Don't Fail to Read These Propositions in Farm Lands!

(1).—This farm contains 333 acres, is located in Perry County, Ind., 5 miles above Cannelton, Ind., and fronts the Ohio river. It is mostly fine, river-bottom land; about 75 acres over-flow creek bottom, about 75 acres strongly rolling land, 40 acres rough blue grass pasture land, and the remainder river bottom. All this farm is in clover and grass with exception of the creek bottoms and 15 acres of the river front. About 10 or 15 acres of the pasture land is in woods. Practically half of the farm is fenced with good fences. The improvements consist of an exceptionally nice two-story frame residence which is situated fronting the Ohio river on a good rock road. It is built on rising ground and affords a magnificent view of the river. It has a good shady yard, with a five acre grass lot between the house and the rock road. The house has a solid rock foundation, and a solid rock-walled cellar with brick floor. It could not be built today for $5,000.00. There is also a large stock barn, cow barn, large crib, and other small buildings about the barn lot. It has two good tenant houses.
