Wants Card On "Church Etiquette."

Dear Mr. Babbage: In the issue of the News of December 30, you print rules for "Church Etiquette" and offer to send some printed on a white card. I would like you to send me a card for the M. E. Church here, if you please. We are enjoying our holidays here with plenty of cold weather, some snow, though hardly enough for good sleighing. I made a call twelve miles out in my automobile December 31. Some autos, running this morning. The drifts are bad in places. Thanking you in advance for your courtesy on the matter of "Church Etiquette," I am,

Yours truly,
W. T. CAIN,

CLOVERPORT MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Will Interest Readers of the News.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Cloverport man.

J. C. Weatherholt, grocer, Cloverport, Ky., says: "Two years ago I had little idea that I would ever be well again. I had settled up my affairs, believing that it would be impossible for me to last a great while longer. The pain in my back was terrible, especially when I stooped. It seemed as though someone had run a knife into me. My heart action was irregular. I became dizzy and often had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My knee joints were swollen to twice their normal size and I had lost weight until I was a mere skeleton. The kidney secretions contained sediment and the passages were painful. Doctor's medicine did me no good, neither did the so-called kidney cures. A friend had been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I decided to give them a trial, procuring my supply at Fisher's Drug Store. I was surprised and delighted with the results of their use. I was soon cured." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Weatherholt had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Letter From Mr. Carter.

Dear Mr. Babbage: I never hear from Cloverport any more, so if The Breckinridge News is still alive, I would like to hear from it, find enclosed check for the same. Our little town of Huntingburg has experienced the saddest Christmas since I have been in Indiana. I live in two miles of the city; not a church bell has been rung and the town has seven churches, everything is still; smallpox is the cause. However, there have been no deaths. We have five doctors in town and they are doing all they can to stop the spread of the disease by closing all public meetings.

The doctors are busy making sore arms with the children and grown ups too. But I was vaccinated forty years ago, and came near dying with it, so I told the doctor that I had just as soon have the smallpox as to go through that performance, so they let me go.

Now, John, if you are alive, send me your paper, and if you are dead send it anyhow. I know you left some one to look after your business.

With kind wishes to old Breckinridge and all of its relations, I remain as ever, a friend to all.

Respectfully,
G. T. CARTER,
Huntingburg, Ind.

Cold Weather In Dakota.

Dear Mr. Babbage: As I have been away for some time, will write a piece to your paper. The weather has been very cold, nineteen degrees below zero. Last Saturday morning the snow was about twelve inches deep, and been on for about two weeks. Three of us went hunting the other day and killed eighty seven rabbits. On a levee job, along the Mississippi river, there is about eleven or twelve inches of ice. Did you hear of the accident that happened to our works about November the twentieth. As we hadn't received our paper didn't know whether you had heard it. Four of the men thawing out some nitro glycerine, it exploded, killing all of them. They were blown to pieces very bad. The company, R. H. & S. H. McWilliams, had them all dressed and sent to their respective homes. Mr. M. L. Meador is the fireman over the works. I will be obliged if you will send my paper to Wapello, Ia., instead of New Boston. I will close for this time.

A friend,
R. O. DAVIS,
Wapello, Ia.
