MAN'S FIDELITY TO MAN

Is Being Shown By the Employees of the Henderson Route During This Unusual Weather.

During the past two months some trying times have been experienced by the officials and employees of the Henderson Route. Never in the history of the road has such a prolonged cold spell been witnessed and so much snow to contend with. During it all the men have stood at their posts gamely and did their duty well without a murmur. Section men have worked day and night to relieve the situation, and at present the track is practically clear and traffic is about normal. Truly Uncle Sam should be proud of this branch of his army, for they have suffered more privations than any other part of the National Army. Some of them have come in from their run with frozen feet and ears, but never have they declined to go out when called.

Last Thursday night Engineer Gwynn Bush happened to a very serious accident at Lewisport. It was a very heavy train and they stopped there to take water, and Mr. Bush alighted to look after some parts of his engine, he being in the rear of the train pushing while another engine was in front. After taking water they started in the siding to let another train by and about that time Mr. Bush slipped and fell under the train, catching a truss-rod and holding to it until the train was stopped. He was taken to his home in Louisville suffering from internal injuries. He was operated on Monday by Dr. Pruitt and his assistants who pronounce his injuries as being very grave.

Fireman McDaniel slipped and fell in the deck of his engine one night last week between Lewisport and Hawesville and broke a couple of ribs. Dr. Chas. Lightfoot attended him and he is now at his home at Maceo recuperating.

Fireman Mike Brun happened to a very peculiar accident while taking coal at Irvington one night last week by being struck on the head with a lump of coal that fell from the tippie. It was a scalp wound and laid him up for only a few days.

Fireman Kerns, who has been suffering with pneumonia for several weeks, died in a hospital in Louisville Monday. Mr. Kerns was a genial young man and his many friends regret to learn of his death.

George McManus, a popular young machinist at the shops, who has been at his home in Owensboro for the last ten days suffering with a severe cold, has returned and is back at his post of duty.

John Quisenberry Dead.

Hawesville, Ky., Jan. 29.—John Quisenberry, 74 years old, a farmer living in the Patesville community, died at his home to-day from pneumonia. He is survived by his widow, five sons and one daughter. All his children live in the country except one son, a merchant at Hawesville.—Courier Journal.

Ohio River News.

The Ohio river at this point also Clover Creek are both rising very rapidly. The ice is broken in the creek but it is still solid at different places in the river and people continued to walk across to Tobinsport all day Wednesday.

A Bright Future.

Hush, little thrift stamp.
Don't you cry,
You'll be a war bond
By and by.

B. F. BEARD, JR., COMMISSIONED LIEUT.

A Volunteer and Honor Graduate of K. M. I. Represents Breckinridge County in the United States Army.

Hardinsburg, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—B. F. Beard, Jr., son of the late M. H. Beard and Sallie Murray Beard, received his commission last week from the Secretary of War, appointing him a Lieutenant of artillery. That he would receive a commission was inevitable, because Franklin Beard is the best qualified young man without similar education to be a commissioned officer in any arm of the military service, other than a graduate of West Point, that can be had, because he is a graduate, with honors, of the Kentucky Military Institute and held a Captain's commission at the time of his graduation.

The high standard of military training given at that institution is only exceeded by the training given at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, and all graduates of it and other kindred State Military Institutions, are in line for immediate promotion to higher commands.

A notable fact in connection with his enlistment is that he volunteered his services, as a private, when too young to have been drafted, and too, well knowing that later his services as a commissioned officer would be demanded, as such has now been. Moreover, Franklin in thus volunteering, surrendered all the comforts and pleasures of a young life in exchange for the hardships of a soldier's life, but his country's demands in its great crisis was paramount to all, with him. A splendid example set by a splendid young man, representative of the highest type of our country's young manhood, now on the altar of his country to sacrifice all, if needs be, for its salvation.

We shall hear more of him later, as the present commission is but the commencement.

New Standard Oil Agent.

Mr. Keer, of Leitchfield, Ky., has been appointed to succeed Mr. Larkin Gibson, as agent for the Standard Oil Company in Breckinridge county.

Mr. Gibson, who has been the agent for several years, has resigned his place and so has his assistant, Mr. James Sanders. Their resignation takes effect Thursday Jan. 31.

Mr. E. E. Hardaway says the plant will be moved to Hardinsburg.

Harry Board Ill.

The friends of Harry Board, whose home is at 321 West St. Catherine, Louisville, will be sorry to learn of his illness and at the same time glad to know that he is convalescing.

Mr. Board has been confined to his bed for ten weeks and was seriously ill all that time, however he has had a change for the better and as a member of his family stated, "he is able to read the Breckinridge News."

Train Snow Bound.

Garfield, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Thursday afternoon an incoming passenger train was snow bound about a mile and a half from this place.

Twenty men worked hard for 3½ hours trying to shovel off the snow but they were unable to accomplish their task and a relief engine was sent out from Irvington.

Methodist Church Notes.

Rev. W. L. Baker announces his subject for the Sunday morning service, "The Fuller Development of the Christian."

Plans are being made to have union services Sunday evening but definite arrangements were not made in time to be announced in this issue of the Breckinridge News.

"Young" Hog Raiser.

Jimmie Meadors, a young man of eighty-two, is going into the hog business in the spring. He says that he will go up close to Custer, where he has a brother, and buy a few brood sows and turn them on a blue grass pasture. Mr. Meador says there isn't a man in the county that can beat him raising hogs. He says he is a little past the conscription age, and not allowed to enlist and fight for his country, so at the age of eighty-two, he is going to raise hogs and help feed those who are doing the fighting.

STORES CLOSED SECOND MONDAY

Continued Bad Weather Makes Business Slow; Hence Holiday Comes at Opportune Time. Schools Closed Second Week.

The second of the ten Mondays to be observed as holidays, was as strictly and patriotically complied with in this community and all of Breckinridge county, this week as it was last.

On account of the continued low temperature and the slippery streets, few pedestrians braved the way and Mr. Garfield could not have picked a more opportune time for the heatless Mondays. One Cloverport merchant remarked he wished an order would be issued for closing the groceries all day as there was so little business.

Monday evening, an entertainment was given at the American Theatre under the auspices of the Cloverport High School. This was permissible as Tuesdays are heatless days for theatres and picture show houses.

Supt. McCoy discontinued school altogether in the Cloverport Public and High Schools until Wednesday unless further notice is given.

Young Couple of Tobinsport Elope.

Frank Polk, son of Chas. Polk and Miss Adrian Esary both of Tobinsport, Ind., eloped to Hawesville Wednesday, Jan. 23, 1918 and were married by the Rev. Higgins pastor of the Hawesville Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Babe Esary and it is stated she is only fifteen years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk spent Saturday in Cloverport. They will make their home in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Perkins-Akins Wedding.

A wedding which is of interest to the people of Cloverport is that of Miss Bertha Perkins of Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. Robert Earl Akins of Louisville. The ceremony was quietly solemnized Monday afternoon Jan. 21, 1918 by Rev. N. W. Carlyle in the parlor of the First Baptist church, Covington, Ky.

The bride's sister, Miss Alma Perkins accompanied the bridal couple to Covington to attend the marriage.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Akins came to Louisville and were guests of Mr. Akins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Akins, for a day thence to Cloverport for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cockeril.

Mrs. Akins is the bright and accomplished daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Perkins of Dayton and formerly of this city and has a host of friends here. While Mr. Akins is a valuable electrician and met his bride when he came to Cloverport several years ago and was employed by the Cloverport Light Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Akins will make their home in Dayton.
