WM. SMITH DIED FRIDAY

After A Long Illness--Was Past Three Score Years And Ten. Leaves Twenty-Five Grand Children--Burial Saturday.

MEMBER OF BAPTIST CHURCH

William Smith died of consumption at his home on the hill last Friday. He was seventy-five years of age.

He leaves a wife, two sons, one daughter, twenty-five grand-children and six great grand-children and a host of friends.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Clover Creek Baptist church, and was a good citizen. He was successful and honest in his business dealings and a highly respected citizen.

The funeral was held Saturday and the burial took place in the grave yard at Clover Creek Baptist church.

Walls--Pate.

Miss Callie Walls was married to Everett Pate, of Cloverport, March the twenty-ninth.

Mrs. Ball Dead.

Mrs. Nat Ball, of McQuady, died Saturday. Her death was caused by tuberculosis. Before her marriage she was a Miss Furrow. She was a sister of W. B. Taul, of Pisgah. She leaves a husband and three children.

Bank Safely Run.

Paul Snyder, former cashier of the Bank of Glen Dean, will be succeeded by his wife. Mrs. Snyder's assistant is Miss Louise Moorman, the daughter of the Hon. D. C. Moorman. This bank is the only one in the state run by women.

Dandy Court.

The High School boys have marked a dandy tennis court on the school campus. They enjoy a game of love every school day with the girls.

WHALLEN BROTHERS STEP DOWN AND OUT

Louisville, Ky., April 1.—Piqued at the withdrawal of W. M. Reed from the race of the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky, the Whallens, John and James, the two Louisville bosses, announced this morning that they had quit politics forever.

In an interview John Whallen said that he never again would take any interest in city state or national politics and that he and his brother had made their minds to quit the game forever.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION JULY 11

Louisville, Ky., April 1.—By a vote of 8 to 4, Louisville won out over Lexington as the place to hold the next State Republican convention to nominate candidates for state offices, at a meeting of the State Central committee held at the Galt house this afternoon.

The convention will be held in Louisville on Tuesday, July 11, and the county conventions on Saturday, July 8. The basis of representation in the state convention will be one delegate vote to every 100 votes cast for Taft, which means about 2,400 delegate votes in the convention.

MEN AND WHAT THEY ARE DOING

Bowmer Burks, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowmer, is meeting with splendid results in Ohio where he is traveling salesman for Ahron & Ott. Mr. Burks is one of the youngest traveling men of the Falls City who is making good.

Robert J. Ball, formerly of Hardinsburg, who holds a responsible position with the Southern Optical Company in Louisville, is engaged in the study of law and intends to make the profession his life work.

Paul Snyder, formerly of the Bank of Glen Dean, has been appointed State Bank Examiner by Dr. Bruner, Secretary of State. He is well qualified for the work and his efficiency and good banking judgment will be appreciated by the public. Mr. Snyder is a Milton, Kentucky, man and was in banking business in Lexington previous to his marriage to Miss Nancy Smith, of Fordsville. He has been connected with the Glen Dean institution not quite a year. Mrs. Snyder is herself greatly interested in banking, and she and Mr. Snyder have made the work their "hobby," and together have given it close study. As the youngest bank examiner in Kentucky Mr. Snyder will make the best the State can find.

E. E. Hardaway, traveling salesman for the Standard Oil Company, was in town Saturday. His ambition for 1911 is to sell Hardinsburg and Cloverport a carload of street oil. The town could follow no better example than to take the steps Elizabethtown has which is as follows: "The dust nuisance will be abated and Main Cross street will be oiled from the depot to the Baptist church. The county will also oil the Public Square. The city council made a contract with the Standard Oil Co. Friday for 6,000 or 8,000 gallons of oil at 3 1/4 cents per gallon to be used upon the streets. If the oil allays the dust, as it is claimed it will, the residents of the city should feel grateful to the council for the course it has pursued." —E'town Mirror.

Walter Moorman, of Glen Dean, sheep examiner for Breckenridge county, was here last week. Mr. Moorman gave all the farmers, except one, of this district certificates for their stock and found the flocks of sheep in good condition. Mr. Moorman is a well

JUDGE ELI BROWN PASSES AWAY.

Was An Ardent Democrat--Born in Meade County--Lived in Owensboro Twenty Years--Was Twice Married.

FUNERAL HELD IN LOUISVILLE.

Owensboro, Ky., March 30.—Judge Eli Brown, one of the best known attorneys in Kentucky, died at 11 o'clock tonight after a long illness of a complication of diseases. Judge Brown had been a resident of Owensboro for the past twenty years. He stood with leaders of the bar in Western Kentucky and was well known throughout the State. Judge Brown was born in Brandenburg, Meade county, November 13, 1843. He moved to Hawesville with his parents and began the study of law. He formed a partnership with Judge George Williams, one of the most celebrated attorneys in Kentucky. In 1878 Judge Brown moved to Louisville, where he engaged in the practice of law for ten years. In 1891 he removed to Owensboro.

Judge Brown was an ardent Democrat, but never sought political preferment. He was a Presidential elector in 1872 on the Democratic ticket. He was married to Miss Nancy Dorsey, of Nelson county, on February 3, 1878. To this union were born four children. They were Eli H. Brown, Jr., of Frankfort, a member of the State Prison Commission; W. Dorsey Brown, of Texas, and Mrs. George B. Black, of Seattle, his eldest son, who was on the staff of the old Louisville Commercial, died in 1894.

Judge Brown's second marriage was to Miss Elizabeth Keegan, of Louisville, to which union no children were born. Eli Brown, Jr., and Dorsey Brown were at their father's bedside at his death. The body was taken to Louisville for burial.

known stock man, and no more reliable examiner could have been secured by the county.

Lafe Behen has returned to the L. H. & St. R. shops after a good rest of several months. Since Mr. Behen began the machinist trade, he has never taken more than seven days vacation. He stuck to his machine for nearly a dozen years and mastered it skillfully.

Sloy McCracken has been back at his post at the Henerson Route shops for several weeks and has turned out some excellent jobs from the paint shop. His workmanship always attracts attention, and the L. H. & St. L. is proud of his work.

Sam Carden, living near Irvington, planted two and one-half acres of corn last week.

Alvin Skillman came down from Hardinsburg Saturday with a fine pair of mules which he sold to Bern Hansley, of Daviess county, for $375.

Just Named.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelse Quiggins who arrived March 10, was named Morris Vincent Quiggins last Friday. He is a fine little man and his parents and little sister are very proud of him.

Dr. Shivley In Stephensport.

Dr. George Shivley has arrived in Stephensport to locate. He was at that place eight years ago and has been practicing in Owensboro. Mrs. Shivley will arrive at Stephensport soon.

Visiting Their Parents.

Mrs. Walter Sherman, of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. John Burks, of Louisville, and Mrs. Chas Moorman, of Versailles, spent Sunday with their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowmer.

MRS. WILLIAM GLASSCOCK DEAD

Was Ill Only One Week Of Pneumonia At Her Home At Mook Nearly Sixty-Five Years Of Age--An Old Time Woman.

BURIED NEAR HUDSON.

Almost sixty-five years of age, Nancy F. Glasscock, wife of William Glasscock, of Mook, died March 30, after an illness of a week of pneumonia.

Before marriage she was Nancy F. LeGrand, a sister of Tom LeGrand, who survives her. She was buried in the family burying ground, near her old home, not far from Hudson.

Mrs. Glasscock was one of the good old time characters who believe in living with a purpose, always busy with useful work, a home maker, economical, strictly believing in living well and accumulating something from day to day. A rare, good woman, whose life is worthy of emulation, has gone to her reward.

Settled At Stephensport.

Dr. H. F. Litchfield has located at Stephensport. He is a graduate from the Medical Department of The University of Louisville. Mrs. Litchfield was Miss Rosa Leibovitz, of Lewisport. Dr. Litchfield was formerly interne at the Louisville City Hospital.

Pass Hog Ordinance.

At the regular council meeting Monday night in the City Hall the hog ordinance was passed, keeping the hogs and pigs out of the town pens from May until October first.

Donation Party.

Rev. Farmer and Mrs. Farmer were given a donation party Friday evening at the Baptist parsonage. Seventy-five church members and friends called during the evening and left acceptable presents which were greatly appreciated. Cash donations amounting to $15 were received. They and their children have many friends in this city.

Mr. Henry Boyd's Grandson.

Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Rowland received cards last week announcing the arrival of Coral Attalie Marsh at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh, March the tenth at Gordonhurst Avenue, Upper Montclair, N. J. The mother before her marriage was Miss Belle Bruce Boyd.

Grand Opera In Louisville.

Although Louisville has been visited by many grand opera organizations, it remains until this late in the day for this city to be complimented by the appearance of the one big operatic organization in America outside of that connected with the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, and this organization is the far famed Grand Opera Company for the French Opera House, New Orleans, under the direction of M. Jules Layolle, which Manager J. J. Garrity, of the Shubert Masonic Theatre, announces for three nights and one matinee, commencing Monday night, April 3rd. To those music lovers who have witnessed performances given at the Grand Opera House, Paris, it need only be said that the French Opera Company of New Orleans, comprises nearly all the principals of that most superb of all singing organizations. The company is brought to New Orleans every winter through a large subscription fund raised among the wealthy creoles of the Crescent City, and the usual custom has been heretofore to play eight or ten weeks at the French Opera House, the company then returning to Paris. Last spring, however, in response to urgent demands from all over the country, M. Layolle consented to carry his artists for a ten

SUN TO BE HIDDEN APRIL 28--TOTAL ECLIPSE.

On two days of this year the sun will be hidden from the view of people in certain sections of the United States. One of the eclipses will occur on April 28 and will be visible to this country with the exception of the northern and northeastern portions, the eclipse extending north as far as a line drawn through the cities of Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Butte, Mont., and Portland, Ore. The eclipse also will be visible to Mexico, Central America, the western portion of the West Indies, the eastern half of Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific ocean, the path of totality extending from Auckland, Australia, across the Pacific ocean almost to Central America.

An annular eclipse of the sun will occur on October 22, which will be invisible to the United States, but visible to Asia, Philippine Islands, Australia, the northern part of New Zealand and the Pacific ocean.

weeks' tour through the principal cities of America, following the New Orleans season, the success of which tour was so immediate and pronounced, that he decided to continue this policy. As the company must return to Paris by June 1st, in order to open their season in that city, their tours must necessarily be very short and can only embrace four performances in Louisville in this year's itinerary, and this is a compliment which Louisvillians should be quick to grasp. The entire ensemble of artists, principals, ballet, chorus and orchestra will appear here and the selection of operas comprises "Manon" for Monday night; "Herodiade" Tuesday night; "Lakme" Wednesday matinee and "Les Huguenots" for Wednesday night.

Tobacco Moving

The delivery of the pledged tobacco began Monday and the growers are making their deliveries at Hardinsburg, Irvington, Harned and Garfield. This is putting money in the farmers pocket books and getting the whole county in a good humor.

PEOPLE AND THEIR GARDENS.

"People planted their gardens when the sun was shining like spring, the snow has come and left its sting, and now they have to plant them over again," wrote Lib Smith last Thursday to Dr. Raftery. The doctor will appreciate this poetic effort, for he loves poetry, and before he left for that lumber plantation in the South, he used to sit in Brabant's studio with the boys and compose poetry by the yard. Brabant says that Smith always writes the darkest side of happenings around town to their old partner so he will not get homesick—for he has medicine that will cure—guaranteed to cure any ailment but that. The gardens, though, there is truth in Lib's poetry. Some did have to plant them "over agin."

Mr. Wesley Steel said his radishes got bit, but he sowed them over and has also planted parsnips, beats and all vegetables except beans and corn.

Down at the old Murphy place, Mr. Eugene Kingsbury has one of the richest garden spots in town, and week before last he planted quite a bit of corn.

Miss Mamie DeHaven says she is going to put in some garden this year and has it all planned.

If you have chickens in town no one else around you can have a garden in peace, and if you have a garden of your own you don't want any one else around you to have chickens. Miss Virginia McGavock says Christmas they had twenty-seven chickens and now only nine are left, for they have been trying to get rid of them so they can put in a garden.

Postmaster Leonard Oelze says he has planted a crop of "taters"

Mr. Wick Moorman says his beats are up.
