COUNTY BREEDERS WIN WITH HOGS

McCoy Brothers, of Harned, Won Prize at State Fair; Also at County Pig Show

The Poland China boar belonging to McCoy Brothers, of Harned, in this county won a prize in the Senior Class at the State Fair. Unfortunately, this hog was born Feb. 26, 1919, only two days too soon to be placed in the Junior Class. If the hog had been placed in the Junior Class it would have easily taken all honors, as its superiority over those showing in the Junior Class was outstanding.

James McCoy of the firm of McCoy Brothers won first prize at the First Breckinridge County Pig Show. He has now been joined by his brother and they are rapidly building up one of the best herds of Poland China hogs in the State. Breeders of this kind are a credit to the county and their splendid example should be encouraged, by being able to find a market for their hogs in this county.

These boys are making money in the pure bred hog business and like more good herds should be established in Breckinridge county. They have expressed their willingness to do all they can to encourage this line of farming and are offering to sell stock at reasonable prices and to give advice to anyone entering the pure hog game.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS HELD BIG POLITICAL RALLY AT COUNTY SEAT, MONDAY

Hardinsburg Was Mecca for Politicians From All Over County Women Voters Make Their Appearance In Large Numbers Five Speakers On Program

Monday was a big day in Hardinsburg. It was the mecca for all the politicians in the county and they staged one of the biggest political rallies they have had in many a day. Besides, it was the first day of Circuit court and that too had its attractions.

Voters, including the fairer sex as well as the sterner, from all parts of the county poured into the county seat bright and early so as to get their business transacted before the speaking, which were set for one o'clock. By noon there was something like two thousand people there. The crowd was about equally divided in the number of supporters for both parties. Judging from the overflow gatherings at both places, one side could not boast of a larger crowd than the other.

The City Hall, where the Democrats gathered, was a most inviting place with its lovely floral decorations, and Mrs. John Fulton, of Bardstown, captivated her audience as she delivered one of the best Democratic speeches ever heard by any of the women speakers, who have campaigned in this county.

Following Mrs. Fulton was the Hon. Ben Johnson, of Bardstown, and Washington, the popular Democratic Congressman, who is a candidate for re-election in November. From his wide experience and his knowledge of the inside of political situations, etc., Hon. Mr. Johnson held his hearers spellbound for nearly two hours in exhortation of the Democratic party.

G. O. P. in Court House.

While the Democrats were holding forth in the City Hall, the Republicans gathered in the Court House to hear Mrs. Marshall H. Coolidge, of Minnesota, Mrs. John Graham, of Louisville, and Hon. Geo. Colvin, Superintendent of Schools in Kentucky.

Mrs. Nannie Wathen, of Irvington, chairman of the Republican women's committee in Breckinridge, introduced Mrs. Coolidge as the cousin of "the next vice president."

Mrs. Coolidge expressed her belief in the idea that men and women should come together and work out Government problems for the salvation of Americans. She noted the merits of the Republican administration when it was in power, naming the protective tariff, land grants, etc. She stated Article X in the League of Nations was bad enough and Article XI was even worse.

Mrs. Graham Attractive Speaker

Mrs. Graham, who proved to be a most attractive public speaker, moved her audience first to tears and then to laughter. She first commented on the Democrats by saying they believed themselves to have airy wings and expecting to fly right across to the glory of peace on Nov. 2. Altho she had a son in the war, and brought tears to the eyes of men and women when she told of the pathetic parting with her eighteen year old son as he left for overseas, yet Mrs. Graham did not favor the League of Nations. She cared not for the so called prosperity the men were handing out at Washington, and thought if Governor Cox was capable of making such posturing statements concerning the G. O. P. "slush" fund, he was not fit for being President. She lauded Harding for having a cooperative mind and spirit.

Colvin in Line For Gov.

Supt. J. R. Meador introduced Mr. Colvin, whom he said was eminently fitted for the next Governor of Kentucky. Mr. Colvin replied by saying he had been a school teacher all his life and was little accustomed to flattery. Mr. Colvin stated he was not in favor of woman suffrage, but now that the women had the votes he hoped they would make a better job of it than the men. He emphasized the fact that it is of more importance for the women to be patriotic voters than partisan. "This election should not be a partisan election, Democrats and Republicans should vie with one another and vote for America," he added.

Mr. Colvin stated that enough was made by the sugar profiteers in the last year to pay the soldiers' bonus that they wanted. He felt the League of Nations would imperil America. He said Harding didn't want a one man government and preferred that Congress should say rather than one person. "America can not be in sympathy with Ireland and be for the League." "I would like to see Americans control America rather than any class of Americans. I don't want it controlled by labor or capital but by good American citizens and the best way to have a better America is by beginning with being better individuals," he concluded.

JOHNSON-FULTON SPEAKS IN C'PORT

Local Democrats Hold Rally With Hon. Ben Johnson and Mrs. Fulton. Use Hardin's Garage

The Democrats of Cloverport held their first rally Monday evening with the Hon. Ben Johnson and Mrs. John Fulton, of Bardstown, as speakers. Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Fulton motored here from Hardinsburg, where they spoke that afternoon.

Judge C. G. Branbaldt called the meeting to order, and Attorney Moorman Ditto, of Hardinsburg, presented Mrs. Fulton.

Mrs. Fulton, who is a woman of strong personality, said that her only objection to the Democratic party was the device under which they stamped their votes. "You know a rooster's bound to scratch, and from the majority given our last Governor it was evident their had been a lot of scratching among our Democrats. Now then, when you Democratic sisters begin to vote, change your device and make it a hen, and by all means be sure she's a good setter." Mrs. Fulton added and received a hearty applause amidst a roar of laughter. Mrs. Fulton touched on the race question, and the importance of the Democratic women making it a business to vote to off set the vote of the colored population. Following Mrs. Fulton, was Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman, of Hardinsburg, who made an introductory speech for Hon. Ben Johnson, and in it he scored some of his fellow citizens for being against the League of Nations and said they were men who had taken absolutely no part in the World War.

Mr. Johnson declared himself to be for the masses and against the classes. He mentioned Cimeon D. Fess, of Ohio, who is campaigning in the interest of the election of Jno. P. Haswell, Republican candidate for Congress and who is Johnson's opponent. Mr. Johnson stated Fess stood for the wealth of the country and not for those who made the wealth.

Mr. Johnson brought out the fact that the Democratic party stood for the people, that the Federal Reserve act had saved the country from a great panic, and that more than a million people in America own their homes by the aid of farmers loan bill. "There are 150,000 people in the State of Kentucky who know nothing about the League of Nations, and you intelligent voters who do know should make every effort to protect yourselves against those who don't," he declared Congressman Johnson said he was not in favor of taking money away from the farmers to put in the State treasury and use against them. He had the interest of the laboring man at heart and was in favor of the masses having an equal deal. He dwelt at length on the merits of the League of Nations and claimed it was the surest means of keeping America out of war, and that it could not be proven that Article X would be the means of making a police force of the American boys.
