

The Goebelers, failing to defeat the Republicans at the polls, now propose to get rid of them by arresting them at five thousand a take.

Men, instead of horses, are used to handle the guns of the South Africans; all available beasts of burden being commanded for other purposes.

The Democratic "take out" is now on hand at Frankfort, and decent people over the State are reminded that vultures are always found where the scent is the strongest.

UREY WOODSON'S aristocratic government seems to be materializing. Urey deserves better recognition than he seems to be getting. Why not give him some of the "rake off"?

THE Elizabethtown News says: "The lust for office is the greatest curse of Kentucky and it is responsible for all our present troubles." As the News is Democratic, it's not out of order to presume it meant Democratic lust.

EX-GOVERNOR BUCKNER is out in recent articles condemning the steal at Frankfort. His denunciations are strong and unequivocal. It's now in order for the Hartford Herald to remind the General of the support it gave him when a candidate.

CANDIDATE BRYAN is still sporting himself around over the country blowing off his bass, and using his gastronomical organs in a way that would put a Cormanor to shame. The trouble with Billy is he is too young to be classed as a sage and too old to be classed with the simple. And then, too, the greatest trouble is, the people don't want him.

MR. CICERO T. SUTTON, editor of the Owensboro Inquirer, was in Hartford Tuesday. Mr. Sutton is one of those Democratic journalists who had enough courage, honor and backbone to denounce what he absolutely knew to be detrimental to his party and his country. It indeed requires nerve and determination to break away from party ties and party associates. The result of the election in Owensboro and Daviess county shows the handiwork of this gentleman. We highly appreciate the call of one who has so earnestly and zealously fought with us for civil liberty and the honor of the great State that gave us birth.

THE Goebel corruption fund is working admirably. Since its coming four months have been placed in bars, all of whom are perfectly innocent of the charge. The subsidized and Goebelian Courier-Journal and Times asserted all the while that they knew the man that killed Goebel and had him "spotted," but the arrest was not made until the corruption fund was secured. Every man in Kentucky who opposed and defied the Goebel conspiracy is in danger of having the $100,000 corruption fund applied to him. Doubtless that monument fund, that the good ladies are laboring for, will be called into play as soon as the original corruption fund has been gobbled up. Human decapitation is going at $5,000 a piece, reckoning from this standpoint, twenty heads will fall by the $100,000 guillotine, wonderful to relate.

No Harm in the Conspiracy.

The arrests of Caleb Powers, Secretary of State, and Captain John Davis, the Capital Square policeman, marks another step in the steady step of Kentucky to anarchy and ruin. The corruption fund is fulfilling its mission; its purpose is being beautifully carried out and the great common people stand in wholly horror. The progress of the Goebel conspiracy yet moves forward with seeming triumph, but the climax is nearing a focus. The end is nigh. That political revolution conceived in and bred by the infamous and savage Goebel election law is fast approaching. This, however, is just what we predicted would come. This is verbatim, what Waterson said would be the inevitable and unavoidable result of the results of that law of disfranchisement. Every journal and periodical of note, in the United States, have denounced and condemned the Goebel act and the manner in which its "sponsor" was manipulating it. The Commercial Appeal, a Democratic paper with unquestioned loyalty, edited by a man with conscience and brain, denounced the measure in terms as strong and as emphatic as the English language affords. "Goebel came into Kentucky politics to bring not peace, but a sword," proclaimed its editor and this is known to all. The conspiracy has proceeded according to law, but in order that the law might be enforced according to the conspiracy, the brothers of the dead Senator, brought Thomas C. Campbell, a notorious bravo of Cincinnati, into the disturbed and strained state of affairs, who in conjunction with the $100,000 corruption fund succeeded in swearing out warrants for the

of some of the commonwealth's most prominent men, and yet, there are men, claiming to have made their "peace calling and election sure," who sanction every word and act of this diabolical and infernal conspiracy. The attempt to implicate the State officers in the assassination of William Goebel was pre-arranged and pre-conceived, it could not be done by a Campbell, $100,000 and one Cromwell, who doesn't live anywhere, but crawls around the country doing the bidding of the evil one, and who was not in Frankfort at the time of the assassination, to swear out warrants for the arrest of reputable and innocent Kentuckians.

"It is as if the fiends prevailed. Against the Seraphs they assailed. And thrust on heavenly spirits should dwell The freed inheritors of hell."

It is safe to say the people of Kentucky will not tolerate this a fortnight. The insurgents and pretenders must recognize law and decency. They must halt or plunge the State into a civil conflict. The idea that the Secretary of State should be knocked senseless by an armed bully and carried to jail in manacles without the privilege of trial or bond is beyond the power of human endurance. And yet, and yet, the opposition declares that their procedure is according to law. But every rational, intelligent and informed man knows that this assertion is as false and frivolous as the charge that the Republicans committed fraud in the November election. This assertion is confined to that class of deranged and deformed Democrats that sanctioned the following:

"THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET JUST NOMINATED WILL, CERTAINLY, BE ELECTED. UNDER THE OPERATION OF THE GOBEL LAW THE RESULT IS NOT LEFT TO CHANCE.—Henry Waterson in a letter to the President of the L. & N. R. Co., June 20, 1899.

"You can't out vote me and you can't count me out." "I have the election right where I had the convention." "The other fellows do the voting, but we Democrats will do the counting."

"If there is any stealing to be done in this election, I am ready to let that the other fellows will not do it."—Blackburn.

"The white, property-owning, respectable people of Kentucky are going to control the government of this Commonwealth now and hereafter, and they are going to legislate some respect for law and public opinion into the heads of those arrogant moneybags and their satellites and hangers-on who have chosen to affiliate politically with 75,000 ignorant negroes and as many more vicious and uneducated mountaineers. The struggle for supremacy is about over and the end will prove in this State, as it has in other States, that only the people who are capable of good government will be permitted to govern."—Urey Woodson in Owensboro Messenger.

It may be that the atmosphere of Kentucky is suited to the fruition of such crimes; it may be that anarchy will find a short repose, but in the bosom of every good citizen is a feeling of shame and disgust. This is not confined to the ranks of the Republican party for thousands of good Democrats who would have fought and labored themselves tired, had they been charged previous to the election, that this is what they voted for. This is verbatim et literatim. This is Goebelianism. This is what the attempted assassination of civil liberty brought about. This is the result of that political conspiracy concocted and purporting to consign Kentucky freemen to political bondage and slavery.

The Election Law.

"It would be well for some of those patriotic objectors to the present election law to stop their wholehearted abuse of this law and make some sensible objection to the provisions. Under the old law the sole power of appointing election officers was vested in the County Judge, who was necessarily a partisan of one or the other political party. It is the duty of the State to see that the power of appointing election officers is given to three men instead of one, and that political parties are represented on every board in the State."

The above appeared in Wednesday's Meade County Messenger, credited to the Sentinel, under the caption, "The Election Law." In reading this we were convinced that its author had either visited Sleepy Hollow and had forgotten himself or else he was a fit subject for Lakeland, if its Superintendent could administer to him. We are persuaded that a sensible, unbiased and an informed man would not be guilty of the exhibition of such unpardonable ignorance. For the benefit of the gentleman who has been in Africa or a similar clime, we will again offer our protest to this unholy measure.

Under the old law the County Judge had the power to appoint the precinct election officers. This officer solemnly swore that he would discharge his duty faithfully and fearlessly, but in order that the State might be made sure that this oath would be fulfilled, a heavy bond was required to be given. Under the Goebel law these three men may be horse thieves, bank robbers, professional gamblers, desperate characters and ballot box stuffers, and all that this law requires is that each man shall take oath that he will faithfully perform his duties. There is no bond to restrain this board as there was in the case of the County Judge. It would be more plausible to induct the Sheriff into office without bond than these election commissioners, because he could only steal our money and the election commissioners can steal our freedom, without which life is not worth the living. The assertion that "both political parties are represented on every board in the State," is absolutely a malicious falsehood. The central triumvirate, the fountain head of all the State boards is not composed of both parties. Every man in it was and is a free-eating and blood-thirsty Goebelerat, and there were county boards in the State that were and are case hardened for Goebel.

Not a single man in charge of any part or factor of this Goebel law was required to give bond for the faithful performance of his duties or was there any penalty of imprisonment to restrain him. Under the operation of the old law the action of the committee of contest for Governor and Lieutenant Governor was final, and under the new law it is not, but what matters that, when the legislature choosing that committee is strongly one-sided? Has not the recent affairs at Frankfort proven this to be a very bad law? But the report of the contest board for the minor State offices is FINAL and CONCLUSIVE. We presume that no one will deny this, since the election. This present board, composed of Poyntz, Yonts and Fulton, all notorious characters, not equalled this side of the great absence of heaven, arbitrarily and without cause, stole and robbed the honest voters of Jefferson, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties of their ballots and murdered civil liberty in the very halls of justice. Under this new law, every county board in the State was composed of no less than two Goebel Democrats with unlimited power. They could remove the precinct officers at any time, without cause, AS THEY DID IN LOUISVILLE on Monday night before the election.

This law could have been made an excellent one by placing two Republicans and two Democrats on the State board, with heavy bond and imprisonment in the penitentiary for the violation of their trust. But this was not done. The purpose of the law was to return Democratic victories at all hazards. Proof—The recent election and the present contest. The man who defends this infamous and odious measure is either where Moses was when the light went out, or else he is a man at all, but instead a horned monster. The man defending this measure commits political suicide and deserves ostracism.

Death of Legislature Eternal

Over the death of the legislature, 300,000 voters will sing praises to him on high. Never before in the history of the country was such a body of distorted, degenerate and deformed men clothed with the responsibility of the legislative functions of government. To say that these biped animals have disgraced their State, the position to which they were elected, their country at large, themselves and the God that gave them being, would be casting a reflection upon the term. Human intellect cannot conceive of language suited to analyze this body of usurpers. From the second day of January to the close of the 13th day of March every breath it drew was poisoned with revolution. Like the dying spreading viper, after applying its own venom to its own body, it died frothing and foaming and striking at the very principles of freedom. It is dead by its having injected into its own being the profound contempt and disgust of every fair minded Kentuckian. Now that it is dead, the Great Ruler of Heaven should make it a long time dead if not eternal.

The contest conducted by this thing was a farce from the drawing of the committee, for the contest cases, until the ratification of its report in mid-night darkness when neither could see the other face. It will be remembered by the "great common people" that the report of this committee of fraud and force was ratified three times, therefore condemning itself. The appropriation of the $100,000 corruption fund was unnecessary and uncalled for. When Abraham Lincoln was assassinated only $5,000 reward was offered for the assassin and he, too, was the liberator of 4,000,000 souls, but when Mr. Goebel was assassinated a reward of $100,000 was offered for the detection of his assassin and he, too, was the murderer of civil liberty and the enslaver of 6,000,000 souls.

But this corruption fund was supplied corruptionists for no other purpose than to convict the leaders of the Republican party, for the deed of one of their own men, and yet this corruption fund was not sufficient. This same body of bipeds has gone into the State's treasury and taken out another $100,000 to raise an army to guard the perjurers while they perform their heli-act acts of persecution. There can be no mistake about the purpose of these $200,000 appropriation bills. Every prominent Republican in Kentucky is in danger of arrest, even those who have never seen Frankfort, but who have bravely opposed this gigantic conspiracy. It is little short of a miracle why warrants for the arrest of Judge Toney, Judge Morton, Capt. Sharp, Ex-Gov. Buckner, Squire Turner, Judge Barr, Judge Evans, President McKinley and a host of others, have not been sworn out by some beneficiary of that corruption fund. Every effort of the Republican members to arrest the disgraceful measures of the Goebelers only tended to encourage their propagandists to more determined efforts. This body adjourned without a tear. It was buried in ignominy and disgrace never again to be resurrected, not even on the morning of its resurrection, for with its death its soul passed to its reward in the realm of the immortal lost.

SMALLHOUSE.

Mr. Ham Ward's house was consumed by fire Sunday morning. It was occupied by a tenant, Mr. Frank Dennis. They had eaten breakfast and gone to the stable to feed when the fire was discovered by some neighbors. It was almost ready to fall when discovered. Every thing was burned except a safe and cooking stove. The family lost all their clothing except the clothes they had on. Mr. Ward had an insurance of $400 on the House.

We had a mad dog scare in the neighborhood Saturday. Mr. James Eudaley's dog went mad and was discovered soon after. They gave it a chase and soon killed it.

Mr. John C. Iglehart, who has been quite ill for some time, is worse.

Mrs. P. L. Wood and little daughter Ethel Marie, of Ceralvo, visited her sister, Mrs. Maggie Hunter, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nanvie Lawrence, Breckenridge county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charlie Overton.

Mr. M. D. Maddox went to Livermore Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown are visiting their brother, Mr. Joe Bullock.

Mr. Ed Curtis and wife and little son, Master Otis, visited in Rockport Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lillie Hunter visited her aunt, Mrs. Louis Geiger, Sunday and Monday.

We learn that Mr. H. P. Addington son of Mr. William Addington, had his shoulder badly bruised while weighing coal at Island Station last Thursday. He was getting along as well could be expected when last heard from.

A. R. De Fluert, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by Z. KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Condition of Crops and Live Stock March 1st, 1900.

Replies were received this month from 130 correspondents, representing 97 counties.

Pursuant to custom we re state in this, the first report of the year, the boundaries of the three sections into which the State, for the purposes of this report, is divided and the reasons prompting such divisions:

The irregular contour of the counties makes it impracticable to divide upon straight lines in any given course. Again, it is advisable to separate the "dark tobacco" district in the west part of the State from the Burley district of the central and eastern portion. Likewise it is desirable to separate the counties in the eastern and southeastern portion, where the production of any crop rarely exceeds the home demand and where the percentage of increase or decrease affects in a small measure only the actual production of the State, from the other sections producing a large surplus. To meet all these varied conditions the following divisions appear to us as the best to be devised:

The western section comprises 39 counties west of an irregular line drawn from the eastern boundary of Hardin county on the north to the eastern boundary of Allen on the south the intervening counties of Larue, Hart and Barren being placed in the western section. The central, or to be more accurate, the north central section, embraces 40 counties lying east of the above described boundary and northeast of an irregular line drawn from the eastern boundary of Lewis county on the northeast of Larue county in the southeast, the intervening counties of Bath, Montgomery, Clark, Madison, Lincoln, Boyle and Martin being in the central section. The eastern or southeastern section is composed of the remaining 40 counties lying southeast of the above-described lines.

WHEAT.

The condition of the wheat crop, compared with average years, is 97 which is 16 points above the average for the past four years; 17 points above the condition on March 1st, 1899, and 7 points below the condition on December 1st, the date of the last monthly report.

The condition averages highest in the central section, 99, and the lowest in the southeastern section, 94. In the western section the conditions is 98. Replies to question "Has wheat suffered from any cause during winter?" are 52 in the affirmative and 69 in the negative. Of the affirmative answers 21 are from the western section, 19 from central and 12 from southeastern. Sudden and severe freezing without adequate snow protection is the cause of damage usually assigned.

The highly satisfactory condition of the crop, notwithstanding the trying ordeals to which it has been subjected, is accounted for by the fact that the plant was exceptionally well rooted and otherwise prepared to withstand the rigors of the season. A considerable number of counties in the central section report the crop the finest prospects in many years. Owing to the prevalence of "fly" in early wheat last fall much apprehension of damage from this source is felt as the season progresses, it being generally conceded that the insect in its pupae or "flax seed" state is not affected by the lowest temperature of our winters.

The amount of 1899 crop in hands of farmers on March 1st is estimated

Creeping Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way. It creeps its way along. First, you think it is a little cold; nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats.

The suddenness comes when you have a hemorrhage. Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping. You can do it with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral advertisement with logo and text describing its benefits for coughs and consumption.

You first notice that you cough less. The pressure on the chest is lifted. That feeling of suffocation is removed. A cure is hastened by placing one of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster over the Chest.

Grand Introduction Sale Of Standard-Made Watches. For the purpose of introducing ourselves to Kentucky buyers and securing their future trade, we will mail formal public notice of withdrawal, quote the following nationally low prices on the celebrated John Bull, the famous Wind and Set Case, fitted with the famous Elgin and Waltham Movements, all of world-wide reputation for quality and durability.

It is estimated that 32 per cent. of the corn crop of 1899 was in the hands of farmers on March 1st. This is 10 per cent. less than the stock of old corn so he one year ago.

Live Stock. Live stock is below the average condition, as follows: Horses, 92; Cattle, 93; Sheep, 92 and Hogs, 91.

In many counties the corn crop of 1899 was practically a failure and it has been necessary to import corn to supply the deficiency. The severe weather during February has made heavy drains on supply of hay and other roughage and an early grazing season will be hailed with delight.

Cattle have wintered better than any other class of stock. The increased demand and better prices for horses and a season of prosperity for breeders of these animals is assured.

The cold, wet weather of February was unfavorable to sheep especially, and considerable losses, both of old sheep and spring lambs, are reported.

Hogs are scarce and the number being fed for market is far below the normal. Thirty correspondents report hog cholera as against 90 who report hog free from disease.

Farm work is being greatly delayed by unfavorable weather conditions. Very few tobacco beds have been sown to date.

There is nothing to indicate that the fruit buds have been unfavorably affected by the winter.

OHIO COUNTY COURT, REGULAR TERM, MARCH 5th, 1900.

A regular term of the Ohio County Court, begun and held for said county, in the court house at Hartford, Ky., with Hon. James P. Miller, Judge presiding, the following was had, to-wit:

J. W. Wilson, et al. vs. J. W. Wilson, et al. Order of Judgment. In the town of Boston, Ohio county, Ky. J. W. Wilson, Steve Kendall, J. W. Clark, James W. Raley, W. E. Fench, T. W. Pouch, Alonzo Craig, J. H. Allen, R. C. Stewart, T. J. Bryant, L. A. Spinks, J. H. Hurt, Chas. H. Tally, Thomas F. Curley, James C. Hall, J. B. Ashford, B. T. Bryant, John Johnston, M. M. Lile, J. M. Allen, W. F. Madsen, L. Vandiver, G. M. Madden, Joe McDaniel and J. P. Hunter, having by order of the Ohio County Court, at the last regular February, 1900, term filed their written petition signed by each and all of them praying for a local option election in the town of Boston, Ky., on the 7th day of April, 1900, which was adjudged to be signed by a number more than equal to twenty-five per cent. of the citizens, residents of legal and qualified voters in said town, qualified to vote for county officers of Ohio county, Ky., voting at the last general election held in and for said town and having deposited with the Hon. James P. Miller, the regular clerk, qualified and acting County Clerk, at the last regular February, 1900, term a sum of money sufficient to pay for printing or posting advertisements of said election and to pay the fees of the Clerk for making entries in order book, as evidenced by receipt in their attorney, E. P. Neal, from said Judge by said entries and figures as follows:

Received, March 5, 1900, of E. P. Neal, attorney for J. W. Wilson and others in case of J. W. Wilson and others petition for local option election in the town of Boston, $35.00, for the purpose of paying expenses of said election, and an itemized account to be rendered to said Attorney and whatever may be left over and above said election shall be returned to E. P. Neal, and whatever the amount above named may lack of paying said expense said E. P. Neal agrees and binds himself to pay. E. P. Neal.

It is therefore ordered and adjudged by the court, it being sufficiently advised that S. T. Stevens, the regular elected, qualified and acting Sheriff of Ohio county, Ky., be and he is hereby ordered and directed to open a poll at the voting place of Boston precinct in the town of Boston, Ohio County, Kentucky, on Saturday, the 7th day of April, 1900, to take the sense of the legal qualified voters, qualified to vote for county officers of said town, whether or not spirituous, vinous and malt liquors shall be sold in said town, and whether or not the law prohibiting the sale, barter and loan of and traffic in such liquors in said town shall become inoperative. The Clerk of this Court is directed to prepare poll books and ballots for said election as directed by law. The Sheriff will advertise said election as required by law.

A COPY. A. M. S. RAYLAND, C. O. C. C.

Pursuant to the above order, J. S. T. Stevens, S. O. C. will cause a poll to be opened and an election to be held in the town of Boston, Ky., on April the 7th, 1900, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said town as to whether or not spirituous, vinous and malt liquors shall be sold in said town. This, March 9th, 1900. S. T. STEVENS, S. O. C.

Received, March 5, 1900, of E. P. Neal, attorney for J. W. Wilson and others in case of J. W. Wilson and others petition for local option election in the town of Boston, $35.00, for the purpose of paying expenses of said election, and an itemized account to be rendered to said Attorney and whatever may be left over and above said election shall be returned to E. P. Neal, and whatever the amount above named may lack of paying said expense said E. P. Neal agrees and binds himself to pay. E. P. Neal.

It is therefore ordered and adjudged by the court, it being sufficiently advised that S. T. Stevens, the regular elected, qualified and acting Sheriff of Ohio county, Ky., be and he is hereby ordered and directed to open a poll at the voting place of Boston precinct in the town of Boston, Ohio County, Kentucky, on Saturday, the 7th day of April, 1900
