His Wife's Weak Heart.

It is a singular thing that in the popular view of disease the interdependence of the several organs of the body is lost sight of. The heart, for example, is diseased and it is treated as if it were entirely separated from, and independent of, every other organ.

The fallacy of this opinion is shown by the cases of heart "trouble," liver "trouble," kidney "trouble," and other so-called "troubles," effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Primarily the "Discovery" is a medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and blood. But it cures diseases of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I doctored with three different doctors for weak heart, but they did me no good," writes Mrs. Julia A. Wilson, Copart, Wood Co., Ohio. "I was so tired and discouraged that I had had my choice to live or die. I would have preferred to die. My husband found of Golden Medical Discovery, and he bought a bottle. I took six bottles before I reported 'I am perfectly well, and am cooking for six boarders. It has been a God-send to me.'"

SHOULD MOVE CAREFULLY

Deliberation Necessary in Dealing With Reciprocity and Tariff Revision.

There is no business topic which excites more vigorous and bitter controversy than that of the tariff. It is a matter, when settled to the advantage of a nation, ought to be left severely alone. That is to say when a country has its tariff laws adjusted to that by their operation the country's commerce and industries are growing, as are our own, there is precious little to be gained, and possibly a good deal to lose by tariff debate.

The fact that there is a Reciprocity convention to be held in Cleveland this month leads us to make these observations, which we take the liberty to submit in the shape of a modest suggestion that the convention may not "run wild" in the matter of tariff oratory. Nothing, in our judgment, could operate more against the welfare of our manufacturing interests in general than a violent agitation of the question of reciprocity, which would surely open up the whole tariff question, including the old ones now pretty well healed.

Whatever is done in the matter of tariff reciprocity must be done with the greatest care and coolest judgment. The less fever excited by declaration and debate the better. It is essentially a business man's business. There are lines of trade in which our foreign commerce and domestic industries would be helped by reciprocal treaties. President McKinley pointed out this in his Buffalo address, and at the same time suggested the wisdom of making haste slowly. "By sensible trade arrangements which will not interrupt our home productions," we should sell everywhere we can buy, wherever the buying will enlarge our sales and productions, and thereby make a greater demand for home labor." That is the reciprocity suggested by McKinley, the master in the great question of trade and commerce, and it distinctly stakes out the limits to which we should go. Where this reciprocity should be applied is a question the determination of which cannot safely be left to a few manufacturers, for when one particular line, or even more than one, might be benefited, an overbalancing number might be offset the other way.

It is quite likely, too, that there is less clamor for reciprocity on the part of our foreign customers than is generally supposed. There are American manufacturers, and plenty of them, who sell large quantities of their products abroad who never hear of any demand for a return courtesy. Foreign consumers are prone to want the best thing that can be manufactured or grown, and if they get it—and they have been getting it from the United States—they pay the price and ask no questions.

The country is doing well, mightily well, as our two and a half billions of foreign commerce and our busy mills indicate. It is good business sense to let well enough alone. The less oratory that is encouraged along lines calculated to disturb these happy conditions the better. Our friends, when they assemble at Cleveland, should make a note of it, and persuade the tariff orators, if possible, to run under a slow bell.—Maize Journal.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble. Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At drug stores in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Klinger & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

would have escaped the terrible misfortunes of 1894. Let the people see to it that there is no more folly of that kind. Let the tariff under which we are prosperous alone.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Superfluous Urging. Immoderate stigmata is being evoked at the expense of our plank in the platform which was adopted by the Massachusetts Democrats. The plank is this:

We urge among other things the admission into this country free of duty of all articles entering in the construction and repair of ships.

That looks very impressive and important but the amusing truth is that for many years the tariff laws, both Republican and Democratic, have provided for the free admission of this class of articles. To urge the adoption of a policy that was adopted long ago and is still doing business at the old stand is one of the most foolish features of the current political situation. Next time, however, the architects of the Massachusetts Democratic platform will probably consult existing imaginations in formulating a schedule of policies to be urged.—Exchange.

Marriage Celebration. The friends and relatives about eighty-eight in number of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. C. Lindley met at the old Lindley homestead on Sept. 7, 1901, and were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lindley and wife, assisted by Mrs. Lucinda French, it being the 55th anniversary of their marriage.

At 12 o'clock the wedding march was beautifully rendered by their grand-daughter, Miss B. H. Tichenor, when all were invited into the dining-room, where, after a brief talk with their nephew, Rev. R. D. Bennett, all partook of a sumptuous dinner. Mr. Lindley is now in his 58th year and Mrs. Lindley is in her 78th year, we hope they may live to enjoy many more such anniversaries. Uncle John as he is familiarly known, wore on that day a pair of home-spun linen pants, that were worn by his wife when in her 71st year, the fitting was spun by her sister, Mrs. Doris Shaver when in her 75th year. Aunt Ophelia wore a home-spun linen apron, which her mother, Mrs. J. M. Timmonds and mother-in-law, Mrs. Sallie Lindley, spun and wove in the year 1823. Mrs. Lindley still owns the wheel the thread was spun on. It is 107 years old.

There was present on this occasion their children, three in number, grand children 9 in number and great grand children 6 nephews, 6 nieces and 5 great great nieces. Messrs. L. F. and J. H. Condit, their nephews, celebrated their 6th birthday with them. Mr. and Mrs. Lindley received several nice loaves of light bread, and cake.

Time has past gently with these two old people and when their tools are laid aside or may they each gain a bright crown in heaven while we feel sure waits them in the better world. We ask God's richest blessings to rest on the son and daughter-in-law, who do so much to render Progressive Christianity. The common assertion that the Christian religion has not been holding its own during the last half century is not borne out by the facts. No observing person at all familiar with the hardihood to claim that the world has not been growing grander and better during the century just closed. The spirit of fraternity has been more in evidence in the relationships of men and nations. The vast expenditure of money on works of charity and benevolence has never before been approached during any similar period of the world's history.

Many people, however, who admit individual development a' o' g spiritual and humanitarian lines deny that the Christian religion, as evidence in church work, has grown in popularity. Statistics show that in the United States since the formation of the republic the increase in church membership and in religious activity in all its parts has been greater than that of the population. Approximately the increase in population has been less than one-fourth as great as the increase in church membership. When the unbeliever considers that the Christian world spends as much as $1,000,000,000 annually upon the support of churches, the propagation of the creed among heathen people and in works of charity, he finds his pessimistic charge of religious inactivity utterly without foundation.

There is nothing at all disencouraging in the outlook. In the countries already gaining in popularity every year and strong-voiced soldiers of the cross are carrying the light into heathen nations. The indications are that the close of the present century will witness the complete triumph of Christianity throughout the world.—Eliza Nettown News.

His wife hearing his call for help, ran to his assistance and the wire was cut and the horse helped up before he could escape. Mr. Lawrence was badly bruised and cut with the wire and his clothing torn almost off him. He is able to get on.

Mrs. C. Mason, who has been quite ill for some time, is better.

Strange Feline Foster Mother. Mrs. J. Crawford, living near E. Henderson, has a good motherly old hen that cannot let her affections stand vacant. When her last brood of chickens, with the ingratitude of extreme youth and lolly deserted her, she began to look about for substitutes.

After scanning the list of eligible things for the vacant places in her heart, she settled on a nest of kittens. They were located in a barrel with one mamma that answered all their juvenile needs, but the old hen soon rounded the mother and took possession of the brood. She hovers them most of the time and the real mother is a lover to come to see her family only when the foster mother is out securing food.

It is understood that the kittens are now sprouting feathers and learning to crow. What a pity C. reference does not meet at E. Henderson next year. Four legs to the chicken would make Mrs. Crawford a variety of the most popular yet discovered.—Shelby Record.

In Memory. Of Mrs. Barbara Ann Ross, who departed this life Oct. 12, 1901, at her home in Smallhouse, aged 81 years, 9 months and 12 days.

She was married to Mr. T. M. Ross in 1837; was converted when quite young and joined the Baptist church at Walton's Creek and was baptized by Rev. Alfred Taylor and lived a faithful and consistent member until death. She leaves five daughters and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss, her husband, nine sons having preceded her to that better land. Six of them died in infancy.

She was the mother of Messrs. Preston, Christy and Joe Ross and Mrs. Charlie Barnard, deceased, and of Mrs. Bettie Ha'cher, Mrs. Sallie Drake, Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Joe Bennett and Mrs. Pen B. Taylor with whom she was living. It can be truly said a good woman has loved to her reward. A FRIEND.

Sugar Trust Tactics. It must not be forgotten that it is the same trust which is attacking our best sugar factories with the object of compelling them to stop refining their own sugar which is clamoring for "reciprocity" treaty with Cuba for the purpose of importing raw sugar at rates that will put our sugar factories absolutely at their mercy. It is expending money in all sorts of ways in an endeavor to acquire a false sentiment of uncalculated generosity which may exist in some quarters as to put money into the own coffers. The sole effluence of the best sugar men is that they refine the sugar which they produce. To forbid a best sugar manufacturer from refining his own product is as bad as to forbid a father from teaching his son his own trade. What will be done with the sugar trust we do not know, but we are sure that the people will never assent to a reciprocity treaty to beat the life out of "weak" sugar-makers.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A KANSAS EDITOR SAYS: "I Use Peruna in My Home as a Family Doctor."

Mr. F. A. Dixon, Editor of the Pittsburg Echo, says in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman I have been a fair trial, I have proved it a success. I have used it myself several times and consider it a very valuable medicine. Speaking from personal observation, I consider it a good investment to keep it in my home, and believe every man who desires to relieve suffering, and at the same time save money, should investigate the real merits of your Peruna and other medicines.

In a later letter he says: "For about four years I have used Peruna in my home for myself, wife and two children, and I have saved many doctor bills. Many times a dose or two of Peruna taken in time will stop sickness, which, if permitted to go for a day, would result in serious trouble. For grip it is splendid and can be used successfully with very young children as well as old people. I use it in my home as an all-around family doctor and when it has been given a fair trial, I have proved an excellent remedy."
