METHODISM.

A Meeting of the District Conference.

The District Conference for the Owensboro District met at the M. E. Church at this place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Bishop Wilson was made chairman and Rev. H. T. Gains was made Secretary. We had intended to give the proceedings of the Convention in full, but owing to the pressure of business we are compelled to omit it. We take pleasure in presenting Bishop Wilson, Dr. Meek and Rev. E. E. Pate, and we are sorry we can not give the sketches of these good men more space.

Adolphus W. Wilson was born in Baltimore, Md., 1834; was licensed as a Methodist preacher in 1852, admitted into the Baltimore Conference as a traveling preacher 1853, and elected Bishop in 1882. For four years prior to his election as Bishop he served as Missionary Secretary of the church, traveling at large throughout its bounds. He is the son of a famous Methodist preacher, was trained for the law and practiced for a time, hence is one of the most logical, as well as the most forcible preachers of his day. As a presiding officer, he is firm but kind and is universally popular with both preachers and people.

Rev. Zephaniah Meek was born in Floyd county, Ky., March 4, 1833. He taught school at fourteen and was acting clerk of the county and circuit courts for six years. He was commissioner of education of Johnson county for six years. He was wounded in the Confederate army, on account of which he afterward declined an appointment as chaplain in the army. He was licensed as a local preacher in the M. E. Church South in 1856 and commenced to publish the Central Methodist in 1867, which is one of the leading newspapers in the M. E. Church, South. In 1878 he joined the West Virginia Conference, and, in 1883, began missionary work in the Kentucky mountains. He was a delegate to the General Conference at Richmond in '88. Rev. Meek is truly a religious man, having done as much for Christianity as any other man of his age.

Rev. E. E. Pate was born in Hancock county, in 1840, and was reared as a farmer boy. At the age of 22 he became clerk of the county and circuit courts of Hancock county, and at the expiration of that time he was admitted at the bar and practiced law until 1874, during which time he filled the office of County Attorney; in 1874 he joined the Southern Conference, and has filled some of the most important charges in that Conference.

REV. ZEPHANIAH MECK.

R. E. C. Entertainment.

Not for some time has Hartford been so elegantly entertained by young ladies, as she was on last Monday evening. The evening was pleasant, and early the Chapel Hall was filled to overflowing with eager faces awaiting the coming of the young ladies.

Promptly at eight o'clock the R. E. C. Society entered the room—two of them taking their seats on the rostrum. Miss Ida Duke, the President, after a few words of welcome to the audience, introduced the first speaker of the evening, Miss Emma Williams, with the Biography of Harriet Beecher Stowe, showing forth the noble qualities of this grand woman. A Vocal Duet by Misses Morton and Duke was much enjoyed, followed by Miss Sallie Quisenberry, whose subject was America's Inventors and well did this young lady handle her subject. Next, a recitation, Snowdrop Monument, was beautifully recited by Miss Artie Bennett. An Instrumental Duett by Misses Duke and Combes was well rendered. This was followed by an essay on "Our Education" giving instructions how to receive a good and lasting education, was read by Miss Eva Pirtle. Miss Lula Johnson came next with an oration, whose subject was "Great Things Through Great Hazards are Achieved." Her speech showed thought and a thorough knowledge of her subject. The Vocal Solo by Miss Eva Morton delighted everyone; followed by a speech upon our Professional Women, delivered by Miss Lula Milligan, predicting a grand public career for the future life of the women of our country. An address to the young ladies by Miss Mary Miller was very pleasing. Next came one of the most interesting features of the evening, "The Medley" played upon three instruments; Miss Sallie Crawford, playing the French harp, Miss Anna Bean the guitar and Miss Ruth Combes the piano. These young ladies were cheered, and quite gracefully did they respond. The Herald was next read by its very able editor, Miss Laura Rinder. This, as the editor said, is one of the best papers in town. It was filled with bright, new matter, sparkling with wit and humor, intermingled with the heavenly brilliancy of sound, solid instructive pieces. The Chorus by the Society closed the evening exercises. The crowd departed feeling that they had been doubly paid for being there.

The R. E. C. Society know exactly how to entertain and we wish for its members great success in their work and hope to hear from them again in the near future.

Committee Call.

The members of the Ohio county Republican Committee are requested to meet at the Hartford House, in the town of Hartford, on Monday April 4, 1892. There is some very important business to come before the Committee, and I hope that all the members will be present. Respy, J. S. R. WEDDING, Ch'n.

ville, Daviess county, have purchased a farm of 250 acres near Sutherland Station, Daviess county, for which they paid $10,000. The Hocker Bros. formerly lived in this county and their many friends here are glad to hear of their doing well.

Thanks.

ERRORS REPUBLICAN:—Allow me, through the columns of your excellent paper, to thank Mr. J. P. Thomas for the present of a nice cane, brought by him from Florida. I very much appreciate his kindness in remembering me so far from home, and predict a good future for him. He seems to have a good memory for his friends, as he brought several other presents which he bestowed with a liberal hand. He brought, besides, several curiosities, among which may be mentioned the shell of a star-fish, an alligator's egg and other things which I shall not enumerate here. Many, many thanks to you Jim for my cane. I'm a dandy. W. L. HAWKINS.
