Don't Stop Tobacco
 HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from a cocaine as the day you took your first new or smoke Cured By Baco-Curo and gained Thirty pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented:
 Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, '95.
 Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La. Cross, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chlorides Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and conditions.
 Yours respectfully, P. H. MANUARY.

GOLD OR SILVER WHICH WILL IT BE?

If you think you know, then guess what will be the popular vote of the successful candidate next November. We don't know, but are going to give our friends who guess the nearest to the popular vote of the winning candidate

$5,000.00 IN CASH.

—SAVE WRAPPERS—
"KIS-ME" GUM.

Full particulars in each package.
 The distribution will be made as follows: On the third of November next occurs the Presidential Election. We have decided to let our friends guess at the popular vote of the successful candidate for President, and award the prizes accordingly. Any one sending us 25 "Kis Me" Gum wrappers will be entitled to one guess. Write your guess, along with your name and address, plainly on a piece of paper, and mail it with the wrappers. Every time you send 25 wrappers you are entitled to one guess, until the contest ends. Try your luck at guessing; you may secure one of the big $500 prizes. Somebody will be sure to get them. Why not you? In all cases where there are ties, the prizes will be divided equally. Our books will be closed on the night of November 23, and no guessing will be received after that date. As a guide for guessing, we give below the popular vote cast for the Democrat and Republican candidates for President in the election of 1892:

Cleveland, Democrat, - 5,556,918.
 Harrison, Republican, - 5,176,108.

The Louisville Trust Company will Superintend the examination of our books, and from such examination will ascertain who are entitled to the prizes, and its decisions will be final. The Secretaries of the different States will furnish the official vote to the Trust Company, and as soon as a decision is reached the prizes will be sent to the persons entitled to same in accordance with decision of the Trust Company.

THE SILVER CRAZE

Is Falling off Says the N. Y. Tribune.
 The People are Being Educated.

Democrats Attempting to Swallow the Populists.

The most cheering news of the day is that the silver craze is rapidly yielding to argument and information already, where it has been the strongest. There is no wisdom in underestimating its force, and in several States it is strong enough to warrant apprehension, if there were not reasons to believe that an active campaign would materially reduce it. But it is almost the universal testimony of close observers that it has been wildly exaggerated by the politicians who, having staked their future on the success of the fight against honest money, are now desperately anxious to prevent any reaction. The formation of strong Republican clubs in such a State as Colorado, the growing disposition of the people in the Pacific States and in the wool-growing mountain States not to sacrifice protection for the benefit of mine owners, are all hopeful signs.

Secretary Morton's declaration against Bryan and his platform indicates that the number of Democrats who will vote against Bryan in his own State will be considerable. The almost solid refusal of the German voters to support the party of repudiation adds to Bryan's difficulties at home, and in all other Western States. But he has now to confront, also, the passionate re-entrenchment of the Populists at Chairman Jones's utterance, and at the tricky device at which it seems to be intended to prevent any notification to Bryan of his nomination by the Populists, and therefore any acceptance or refusal of it by him. To the Populists it appears certain that it was never intended to allow Mr. Bryan to commit himself as a Populist in the least degree, but run him as a Democrat only, and to force into the Democratic ranks all who want to support him, or desires a share in the distribution of spoils if he should be elected.

All the ingenious fusion arrangements which the leaders of both parties are contriving at the West are liable to be rendered barren by this row between the Democratic National Committee and the Populists of the South. Mr. Watson, of Georgia, was quick to see and to seize his advantage. His swift answer to Chairman Jones would have been less swift and less uncompromising if he had not known full well the meaning of the juggling resolution passed by Senator Allen, but by nobody else, in the crazy closing moments of the Populist Convention, giving the Executive Committee plenary power to do as it pleased—to pitch Watson off the ticket if necessary, or to legalize any kind of fusion. This and the refusal to appoint a committee to notify Bryan of his nomination disclose the intention which, as Watson says, is to reproduce the fusion of Jones with the whale. All the adroitness of Senator Gorman will be taxed to bring about even a nominal truce between the contending elements, each waiting to swallow and exterminate the other. If he succeeds with the conventions and leaders, how will he succeed with the Populist voters in the South and West?

It is one thing to contrive a fusion of tickets for electors, but another and very different thing to get all the Populists and all the Democrats to vote for the same ticket. The Sugar Trust Senators, who put through the tariff of "perfidy and dishonor," showed wonderful capacity for overcoming obstacles, but they had to deal with forty individuals. This is a different matter. Half a million voters cannot be handled exactly as one handles pawns on a chessboard, particularly if they are a half million cranks, every man preternaturally suspicious of gold bug and political cranks, and filled with faith in his own attainments as a statesman and economist. The nomination of Bryan was troublesome to begin with. The nomination of Sewall seemed to have been expressly designed to kill Bryan. Then came the crazy Populist Convention and platform, and the nomination of Watson, making it necessary for Bryan and his backers to choose between Sewall and the straight Populists, who spurn any candidate who dares not acknowledge himself their nominee. Evidently Mr. Bryan has occasion to come fast about this time.

A CARD.
 SULPHUR SPRINGS, Aug. 12.
 To the official members of the M. E. Church, Beaver Dam Circuit, Green River District Kentucky Conference, Six:—In the Quarterly Conference held at Beaver Dam, August 8, 1896, I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to the action of that Conference concerning me, as I was sick and could not attend that meeting. It appears in a letter from Rev. Wilson, P. C. that owing to the fact that I have not been attending the quarterly meetings, etc., etc., that the Conference don't wish to bear with me any longer (which they don't have to unless it suits them) I feel that that Conference has done me an injustice by its action concerning me. I feel like they have almost turned their back upon me. I write this card for the benefit of those who know nothing of the circumstances in the case. Now, I hope that no one will become offended over the contents of this card, as that is not my intention in the least, asking God's blessings upon all his people, I close.

 B. L. DAVIS.

A PROMINENT TEACHER.
 The subject of this short sketch is one of Ohio county's foremost teachers. He entered Hartford College in 1883, taught the fall school in his home district the following year and has been teaching and going to school every since. He is a thorough-going, progressive teacher, and has advanced ideas on all subjects which come before him. He was married to Miss Josie Park, daughter of Esqr. Jas. A. Park, in August, 1893, the summer after he graduated at Hartford College. He was one of the contestants in the Oratorical Contest of that year. Mr. Elmore is untiring in his efforts to aid the cause of education, and is ever watchful of the student's best interest in the school. He is fast taking foremost rank in his profession, not only in Ohio county, but in Western Kentucky.

SAM SMALL.
 Read What the Great Divine has to say About the Champion of Protection.

Free silver men who are claiming everything, claimed that Sam Small was for Bryan, but the following from his own lips refutes the slander: "We have had no day in the world's history when there was a greater need for men. The Government has never had more manifold and mighty problem to solve and society never needed such christianization as it does to-day. There never was a time when the domestic life needed a more thorough scouring. If we elevate unsafe men at the head of the Government, we have been remiss of our duty. I want to see religious men and men of courage rule things, for the men who rule the saloons are like rats when you turn a calcium on them. We need to show the power of individual manhood. The man who is to govern our public affairs should be a man of personal character, a model for the nation. We go, therefore, to our humble homes in Canton, O., much more humble than many of your homes, where the bible is read and where the morning prayer is said and we find that colossal character, William McKinley, the model man of to day."

Chemp Production.
 Farmers who think, as the silver-mongers tell them, that they are being ruined by "dear" gold should take a look once in a while at things that are going on beyond the fence that bound their acres. The farmers in Argentina are selling wheat free on board the ships for the European market at 37 cents a bushel with a large profit to themselves. American farmers have to meet this competition in open market. Does this sufficiently account for the lower price of wheat? How much better off would the farmer be if he had to take his pay for his wheat and cotton and tobacco in 50-cent dollars?

Maud Muller.
 The following humorous parody on Maud Muller will be found right up to date in originality. It is from the press at large, and those familiar with "Maud" will read the parody with interest:
 "Jake Muller, on a summer's day, raked the meadow sweet with hay. The mule with which he raked that hay was a muckle dun with spots of gray. Jake's shirt was hickory, his pants were brown, with a patch on the part where Jake sat down. Jake cussed in a way that was funny to see when the mule went 'haw' when he said 'gee'. A bumble bee's home in the stubble lay, where Jake and the mule raked the clover hay. A rake tooth ran thro' the bumble home, and the bees came out and began to roam in search of the man on the summer's day who raked the meadow of clover hay. They swarmed jinside Jake's hickory shirt, and quickened the mule to a mighty spurt. It was tough on the mule, it was worse on Jake, and worse yet for that sulky rake; for the mule turned loose in a promiscuous way and scattered that rake all over the hay."

Cancer of the Breast.
 Mr. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., says that his wife paid no attention to a small lump which appeared in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the worst type, and notwithstanding the treatment of the best physicians, it continued to spread and grow rapidly, eating two holes in her breast. The doctors soon pronounced her incurable. A celebrated New York specialist then treated her, but she continued to grow worse and when informed that both her aunt and grandmother had died from cancer he gave the case up as hopeless.
 Someone then recommended S.S.S. and though little hope remained, she began it, and an improvement was noticed. The cancer commenced to heal and when she had taken several bottles it disappeared entirely, and although several years have elapsed, not a sign of the disease has ever returned.
A Real Blood Remedy.

 Dr. J. C. Simmons, writes of liver and gall bladder patients, how they recover from the most distressing ailments, and how they will recover by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator.
 The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!
 For DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, Jaundice, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, SORE THROAT, Heartburn, etc. The medicinal remedy is warranted not to contain a single particle of MERCURY, or any mineral substance, but is PURELY VEGETABLE.
 containing those Southern Roots and Herbs which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail. It will cure all Diseases caused by Derangement of the Liver and Bowels.
 The SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are a bitter or bad taste in the mouth, Pain in the Back, Sides or Joints, often mistaken for Rheumatism; Sour Stomach; Loss of Appetite; Bile is abnormally excreted and has Headache; Loss of Memory, with a painful sensation of being laid up to eat and sleep; or a yellow appearance of the face, or a dry Cough often mistaken for Consumption.
 Sometimes many of the symptoms attend the disease, at others very few, but the LIVER is generally the seat of the disease, and it is regulated in time, great suffering, weakness and DEATH will ensue.
 The following highly esteemed persons attest to the virtues of Simmons' Liver Regulator: Gen. W. S. Holt, Pres. G. S. & Co., N. Y.; J. R. Peiler, Perry, Ga.; Col. E. K. Sparks, Albany, Ga.; J. M. Patterson, Ga.; Hon. J. H. Co., Ga.; Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.
 We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for DYSPEPSIA, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We tried forty other remedies before Simmons' Liver Regulator, but none gave us more temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved, but cured us.—Dr. TALEGHANI, ANCONA, ITALY.
