TAFT STARTS SPEAKING TOUR

President is Chief Guest in New York City.

Will Visit His Home State During Five Days Trip.

New York, Jan. 27.—On the eve of his three-day visit to Ohio, his home State, President Taft spoke tonight at the Waldorf-Astoria to the Ohio Society of New York, delivering probably the most impassioned speech he has made in many months, directed against the "necromancers of reform," and particularly aimed at the recall of judges.

Of the efforts that the President said, have been made to reform legislation in this country, he saw much that was good. He saw the faults of government in the United States, and admitted that in trying to eradicate them, much might be accomplished by reformers.

But in the effort to make the judiciary responsive to every "whim" of the people, he saw destruction. He declared that the conservative element of the nation must eventually "get together" to prevent a movement that would make the courts creatures of popular will and might make the decision in every case, not accord with the law, but accord with what a majority of the people thought the law should be.

"They are having a constitutional convention in Ohio," said the President, "and I am told that one of the propositions is to propose the judicial recall. Ours and ours are going up and down the country denouncing courts, pointing out their corrupt nature."

"The time is coming, in my judgment, when the conservative people of this country who are in favor of the normal principles of justice and their administration so as to make them prevail, should rise to meet these misguided supporters of an utterly indefensible theory and end the agitation against the courts."

The President's speech to the Ohio Society was only one of his many engagements here tonight. From Ohio, he stepped over into West Virginia in the same hotel and addressed the New York Society of that name, and then moved to Sherry's to speak to the Aero Club of America. Before retiring at the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, the President "dropped in" at the ball of the Daughters of Jacob, at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, to which 10,000 invitations had been issued. He is due to leave New York tomorrow for Cleveland.

Lid on in Bowling Green.

Bowling Green, Ky., Jan. 30.—A free-for-all fight followed the opening of some brothers in this city on Sunday, which resulted in the arrest of six men and nine women.

An order has been issued by Mayor Townsend that "the red lights must go." And he has instructed Chief of Police Hill to this effect: The police are ordered to raid these places every day.

Kentucky Woman Wants Office

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 30.—Kentucky has a candidate for the office of vice president general of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to be chosen at the annual session of that patriotic organization, at Washington, D. C., next April, in the person of Mrs. R. H. Cunningham, of this city.

The Gen. Samuel Hopkins Chapter of this city has the honor to announce her candidacy.

Mrs. Cunningham was unanimously endorsed by the Kentucky State Conference, assembled in October, 1911. She was one of the most brilliant State Agents that Kentucky has ever had, and was a member of the Continental Hall at Jamestown Exposition Commission. She was twice elected to represent her chapter in the National Council. She also has been president of the Women's Club of this city and the usual executive ability displayed in the management of patriotic and philanthropic work in this and other public organizations, amply qualified for the national work.

Mrs. Cunningham has an established social position, is universally popular wherever she is known, and her extensive travel abroad has deepened her many acquaintances.

White Ribboners Storm Senate

Washington, Jan. 30.—Leaders of the W. C. T. U. and a host of State workers stormed the Senate Judiciary Committee today for favorable action on the Kanyon-Shepherd bill, which would prohibit shipment of liquor into "dry" territory.

Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, National president of the organization; Anna A. Gordon, vice president, and Ellen M. Stone, missionary and temperance worker, headed the delegation.

Temperance workers from Southern prohibition States are especially interested in the bill. A Georgia delegation headed by Mrs. T. E. Patterson, president of the State organization, and Mary Harris Anner, who attracted attention in the Georgia temperance campaign, is expected to appear.

The presence of the national leaders of Washington will signalize a week of the "white ribbon" campaign in the halls of congress.

Governors for Presidents.

Governors are much in evidence as candidates or probable or possible candidates, whose names may be presented to the Democratic National Convention to be held in Baltimore this year. Among those mentioned in this connection are:

- Governor Harmon, of Ohio.
- Governor Wilson, of New Jersey.
- Governor Marshall, of Indiana.
- Governor Dix, of New York.
- Governor Foss, of Massachusetts.
- Governor Baldwin, of Connecticut.
- Governor Burke, of North Dakota.
- Ex-Governor Folk, of Missouri.

The first Governor ever made President was James Monroe in 1816. The next Governor raised to the Presidency was Martin Van Buren in 1836.

William Henry Harrison was a Territorial Governor, and John Tyler was an ex-Governor. James K. Polk was a Governor, but after him no Governor became president until Andrew Johnson, who had been civil and military Governor, succeeded Lincoln Tilden and Hayes, who contested for the Presidency in 1876, were both Governors. Hayes securing the higher office, Cleveland and McKinley were Governors, and Roosevelt was an ex-Governor when he succeeded McKinley.—Nashville Democrat.

ALL SERENE ONCE MORE

Owensboro Baptist Settle Differences By Compromise.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: The long drawn out differences that have been existing in the Third Baptist church have been amicably adjusted and the factions. The injunction suit that was brought on last Wednesday afternoon by the anti-Corroll forces against the Carroll forces is to be dismissed on the first day of the approaching February term.

Judge Gordon of Madisonville, who was to hear the injunction proceeding at the courthouse in Owensboro on Thursday morning, was notified this afternoon by Judge Birchard that his services would not be needed.

The compromise was brought about by the splendid and magnanimous work of Clarence Walls, a member of the First Baptist church, who was consulted and agreed upon by both factions of the Third Baptist church to settle the controversy.

The compromise was finally effected and signed by the attorneys representing both sides at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A meeting of the members of the Third Baptist church has been called for Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the transaction of such business as may come before it. This agreement is signed by Roy Gilbert and H. M. Talbot, both deacons and representing each faction of the church.

At the meeting on Wednesday night the actions taken at the recent meeting of the church with reference to matters in dispute are to be reconsidered. Both the pastor, Rev. C. C. Carroll and the deacons are to be reinstated to their respective offices and the rules to which some of the members object so unanimously are also to be reconsidered. In other words, according to Mr. Walls, who brought about the compromise, the whole is to be wiped clean, and the church left free to take any action it may in the future see proper to do.

Presbyterians in Conference.

Paris, Ky., Jan. 30.—The Laymen's conference of the Presbyterian church convened at the Presbyterian church in this city this morning at 10 o'clock. The exercises were opened with devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. R. S. Sanders, of Millersburg. Dr. B. H. Shive, of the Paris church, delivered a welcoming address to the delegates and visitors and explained the purpose of the conference.

Following the enrollment of delegates and the organization of the conference, Dr. H. H. Swets, D. D., of Louisville, delivered an interesting and able conference sermon on "The Healthy Man."

The afternoon programme will be devoted to the consideration of plans for the betterment of the Church and its working branches. To-night a banquet will be given in the church basement by the women of the church to the delegates and invited guests, including the pastors of all the local churches.

Elopers Elude "Papa."

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 27.—After an exciting chase in which the father of the bride was seeking to overtake the couple marry at home, Miss Opa Robertson and Aubrey Feltz, of Bardwell, succeeded in reaching Union City, Tenn., where the ceremony was performed.

There were parental objections to the marriage and the couple decided to elope. After leaving home the bride's father learned of the purpose of the couple and started after them to give his consent and have the wedding at home.

However the couple thought his mission was to interfere and drove onward to Winford, where they caught a train to Union City. On their return home they were extended parental forgiveness.

A GROCERY AND CHURCH COMBINED

New York Minister Opens Campaign Against High Cost of Living.

New York, January 29.—The Rev. Madison Peters, pastor of the big Pilgrim Congregational church, on Madison avenue, will next Saturday open a grocery store as a part of the church's work among the poor. It is the beginning of a campaign against the high cost of living. Other stores are to be opened later if this proves successful.

Less than a week ago Dr. Peters broached his plan at a meeting of one of his church organizations. "I would like," he said, "to start a store where people could come and buy as they would if the farmers' wagons were lined up for them in a market—where they could escape the cheating grocer and the rapacious middle man."

There was an immediate response to his suggestion, and a few days later he was ready to announce the opening of his first depot.

Out of the pastor's own pocket will come the initial cost of laying in a stock of potatoes, apples, canned goods, eggs and a restricted line of vegetables. For the present the store will be open only from 10 to 12 noon on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The selling staff will include several volunteers and two or three paid assistants.

AVIATOR SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Flies to Rescue of Child on Ice Cake

When People on Shore Give Up Hope of Rescue, at Brink of Falls.

Thompsonville, Conn., January 24.—What is believed to be the first rescue from drowning by aeroplane occurred a mile south of this village yesterday afternoon. The circumstances surrounding the rescue are most spectacular.

Dora Pease, a 6-year-old child, residing in a small cottage on the banks of the Connecticut river, while returning from kindergarten stopped to watch men harvesting ice on the river. Her childish curiosity aroused, she crept to the open space in the river below the ice cutters, who did not notice her. Two large cakes of ice attracted her attention and seating herself upon them the little one began to amuse herself by propelling them along the smooth surface of the frozen river.

CHILD CARRIED AWAY ON ICE. Suddenly the ice cutters were aroused by a loud splash and the child's screams and were horrified to see the child seated on an ice cake floating rapidly down the river toward the Brimfield falls, 150 feet away. An attempt to rescue the child by means of a long rope failed. Several of the men ran along the banks of the river and one of them, throwing off his heavy boots, sprang after her.

The cold water forced him to abandon the attempt, however, and in a few minutes the child was within a few feet of the falls which roared and raged as the water struck the rocks thirty feet below.

The attention of the panic-stricken men was attracted from the child in her perilous position by a whirling above them as Charles S. Jenkins, amateur aviator, swept down from the Suffield hills to the west and over the river. By gestures the ice cutter attracted his attention to the child, who seemed to them to be at the very brink of the falls.

AVIATOR SAVES LITTLE GIRL. The child's attention had also been attracted to the aeroplane, which was swooping down upon her and, kneeling upon the ice raft, she waved her hands and screamed to the aviator. As the machine passed over the cakes of ice the child made a leap and a wild clutch, grasping a cross-support far below the engines and was lifted to the west by Jenkins.

Just as the child leaped the ice reached the brink of the falls and fell to the surging water below, minus its victim. The machine was brought to earth on the shore of the river and the little girl taken to her home.

Betraying the Party.

The Federal constitution requires that all measures tending to the Tariff shall originate in the House of Representatives. Now the country is up against a Tariff measure originating with an illegal and unconstitutional Free-Trade Tariff board. A lot of professed Republicans are doing the party a greater harm than the Democrats were ever able to do. The only satisfaction is that in doing so, in assassinating the party, they are digging their official graves deep and wide. The men who followed Andrew Johnson in the betrayal of the party were never heard of again, and so it will be with the men who endorse the proposed betrayal of the party now.
