be done from the spelling book used in the public schools of this county.

The medal will be awarded by Herbert M. Beard, who generously donates it in the cause of education.

Supt. Andrew Diskell will present the five dollars in gold to the second best speller, a generous donation to education.

It is hoped that each school in the county will have one or more contestants.

An admission fee of ten cents will be charged for the benefit of the County High School library.

Particulars next week.

SEVENTY-FIVE NEW MEN COMING

To Cloverport Tomorrow After- noon--Girls Hearts Are All A Flutter--Mayor Bar- ry Will Speak To Visitors

BRASS BAND WILL PLAY

The ambitious young women of Cloverport had better roll their curls up on crimp papers to-night and get ready for the seventy-five new men that are to arrive here tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock from Hawesville. They are all city fellows sent out by the Louisville Commercial Club to advertise Kentucky's wondrous growing metropolis.

Mayor Barry is anxious that a large crowd of citizens meet at the depot to greet the Louisvillians and give them a warm welcome to Cloverport. He wants the grandfathers, grandmothers, aunts and uncles, pretty girls and handsome boys and good babies, all to be there.

The members of the club will be accompanied by the First Regiment band and their short stay here promises to be a treat to Cloverport.

Miss Edith Burn Secretary to Mr. Weatherholt.

Miss Edith Burn has accepted the position of secretary for Mr. Marion Weatherholt, and will have charge of the book-keeping for his personal business enterprises.

Glad to Hear Good News.

Dear Mr. Babbage: Enclosed find $1 for the News. I don't think I could get along without it. Am glad to know Cloverport is prospering, and also that it is getting to be "cityfied." Don't you think it's time? With best wishes for all, I am very truly, Mrs. J. C. Stiff, Tulare, Cal.

Northwestern Apple Crop Worth Millions In Money

Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat. Spokane, Wash., October, 8.—Northwestern apple growers will have plenty of money to invest in automobiles, pianos and similar little trifles this winter. With a bumper yield the orchardists are offered good prices for their crops, owing to the shortage in other apple sections. It is estimated that the apple growers of this state alone will realize some $14,000,000, and the growers in Oregon, Northern California, Idaho and Montana will also roll in wealth. The yield in Washington is estimated at about 4,000,000 boxes, nearly double that of last year. The Oregon crop will be about half of that of Washington or in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 boxes.

Rev. Jones Believes In Printer's Ink

N. F. Jones, State Evangelist, of the Baptist church, who has been here, had quite a lot of printed matter made at the News office. He believes in printer's ink and uses it extensively. Besides having his own personal letter paper made he had several hundred cards printed treating the subject of Baptism.

Judge Sandige Presiding Here

Judge W. O. Sandige was appointed by Gov. Willson to preside over the Breckinridge Circuit Court. Commonwealth's Attorney Layman was in Cloverport Sunday enroute to Hardinsburg. Mr. Layman says that reports from Judge Chelf at Hot Springs indicate he is still improving.

Moved Into New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fisher and neices, Misses Ida and Georgia White and Mr. Chas. White, who have been living in the Simons flats since last March, moved into their new home last week. Their house is most convenient and attractive. It is built on the Colonial style of architecture.

Sells Bakery.

M. Brown has sold his bakery to Amel Oelze and it is being moved this week to the confectionery up town. Sam Brown will have charge of the baking.

MRS. HUNTER

Dies at the Home of Her Son at Sample Last Tuesday After a Short Illness.

Mrs. America Hunter, died last Tuesday morning at the home of her son, Wesley Hunter, at Sample. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Winchell. Mrs. Hunter was ill only four days, and as soon as her condition became serious, her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Haynes, was called from Durant, I. T.

Mrs. Hunter was eighty-three years of age, and was born in Indiana. She had lived in this county about thirty-five years. She was the grandmother of Finley Miller, of Hardinsburg.

Mrs. Gibbs' Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Lillian Adams Gibbs was held in Louisville last Wednesday afternoon, and the interment took place in the Cloverport cemetery Thursday morning. Rev. German P. Dillon officiated at the grave, and Misses Eva and Eliza May sang sweetly during the burial service. The remains were accompanied from Louisville by the husband, Mr. Henry Gibbs, and the daughter, Miss Lucy Adams, Fred and Artis Adams; Messrs. Frank and Fred Ferry, Chas. Chamberlain, of Irvington, and Mrs. Nancy Ferry, Mrs. Homer Dawley, sister of the deceased, also was here.

The floral tributes sent by loving friends and relatives were beautiful.

Beautiful Flowers.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Keenan sent the editor of the News a bunch of Princess Feathers that were greatly admired and wondered at all day Monday by the women who called at the office. The color—a scarlet—was so rich and deep.

Heavy Loser.

H. S. Kincaid was in the News office Monday buying old papers to wrap sweet potatoes. Mr. Kincaid is a thrifty farmer and is working hard to pull through his ill luck this summer. During the heavy rains he lost 15 acres of corn and 4 1/2 acres of tobacco.

Mr. Lynch Wants the News

Dear Mr. Babbage: Please find 50 cents for six months' subscription. I have been away from Cloverport quite a while and I want to know how the country is progressing in that part of Kentucky. So I believe the Breckinridge News will give me some idea. Yours truly, Laurence Lynch, West Hamlin, W. Va.

Mr. Moorman Sells.

W. R. Moorman & Son, Glendean, Ky., recently sold two Polled Durham bulls—Red King, 18th, to J. M. Shefflet, Georgetown, Tenn., and Roan King to John Akers, Irvington, Ky.

Revival Closes

The Baptist revival which has been in session for two weeks closed Sunday night. Several members from different churches of other towns placed their names with the congregation during the meeting. The services were well attended.

Miss Wathen Charmed With Cloverport.

Miss Eula Wathen, of Bardstown, arrived here Friday from Owensboro and stayed until Monday visiting Miss Francis Smith. Miss Wathen liked Cloverport so well that she could not resist visiting here again en route to her home.

Daviess County Fair On.

The Daviess County Fair that was compelled to close last week on account of the heavy rains, is on in full swing and large crowds are attending. The races are reported better than ever.

Judge Birkhead Goes to the Mountains.

Judge Thos. F. Birkhead, judge of the Sixth Judicial District, has gone to Pineville, Bell county, to convene a special term of Circuit Court. He will try two important murder cases.

INTERRUPTED

Was Traffic On The Henderson Route Because Of Wash- outs And Floods.

Again the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad was a great sufferer from the flood of water which fell for forty-eight hours ended last Thursday at noon, and again was the freight and passenger traffic on this road interrupted for two days, ending with Friday night. This time the trouble occurred again in the Narrows above town and to the Lead Creek trestle below town.

The trouble on the road began when, on Wednesday a wash-out near Henderson delayed trains. The rains that fell Wednesday night caused the immense hill in the Narrows to slip, and it is said that the dirt which came down on the track in the early part of the night not only stopped the west-bound cannon ball, but covered the track and went on nearly to the water's edge. It is claimed that ten times as much dirt came down on this occasion as there was when the big wreck occurred at the same place some eight weeks ago. The work train with its immense steam shovel was called out from Cloverport and put to work, and by 11:00 o'clock Thursday night a train was able to get into Hawesville from above, but here it was again stopped by the Lead Creek trestle.

At an early hour Friday morning the pile-drive train was put to work on this trestle, and workmen were of the opinion that the bridge could be so straightened up in ten or twelve hours that trains could be taken over the place. This trestle was in a wretched condition. Five of the central bents, of twelve feet each, was entirely washed away and the ties and track were left suspended in mid-air. The track had shifted at least two feet out of line, the inclination being toward the river, and in this span of sixty feet without supports the steel had dropped several inches. The great pile driver was put to work replacing these supports. The workmen claim that this trestle would have been destroyed in the great storm and flood of July 27 had it not been for the stone county bridge which was only a few feet away and between the trestle and the river. This bridge, it will be remembered, was destroyed after having successfully withstood the ravages of sixty years, and the last rain of this week even crumbled away nearly all of the remaining approaches.

Superintendent L. J. Irwin, of the Henderson Route, came down on Thursday night and was here Friday morning. To the Clarion man he stated that concrete arches over Lead Creek would be built in the near future, which would obviate the character of trouble they were now experiencing there, but that the unsettled condition would not allow it to be done at this time.—Hancock Clarion.
