

ANTI-REED MEN TAKE NO ACTION

St. Louis, Mo., August 5.—Following a conference of anti-Reed Democrats today, it was said no action would be taken to pursue the reported movement to put an "Independent Democrat" in the field in an effort to defeat Senator James A. Reed for re-election.

First information that such a movement was afoot was made public by the St. Louis Post Dispatch today which stated Democrats hostile to Reed had held half a dozen conferences since Reed's nomination over Breckinridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state, was assured several days ago.

Long denied that he had taken any part or would take any part in such a move. At the same time he refused to comment on the outcome of Tuesday's primary, saying he was "sitting tight."

Virtually complete returns show Reed's lead to be approximately 6,000 votes.

Anti-Reed Democrats, at today's conference, discussed the advisability of putting an "Independent" in the race, but after deliberation it was decided to take no action in the interest of party harmony, it was said.

The local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which opposed Senator Reed today asked State Attorney General Barrett to make a statewide investigation of the Democratic senatorial primary, alleging some precinct officials had been derelict in their duty. Mr. Barrett declared any indications of fraud would be investigated thoroughly.

With R. R. Brewster, of Kansas City, a dry, the Republican candidate indications are that prohibition would be a principal issue in the Brewster-Reed race, as Reed is a known wet.

SARCASM.

A young doctor was summoned as a witness in a case that depended on technical evidence. The opposing counsel was inclined to be sarcastic at the idea of so young a doctor being called.

"You are familiar," he said, "with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes," said the youthful doctor.

"Then, if Mr. Smith and myself collided, and banged our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Smith might," replied the doctor.—Los Angeles Times.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping place, a well man."

GLACIERS AT THE EQUATOR

We do not usually think of glaciers in connection with "darkest Africa" or any other part of that continent, but according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, there are small glaciers on three of the highest mountains in Epsuatorial Africa—Mount Kilimanjaro, 19,321 feet high; Mount Ruwenzori, 16,800 feet high; and Mount Kenya, about 17,007 feet high. On Kebo Peak, which is a part of Mount Kilimanjaro, there is an ice cap 200 feet thick, which fills the ravines forming glaciers, several of which extend down to points 16,000 feet above sea level and one to 13,800 feet. Both Mount Ruwenzori and Mount Kenya are close to the equator, but their lowest glaciers extend down to points 12,700 and 14,466 feet, respectively, above sea level. A study of the moraines formed by these glaciers shows that during the Ice Age the glaciers were much larger than they are now.

MOSAIC REPLACES WILDFIRE AS ALARMING LEAF DISEASE

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 5.—Although injury to Kentucky tobacco from wildfire, one of the most dreaded tobacco diseases, has assumed minor proportions this year, another disease is appearing in many parts of the state to cause leaf growers the usual amount of alarm, according to W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The disease, which is mosaic and which is commonly known as "calico" or "Frenching" was found on an average of more than 15 per cent of the plants in 60 fields which recently were inspected while wildfire was found in only about eight per cent of the fields and then only in small amounts.

In some of the 60 fields inspected the percentage of plants that were being stunted by mosaic ran as high as 90 per cent while a considerable number of fields showed that from 35 to 50 per cent of the plants were being injured. In other fields, the disease was practically absent.

Wildfire may be present on more farms than the inspection showed but because of the long dry period has not shown up. On the other hand the injury from mosaic increases during periods of dry weather such as have been prevailing this summer. Wildfire is present in larger amounts in the dark tobacco district than it is in the burley section.

CAFETERIAS WILL OPEN FOR THOUSANDS OF HOGS

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 5.—During the coming months, thousands of Kentucky hogs that are to be fattened for fall markets will be turned into fields of corn or corn and soybeans grown together to "serve themselves" on the growing crops. Hogging off, as this process is commonly known, has become so popular as an economical method of producing pork in Kentucky that three times as much corn and soybeans will be hogged down this year as was the case last year, according to Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. The majority of farmers who obtained the top price for fat hogs last year started the hogging off process on their farms about August 15, he said.

CONDEMN ANATOLE

FRANCE'S BOOKS

By a decree of the Congregation of the Holy Office at Rome all the books of Anatole France, the great French writer, have been listed in the Index Expurgatorius. In some of his books M. France has frankly attacked the church; others have the appearance of having been written by a pious man. He was the winner of the last Nobel prize for literature and his books have a wide circulation in foreign countries. His writings are a subject of study in many American colleges.

FORD MAKES HIS OWN GLASS

The Ford Motor Co. is now making its own plate glass for windshields. By the application of Ford's principles of continuous production the manufacture of glass appears simple. The raw material becomes a molten mass in the furnaces, from where it is drawn in a semiliquid state and passed under rollers to give it width and thickness. From the time it leaves the furnace until it comes out a polished windshield the glass never ceases to move.

CURSING OR BLESSING?—Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord. —Jeremiah 17: 5, 7.

POWER OF THE WORD:—For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.—Hebrews 4: 12.

AN END TO WORRY:—Be careful for nothing but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.—Philippians 4: 6, 7.

HOW TO ESCAPE FROM EVIL:—Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Psalm 91: 9, 11.

THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN:—Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.—Malachi 3: 10.

REWARD OF HUMILITY:—Who-soever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbly himself shall be exalted.—Luke 14: 11.

But in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves and look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.—Philippians 2: 3, 4.

SUNBURN SPACE COMES
HIGH ON DUTCH BEACH

Scheveningen, Holland, Aug. 15.—Sunburn is being sold here at about 75 cents a burn.

A sandy part of the beach has been roped off, and admission is charged persons who wish to lie, semi-nude and bake themselves brown in the sun.

Those who can not afford genuine sunburn at this popular seaside resort may buy artificial sunburn in the form of a German dye, much used this summer to give youths and flappers that fashionable "healthy" complexion.

SIXTEEN-CENT SUITS SETTLED IN ENGLAND

London, Aug. 5.—Two lords have successfully sued their tenants for 16 cents, deducted from their rent on account of postage and check stamp rates.

Claiming that if all the 800 tenants deducted similar money from their rents a great loss would be sustained by them, Lord William Cecil and Lord John Cecil contended that it was the duty of debtors to bring money due to creditors. The judge decided in favor of the lords, declaring that stamps, check stamps, paper and envelopes should be provided by tenants.

POLICEMEN WILL ESCORT BALKY FRENCH VOTERS

Paris, Aug. 5.—The spectacle of an unwilling voter being escorted to the polls by two hefty policemen may be a common one next year in France if a law now before Parliament is voted, as seems probable.

The law specifies that absence from the polls on election day is a misdemeanor punishable by from one to fifteen days in prison, while persons whom the police have reason to believe have not voted can be compelled to do so.

In the event of a voter being unwilling to vote for any candidate he will be permitted to "vote blank."

FEARS THERE WILL BE NO SCHOOLS IN NEXT WORLD

Berkeley, Cal., Aug. 5.—The University of California boasts of having one of the oldest students ever enrolled in an institution of learning.

The student in question is Mrs. L. A. Patty, of this city, who, altho past 80 years of age, has for the past 21 years been attending lectures on the campus.

Mrs. Patty at the present time, is enrolled in the university summer session and attends classes with all the rest of a younger student. She has a code of "College Manners" all her own. She says:

"When I arrive after a lecturer has begun to talk, I stay out. No matter how 'dry' a lecture may be I never leave the classroom until it is over. If I don't enjoy it, perhaps someone else does.

"I am going to keep on going to colleges as long as I live. There may be no institutions of learning in the next world and I don't want to miss anything here. There are worse hobbies than education. It is too bad the 'learning hobby' does not possess the younger people. But, I find the old saying very true—even in my case—"One is never too old to learn."

POOR WOMAN HAD $13,000

When a strong box in a New York bank was opened it was found that Sidonia Vicat, lately an inmate of the city institution for the indigent, left bank deposits, diamonds and jewelry worth $13,000. It was revealed that years ago "Mme. Vicat" was an opera singer on the Metropolitan stage with Schumann Heink and other stars. She died in the state hospital last June.

CANDIDATE NEEDS DOOR-BELL

C. W. Carter, aspirant for congress in New York city, has brought his laundry into court to compel her to repair his worn-out door-bell. He says that he can't move, as the election law prescribes a fixed residence, and that he can't carry on an effective campaign unless his friends can come and ring his bell when they want to see him.

JAPAN PUTS FINAL O. K. ON WASHINGTON PACTS

Tokio, Aug. 5.—Crown Prince Hirohito, regent, today officially sanctioned the treaties to which Japan was a party at the Arms conference at Washington. This completes Japan's action on the treaties with the formal exchange of ratification at Washington.

WOMEN AS RABBIS

At the central conference of American rabbis at Cape May, N. J., recently, a resolution was passed advocating the ordination of women as rabbis. The question was declared to be a modern issue due to "revolutionary change in woman's status in this time."

ST. LOUIS WILL HAVE EXPENSIVE BIRD HOUSE

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5.—A nice steamheated birdhouse, costing $140,000 will be built to house birds at the St. Louis Zoological Gardens in this city. An artificial ice plant, to "fool" the Arctic bears, also will be constructed. Six Polar bears have been purchased to roam on the ice.

FIRST SWITCHBOARD GIRL

According to old records, Mrs. Margery M. Gray, of Torrington, Conn., was the first woman switchboard operator.

In the year 1887, she became operator at the Bridgeport, Connecticut Exchange, the first commercial exchange in the country and she served in that capacity for many years.

SNAKES WRECK AUTO

Between Goshen and Swanton, N. J., John Sapleton saw two large king snakes fighting in the road. While attempting to kill the reptiles by running his car over them they became entangled in the steering gear and before Sapleton realized what had happened the machine turned turtle. The snakes were reported nearly seven feet in length.

STOP ANTIJEWISH CONFERENCE

The Polish government stepped in to prevent the holding of an anti-Jewish conference which had been called at Wilno. This led to an outbreak on the part of the manifestants who attacked the police and some Jews. A number were injured and one person was killed. The police restored order.

NAME OF LINCOLN IS DEFENDED BY WRITER

"No man that ever lived was more led about as to his personal manners and purposes of life than Lincoln," the historian said in discounting the charges. "During the war he went with Seward and met the Confederate cabinet and challenged them to write whatever conditions of peace they desired, but nothing came of it."

Rankin professed ignorance of the reasons underlying the renewal of the charge at this time.

"However," he said, "it will not damage his memory, because it is a lie!"

Rankin is the author of "Personal Recollections of Lincoln." For years he has devoted his time to compiling incidents from the life of Lincoln, seldom stirring from a couch where he is confined by ill health.
