G. R. McCOY RE-ELECTED

Principal of Smith's Grove School For Term of Three Years. Salary Raised.

Mr. G. R. McCoy, former principal of the Cloverport Public School, and last year principal of the Smith's Grove School, has been re-elected to that place for a term of three years. Besides he received an increase in salary of $300.

The County Superintendent of Schools in Warren County made the following statement in regard to Mr. McCoy's work, which was published in one of that county's papers:

"Mr. G. R. McCoy was re-elected principal of the Smith's Grove school for a term of three years. His record as principal has been a most excellent one and has been pleasing to both the board and the people of Smith's Grove."

The Smith's Grove school is to have a new building to cost $30,000. The Mt. Pleasant school was transferred to the Smith's Grove district and the county school board advised that if the later school would take in adjoining districts and vote transportation for the children the board would give $20,000 toward the building. The news of Mr. McCoy's progress in school work in his new field will be of great interest to his relatives and friends throughout the county.

GIVE FEMALES BEST OF CARE

Breeders Should Not Be Forced to Heavy Egg Production During the Winter Months.

Females should be given the best care possible, and it is doubtful if breeders should be forced for heavy egg production during the winter months. Heavy egg production preceding the breeding season will probably affect the vitality of the chicks. Fresh air, exercise and green food are essentials, in order to keep the breeding females in the pink of condition.

Horticulture:

Spraying and Pruning Demonstrations

Fertilization of Orchards

These demonstrations are to be carried out under the supervision of the County Agricultural Agent. This program is an outline of the more important projects to be pushed by the County Agent in 1919. Other work to be taken up will be a campaign for more silos in the county, a campaign to place a number of Pure Bred Boars and Bulls through banks and other ways, an effort made to get farmers use the kinds of fertilizer their soil need, the use of better seed, the sowing of more pastures. A campaign will also be waged to get the farmers of the county to use at least 5,000 tons of limestone to be followed sweet and red clover campaigns.

EVERETT ASHCRAFT ENJOYS A SHORT VISIT IN PARIS

Mrs. Joe G. Anderson of Guston has received a very interesting letter from her son, Edward H. Haycraft who has recently been in Paris and there met another Breckinridge county inhabitant, Miss Margaret Conniff who is with the American Red Cross Headquarters. Mr. Haycraft also says that Mrs. Lydia Kemper is now in Paris doing Y. M. C. A. work. In writing of his trip to his mother Mr. Haycraft says:

"I am just back from Paris and I had the most wonderful time. I have ever had. Paris sure is some nice city and has so many places of interest to see. I spent three days and nights there and I saw most of these places I went to see Margaret Conniff one night while I was there. She is with the American Red Cross Headquarters, and is stationed right in the city. She sure was glad to see me. She looks fine and likes Paris very much."

AN APPRECIATION OF MRS. R. W. HAYES.

A beautiful young woman Anna Davis of Hartford, Kentucky, in June 1867 was married to Richard W. Hayes of Breckinridge county. She died at the home of her son, Albert W. Hayes in Chicago, February 26, 1919. Her five sons were with her in her last illness, and laid her to rest beside her christly husband in the family cemetery on the Hayes' farm, near West View in Breckinridge county. These five boys, living in five states; Clarence D. in St. Paul; John P. in Cleveland; Albert W. in Chicago; Henry K. in Detroit; and R. Murray in Louisville. Albert and John being accompanied by their wives, with other relatives and friends laid her tenderly away to await the resurrection call. Two daughters, Lillian and Mary Dimple, went home before her.

Mrs. Hayes was an unusually handsome woman, very intellectual, of great vivacity, a fine conversationalist, a woman of wide reading, conversant with the best in literature. She was proud of and devoted to her sons and their wives, more like an older sister to them than a mother. She was a loyal member of the Methodist Episcopal church, loved the house of God, and His word was not a sealed book to her; she loved it, and God's will for her was her will for herself.

In one of my little devotional books I find many of her pencilings around precious thoughts, among them this: "Trust Him Absolutely and always. Say a continual 'Yes' to your Father's will." And let this; "Oh Lord, who art as the shadow of a great Rock in a weary land. Who beholdest Thy weak creatures, weary of labor, weary of pleasure, weary of hope deferred, weary of self; in Thine abundant compassion and unutterable tenderness bring us I pray Thee, unto Thy rest." Does not that "us" include her every boy whom she so fondly loved?

May God hear her prayer and complete the family circle, not let it be marred by the absence of one. At an hour we "think not" He comes. Be ready!
Her friend,
Tula C. Daniel.

Attending Annual Missionary Meeting

Mrs. David Brainerd Phelps left Tuesday morning for Henderson where she is attending the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Societies of the Louisville Conference of the Methodist churches.

Mrs. Phelps is representing the society of the Cloverport church, and upon her return a special meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, March 31, at which Mrs. Phelps will give a report of the Conference. The meeting will be open to all the women of the church.

"Mrs. Kemper is over here with the Y. M. C. A., and is stationed just out side of Paris. I wanted to see her but didn't have the time to go out there. She has only been over since January. "We are now moving to camp close to Bordeaux in Southern France. We leave here March 4, but part of the Division moves every day and we are in the last train load to leave. We hope to leave from there on about April 15, for the States unless present plans are changed and I don't think they will be this time. If they are not changed, I should be in the States by May 1st.

"I will not be able to write you for the next week as our post-office moves before I do and won't be able to mail a letter until we get to our new camp. Hope to hear from you real soon as I haven't heard from you for several days now. With much love, Your son, E. H. Haycraft."

LOCAL MUSICIANS

Compose and Publish a Song. Music by Misses May. Lyric by Miss Hemphill.

"Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah! The War is Won" is the title of a new song dedicated to the American soldiers. The publication of the song is of interest locally because of its being written and composed by some of Cloverport's talented musicians. The music is composed by Misses Eva and Eliza May, and Miss Jessie Hemphill wrote the words and holds the copyright on the piece. The frontispiece has the latter's picture on it. The words and music are both pretty and catching, and the song will, no doubt, will be quite popular.

Reason in Their Fall.

Institutions may crumble and governments fall, but it is only that they may renew a better youth.—George Bancroft.

A certain professor was struggling to make clear the point that both parents have an equal influence upon a child. "For," he said gravely, "a man is as much the son of his father as he is the daughter of his mother!"

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE" Opens Its Third Engagement At MaCauleys For Week Commencing Mar. 24th.

Theatergoers will find more than passing interest in Richard Walton Tully's charming play, The Bird of Paradise, which opens its third engagement at MaCauleys, Louisville, for the week commencing March 24th.

The play touches a virgin field, so far as the stage world is concerned, that preserves in dramatic forms the vanishing customs, beliefs and legends of Uncle Sam's far-off possessions. It shows Hawaii, with its shores girdled by lazy waves on languorous moonlight; its native homes with its laughing and dancing maidens casting eyes of witchery at white strangers.

Against this background of unique beauty is lived, rather than acted, a powerful story of two men and two women. One with the sensuous charm of a young Hawaiian maiden, vows that she will woo and keep her husband "by the power of her lips and arms." The other, an American girl, says: "I will keep and hold him by the power of the mind." The girls live, love and pay the price for their mistake. They seek each other when they fail to acknowledge defeat. "I was wrong," says the American girl. "My way has failed. Teach me your way to win and keep a man's love."

This is the knowledge that every woman desires to learn beyond all earthly things, and the famous Tully play offers the solution to the problem. In the play the American abroad both as trader and as missionary, is accurately described in his prevailing instinct for money-making, receiving a touch of gentle bit certain satire from Mr. Tully's pen.

During the life of the drama, several sterling actresses have played the role of the Hawaiian Princess. Manager Morosco will offer Florence Rockwell, a talented and well known actress in the title role. She is assisted by John Waller in the role of the Beachcomer, Spring Byington as Diana, the American girl; George Leffingwell as Paul Wilson; Albert Andrus, as Captain Hatch, and Rose Watson as Mahumahu. The singing of the native melodies by a quintette of Hawaiian boys is one of the attractive features of this delightful performance.

BACK ON HIS OLD JOB.

Only In A Different Country. Corp. Bernard Morrison Is Engineering In France.

Corp. Bernard Morrison, writes his mother, Mrs. Joe Morrison of this city, that if his friends asked about him that she might tell them he is back on his old job of firing, only he is firing a French locomotive in place of a "Texas."

Just before Corp. Morrison was called to the colors, he received his promotion as an engineer on the L. H. & St. L. R. R., so when he went in training he was assigned to the Engineers Corps. Since the Armistice, Morrison has been detained in France for reconstruction work, and his part in the immense undertaking, is firing on the French engines which he says are much larger than those on this line.

BANNON-WAKE WEDDING

On Wednesday at 12 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. H. Long, 1317 Morton Avenue, at Louisville, occurred the marriage of Miss Freda Mae Bannon, of this city, to J. Duke Wake, of Kuttawa.

The wedding was a simple home affair witnessed only by relatives, a few intimate friends and Miss Grace Lyon Wake, of Kuttawa.

The bride is the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bannon, of this city, and is quite popular among her associates.

The groom is the son of Hugh Wake and a popular and prominent young business man. He recently received his discharge from the navy to accept a position as book-keeper with his father. They will make their home at Kuttawa.

The office joins their many friends in congratulations and best wishes as they embark on life's rugged voyage together.—Eddyville, Lyon County Herald.

The news of the marriage of Miss Bannon has been received with considerable interest in Cloverport as she has been the frequent guest of her sister, Mrs. Joe J. Sawyer and Mr. Sawyer and won many friends in the circle of young people.

GOOD ROADS MEETING HERE APRIL 3

Plans On Foot To Bring The New Highway Through Cloverport's Main St.

A meeting that will mean more to Cloverport than anything else that has come its way of late, will be the one held here Thursday, April 3, in the interest of the highway which is to be built from Henderson to Louisville.

The promoters of this highway are seeking to get the most direct route to Louisville, and as it happens, Cloverport's main street is in the direct way, but unless the business men favor having the road and sufficient money is put up, the highway will be built on some other route.

Therefore this meeting is of the citizens and farmers of Cloverport, greatest importance to the merchants. Further details of the meeting in regard to the time of day and place to congregate will be announced in next week's issue of The Breckinridge News.

Sale Of McCombs Oil Stock Discontinued.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held at Winchester, Kentucky, on Saturday, March 1, the sale of 150,000 shares of stock was made to a group of Eastern capitalists; this being the only purchase of large proportions that has been made since the price of stock advanced on Dec. 20, 1918, to $2.50 per share. As a result of this transaction the Board of Directors has formally decided to withdraw the stock from the market.

With seventeen successful completions during the past six weeks the McCombs Oil Company easily takes the leading rank of having drilled more wells with larger total production during this period than any other Company operating in the State.

The Advantages of a Trust Company Over An Individual Executor

The advantage of a Trust Company over an Individual Executor:

1. Estates often shrink alarmingly when left in the hands of individuals executors—not through lack of honesty, but through lack of specialized experience. A Trust Company would not stay in business if it operated without a wide knowledge of investments, and business judgement of a high order.

2. The work of a Trust Company is carried on without interruption through illness or any other personal incapacity.

3. The Trust Company is always there at a given address. It is never absent when business is to be discussed.

4. The Trust Company has on its own premises vaults and other protective safeguards.

5. The Trust Company has a thoroughly organized accounting department. This assures systematic, business like accounting on all transactions it handles.
