MOORMAN ELECT- ED COMMANDER

Of The American Legion Of Kentucky At Meeting Held in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3.—Declaration by Emmett O'Neal, head of the re-employment bureau of the American Legion of Kentucky, that the Standard Oil Company and the Ford Motor Company failed to live up to their war pledges in the matter of re-employing men who went into the service, an address of welcome by Mayor George Weissinger Smith in response by James P. Gregory, and an address by Chaplain John W. Inzer, "fighting chaplain" of the American overseas forces, were the high spots in the forenoon meeting today of the first convention of the Kentucky war veterans.

More than a hundred members attended the session which was presided over by Henry DeHaven Moorman, state commander.

Chaplain Inzer and Major General Charles P. Summerall, new commander at Camp Zachary Taylor were the speakers tonight at a public mass meeting under legion auspices in the First Christian church at 7:30 o'clock.

Present officers of the state organization were elected as follows: Henry DeHaven Moorman, Hardinsburg, commander.

Ulric Bell, Louisville, vice commander.

George R. Ewald, Louisville, finance officer.

D. A. Sachs, Louisville adjutant.

James G. Wheeler, Paducah, was elected historian, and Armand Kirk, of Owensboro, a veteran of the Second division, was elected master-at-arms.

D. E. Moxley, Salem, Russell county, was elected chaplain.

FAITH IN ADVERSITY.

Joe Fountain, of Bootjack, Mich., was willing to plead guilty in court to the charge of making liquor, having a private still in his home. Prosecuting Attorney Lucas told the court that he tried to get a promise of reformation from Joe, a promise at least that he would refrain from drinking for the remainder of his life. "Not me," was Joe's answer. "It might go wet again."

As Joe's infraction included only making a little spirits for his own use he was released on payment of the costs.—From the Daily Mining Gazette.

BETTER TAKE A PILOT ALONG

Just as we have reached the era of national prohibition a way has been found for reaching Europe in a great hurry. Under the newest development of inventive genius a thirsty man can hop to the other side, discuss matters of importance with a friend till his words begin to run together and his hat settles permanently over one eye, and then he can get back in ample time to have the headache right in his own home. This is indeed a remarkable age.—From Thrift Magazine.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

By J. Raleigh Meador, Superintendent.

Columbus Day, October 12, comes on Sunday this year, but the teacher should arrange to have some kind of program rendered on the Friday before or Monday following to call the attention of the school to the fact that October 12 is one of the days in the calendar that should always be remembered by Americans. A short program for Friday afternoon could be arranged to be rendered by the pupils. Have one or two poems on October, the patriotic songs, and another of his sayings. This will vary the program of the week, call attention to the event, interest the pupils in history, and furnish inspiration.

"It would be a most profitable use of school time for the teacher to take fifteen minutes in assigning the lesson to be read. She will have in mind several different purposes and among them: (1) to give the setting; (2) to stimulate the imagination; (3) to set the mood; (4) to give the pupils a chance to think; (5) to call attention to difficult parts; (6) to give the pupils a chance to correct rendition; (7) to arouse a genuine interest; (8) to arouse a desire for a successful reading hour."—Frank J. Lowth in October.

The following letter has been addressed by the Secretary of the American Legion of Kentucky to the school children of this county and I give it here that each one may read it in school to all his friends.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Department of the Treasury, September 29, 1919. To the Boys and Girls of America: The twenty million dollars...

KENTUCKY COUNTIES ASSESSED FOR W. S. S.

Breckenridge Expected To Raise $7,200 In 4 Months.

The quota for Kentucky counties in the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates before January 1, 1920, is $1,500,000. And Breckenridge county is to raise $7,200 of this million and a half dollars. The campaign in this state is under the direction of James B. Brown, of Louisville, who is Director of the War Loan Organization for the State.

The Treasury Certificates are in reality Government Bonds of the same type of the Victory Liberty Notes. They possess an advantage over the Liberty Bonds in that they can never go below par, and may be redeemed at any time simply by giving ten days notice. In effect they are Uncle Sam's ten day notes.

MARRIES FRENCH GIRL IN FT. WORTH

Frank L. Moorman Captures Heart of a Ma'm'selle Whom He Saw in Brest.

The following clipping from the Telegram, Ft. Worth, Texas, gives a very interesting account of the romance and announcement of the approaching marriage of Frank L. Moorman, a former Cloverport boy, who is the son of Mrs. Sallie Moorman. Mr. Moorman's marriage took place on Wednesday, September 24, in Ft. Worth. And this is how it all happened:

Ma'm'selle Suzanne Marie Elinore Genaille, formerly of Paris, erstwhile interpreter for Admiral Wilson of the American fleet recently attached to the American Naval Aviation Force at Brest and later at Washington, dropped the French "handle" when she came to Texas. She became plain (that is as plain as a tres jolie ma'm'selle could become) Miss Suzanne Genaille. And now she's going to Americanize even more, for within twenty-four hours, her calling cards will read "Mrs. Frank L. Moorman."

There's a romance! Ah! oui!

Frank L. Moorman was in the aviation section of the navy which put him on land duty.

Moorman frequently visited American Naval Aviation Force headquarters at Brest. And he frequently saw an extremely pretty French girl who acted as interpreter. They passed within a few feet of each other in the office and met in the street. But they never really, truly "met" as Americans term it.

Eventually the war was over. Miss Genaille was sent to Washington. Moorman came home and in the course of human events, got out of the Navy. Miss Genaille made friends with Miss Nell Davenport and came to Fort Worth, to see Indians and buffalo and oil fields.

The Gypsy Burk Oil Company opened offices in the Continental Bank building. A nice looking young man sat in as executive of the company. He was Frank L. Moorman, formerly of the Naval Aviation Forces.

Alors! If you haven't guessed by this time that Moorman unexpectedly saw Miss Genaille one day, hunted up mutual friends secured an introduction and since July made a whirlwind campaign and captured the heart of Miss Genaille—well, you're not nearly entitled to know that Rev. Forrest Smith will perform a marriage ceremony at 3 P. M. Wednesday at the Broadway Baptist church in which Miss Genaille and Moorman will be the principals, with Miss Davenport and Mrs. Walker as aides.
