Don't be robbed by peddlers when you need glasses. Shelman can test and fit your eyes perfectly. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Ernest Henderson's stock sale which was conducted at the Henderson home-stead, Saratoga Place, last Wednesday, was one of the most popular events of the season. About 500 people were in attendance. The sale was a pronounced success, all articles offered bringing excellent prices. Mr. Henderson expresses himself as well pleased with the result.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wimp left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, California. They were joined at Owensboro, by their daughter, Miss Mary Katharine Wimp, who has been since September a student in Bethel Female College at Hopkinsville. Mr. Wimp and family will go by way of St. Louis, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco, spending some time in each city. In Los Angeles they will spend several months with their son, Roy Wimp who owns a successful ranch and dairy farm out a short distance from the city, and Dr. Wimp who has a large and lucrative practice in town. This is the first visit Mrs. Wimp and Miss Katharine have paid to the "boys" in their California home. Here's wishing them all the merriest of merry Kentucky Christmases in this California home.

The Christmas Bazaar, conducted by the Ladies' Home Aid Society of the Methodist church, was a most satisfactory event both financially and socially.

A complete line of watches and jewelry at Shelman's. Prices low and quality guaranteed.

The Young People's Christian Society held an interesting meeting at the Methodist church Friday evening. Miss Maggie Bandy had charge of the program. Last week's program was most delightfully rendered at the Presbyterian church, being led by Mrs. S. P. Parks, who in a most pleasing manner gave the story of "Joseph." The society is doing a great work, and the young people deserve much praise.

Mrs. G. T. Marshall entertained her Sunday School class Wednesday.
