REHEARING REJECTED

Debs' Motion For New Trial Denied By Supreme Court

Washington, March 31.—Eugene V. Debs' application for a rehearing of his appeal from conviction and sentence to ten years' imprisonment for violating the espionage act was denied to-day by the Supreme Court.

By filing his motion for a rehearing Debs, who claimed the court's opinion amounted to the trial of a person for an undisclosed "state of mind," that he had been denied the privilege of showing his motive in making the speech for which he was convicted, and that the court had failed to decide all of the questions presented to it for review.

The prosecution resulted from statements made by Debs in a speech in Canton, O., last June. The Supreme Court affirmed the conviction on March 19.

Unless executive clemency is obtained Debs now must serve his sentence. He is at liberty on bail.

4TH OF JULY PICNIC.

A movement is being started here to hold an old time picnic at the fair grounds, July 4. If held the matter will be taken in charge by well known citizens, and will be held purely as an old time social affair, and not for the profit of any individual. Everybody will be expected to bring his dinner, and other necessities will be furnished by the management. Public speaking and other forms of entertainment will be arranged, and it is the purpose of those arranging the matter to have just such an old time picnic as our grandfathers enjoyed a half century ago.

The fishin' and lyin' season will soon be on us again.

Miss Tinsley went away for the day Wednesday, to attend the Y. M. C. A. meeting, and left orders to Wilber to plant taters. It was already late, she urged, and there was no immediate prospects of the river getting in fishing order, and the taters must be planted. As soon as the Missus was gone Tins hired a couple of colored boys to plant the tubers, and kept in constant communication with them by telephone, giving directions for the work. Late in the afternoon Miss Tinsley came into the office and apologized to me for keepin' Tins away to plant the taters. Tins was in the private office, and I was scared 'fraid she would hear his heart beatin'. Soon as she was gone he telephoned the colored fellers to skidde the garden at once whether they was done or not, and the good woman don't know yet that Tins didn't plant the taters.

If this convention business was to go on all the time I'd have to work with the front blinds drawn. It's up-a'll business tryin' to write with so many pritty girls passin' the office every few minutes.
....

Eck Rial knows all the ins and outs of teamin'. I saw him haulin' a hog the other day, with a trace chaffed aroun' it and his old gray horse hitched in front. That was one way to git it where he wanted it.

....
Me and Lee Riley discussed the multitudinous government taxes and we decided the tax on liquor was the only one that was worth the money.
....

I wrote a piece about the folks at Fordsville workin' the road, and only Ben Rice tole me about it. I printed it for what it's worth, if it's worth anything.

....
Neither a industrious man nor a lazy one will fish. It takes a triffin' man to set on the creek all day and wait for the fish to bite. The industrious man won't take the time and the lazy one won't do even fishin' work. Tinsley likes to fish.
