

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

W. L. TOWNES, Editor.

HOPKINSVILLE, JULY 8, 1879.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR, LUKE P. BLACKBURN, Of Jefferson County.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, JAMES E. CANTRELL, Of Scott County.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, P. W. HARDIN, Of Mercer County.

FOR AUDITOR, FAYETTE HEWITT, Of Hardin County.

FOR TREASURER, JAMES W. TATE, Of Franklin County.

SUPERINTENDENT PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, JOSEPH DESHA PICKETT, Of Fayette County.

FOR REGISTER OF LAND OFFICE, RALPH SHELDON, Of Nelson County.

For State Senator, DR. J. H. PREWITT, Of Hopkins County.

The life of the Democracy depends on Ohio. Whoo! la! Ohio.

The California Democrats had 0 to say in regard to the money question in their late convention.

Careful Democrats! Be not deceived! Do not pledge Democracy to top soft a platform, you might have to "eat crow" in '80. God grant that you may not.

Mr. Hayes, Mrs. Hayes, the younger and the cabinet took water on the 4th and slept on the heavy bosom of the vapory deep that night.

European demand for wheat promises to be stiff. The crop in Italy is said to be short, while it is true that the grass hopper and the drouth have damaged that of Russia.

The money plank in the Democratic platform just adopted in Maine is virtually for hard money.

Resolved, that we are in favor of a currency of gold and silver and paper, the paper to be kept at par with gold at all times, and are in favor of the free, unlimited coinage of silver.

Suppose Ewing is defeated in Ohio, then how about those "concessions" to the Greenbackers? In other words how hard or just how "soft" will the milk and water be thereafter?

Governor Hendricks is at Hot Springs, Arkansas, and refuses to talk on political affairs. It can not be that he seeks to heal the wound in his side from Mr. Watterson's thorn.

The weight of a newspaper's mail matter should be no criterion by which to judge its circulation. The paper's capacity to take water has much to do with its weight, in more respects than one.

Zack Chandler offered to the Government $100,000 to pay Marshall's fees, whereupon Michigan University immediately conferred L. L. D. on him "Lives of great men all remind us" that there is an uncommon amount of both intimately associated therewith.

The most, and almost only, sensible article ever published in the Burlington Haecke is its recent advice to aspiring young men. The article concludes:

Don't be afraid that your merit will not be discovered. People all over the world are looking for you, and if you are worth finding, they will find you. A diamond isn't so easily found as a quartz pebble, but people search for all the more eagerly.

By espousing the doctrine of our party we wrench our government from the control of the money power, who already affirm that before the people shall exercise control that the right of suffrage shall be taken from them at the point of the bayonet! -Extract from Dr. Pogue's circular.

Yes, very probable that a party having thirteen Congressmen and not a Senator can "wrench our government from the control of the money power" before the Democratic could, notwithstanding the fact it has already a majority in both houses of Congress! Very probable, we say very probable. "Tis true, n' gity 'tis; pity 'tis, 'tis true."

As long as political parties fail to condemn and discountenance prominent men and leaders for thievery just so long will our government be in danger. Babcock was shielded by the Republican party, after being justly condemned of complicity in the whisky ring. Robeson has been elected to a seat in Congress by the Republican party of New Jersey, after a known connection with frauds that robbed the public treasury of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In England public censure is so strong that no dishonest official can ever afterward be favorably regarded, and any attempt of his party to help him survive recoils on its head. There is a recent case in England where three noblemen, of high distinction and power were expelled from one of the best known and most aristocratic clubs of London for cheating at cards. So severe are the sentiments of foreigners against fraud, trickery and theft that even the titles of dukes and lords is no protection to such wicked perpetrators. This is well. It is a principle calculated to strengthen public honor, build up public confidence and purify public morals. The Republican party in this country should be taught this significant truth and be made to appreciate the force of his logic.

Ben. Butler's physician requires him to retire temporarily from business. Being blest with much money, Ben, can afford the luxury of a double back-acting, self-cooking, pocket physician, while yet poor editors are content if they can keep out of the hands of the constabulary cobblers.

It Ohio can not be carried for the Democracy on its present soft money platform how can the Democracy elect the President in 1880 on a soft money platform? With "concessions" to the Greenbackers New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania are sealed to the Republicans. Doubt this who will.

Let Democrats remember that they are DEMOCRATS. The great party of the COUNTRY is not so "soft," taken all and all as we are in this county. Should you conclude to vote for Fuqua, remember withal that you are still Democrats, and should our party be DRIVEN to the necessity of adopting a partially hard money platform in 1880 you should not feel that your vote for Fuqua has seduced you.

Remember that "while the lamp holds out to burn, the vessel 'neath it may return."

Judge Hargis.

The testimony of Judge Andrews is very damaging to Mr. Hargis. He swears that he signed Mr. Hargis's license in August, as claimed by Mr. Green. His testimony is substantiated by a gentleman from an adjoining county, who was at the Rowan circuit court at the time, and who has entries in his book in reference to matters of business which directly prove his presence there and the date of his presence. Judge Andrews is an old gentleman of the highest and purest type of character and enjoys the entire confidence and esteem of all men within his district. Mr. Hargis' friends claim that the Judge's testimony is nullified because he admitted at the end of his deposition, under a cross-examination, "that it was within the range of possibility that he could be mistaken as to the time of the signing of the license, but that his knowledge was as clear and distinct as any human information could be." It is very natural that a clear-headed, honest, upright gentleman should desire to be strictly accurate. It is human to be mistaken, and not desiring to eternally damn any man, especially one who has always been his friend, it is but natural that he should desire to give him all the advantages of human nature's weakness, with respect to memory. It speaks very badly for the Courier-Journal to endeavor to prejudice the public against the truth in the case. Why not allow the courts to settle the matter satisfactorily without endeavoring to thrust partisan judgment on the people.

The Greenbackers.

We think it unnecessary to make war on the Greenback party in order to "bolster" up the Democratic party. We have no quarrel to make with the Greenback party, but, at the same time, we are loathe to prove the Democratic party a political nonentity by any milk and water policy on our part. At this particular point in politics too vital are the interests of the Democratic party for our individuality to be trifled with. We are told that as soon as the Democrats nail on their National platform a soft money plank the Greenbackers will come and stand on it. Is this the case in Ohio now? Has not the Democratic party of that State just adopted a plank as soft as any consistent Democrat can stand on and did not the Greenbackers absolutely refuse to coalesce, although holding their convention on the evening of the same day? But we are told they have held another convention and coalesced with the Democrats. This is only remotely true, Sam Cary, Peter Cooper and a few other would-be leaders have since called a second convention, and that convention had a representation from only about twenty counties in the State. The Greenback party will be sorely crippled, we admit, by the adoption of a soft money platform on the part of the Democrats in 1880, but let us not think for an instant that it will be its death knell. The rapidity with which this party is strengthening in numbers is truly alarming. Not that it will ever gain possession of the Government, for that is absurd, but it will draw off just enough Democrats to defeat the Democratic nominee for President in 1880. It will continue to gain strength, so popular and deceptive is its doctrine of "easy times" to the feeble-minded soft-heads of our party. It will have another Presidential ticket in the field and then after destroying the hopes of the Democrats it will die. After the Republicans shall have regained possession of the Government and Grant shall have gathered around him his quota of arms and imperial power it will be too late for the Democrats to learn that they have misjudged the effects of this Greenback move. With Grant once again as President the American Republic will be a French Empire. Does it behoove us to be inactive? That's the question. Shall we, as Democrats, say that for fear we may offend the Greenbackers we will make no nominations? Or, shall we, by persistent effort to our political line, preserving our ranks unbroken, our organization complete, our individuality and numbers relate with manliness and power?

The Postmaster General has required all postmasters to make an actual count of the number of letters and postal cards and of packages of third and fourth class matter deposited for mailing at their post-offices upon the first seven days of September, and the Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service is directed to have a similar count made upon cars and steamboats for the same length of time.

letter to the Washington Post. From a cool, unbiased and logical standpoint these conclusions are inevitable: First, that if money will cause the leaders in the Greenback party to put out a ticket in 1880 the Republicans will see to it that the desired amount shall not be lacking. Second, that if they do make a nomination in 1880 and their strength continues to increase from now until then at the same ratio that it has in this county and in nearly every Western State, the Democratic nominee will be defeated. Third, that in case the National Democratic Convention adopts a soft money platform New York, New Jersey and Connecticut will go Republican. Fourth, that in the event either a hard or a soft money platform is adopted the Greenbackers will have a ticket in the field. Fifth, that in the event Foster, the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, defeats Ewing, the Democratic candidate for that office, then a hard money platform can be our only hope of success in 1880. Sixth, that if the Democrats all over the country are hereafter as lukewarm in the interests of their party as a few leaders in this county have recently proven themselves to be, then with a hard money platform in 1880 how many of these milk and water fellows will find themselves pledged to soft money and consequently to Greenbackism? It is within the reach of the Democrats to fairly elect a President in 1880, even as it did in 1876, without any favors asked at the hands of the Greenbackers. But if after electing the President the milk and water members of our party suffer the country to be cheated out of him by their spirit of dominant and damaging compromise it will only be in keeping with our present compromise, the determination to make no nomination for the Legislature in our county. We are charging nothing to the Democrats of this county, for they have not expressed themselves, nor have they been allowed a fair opportunity to express themselves, unless the convention called for June 28th can be regarded as a fair opportunity, and all know the pressing duties that retained farmers at their homes on that day.

Blue grass seed worth now 28 cents. Fat cattle are worth 4 1/2 cents in Bourbon. Hemp quoted at 5.50 and advancing in the Bluegrass.

Wheat worth 90 cents in Lexington. Why not that here.

The Buford trial was to have commenced yesterday at Owenton.

It is now thought that the Big Sandy road will be complete within 15 months.

The Midway Clipper reports the sale of a 2,500 bushel crop of barley at 65 cents per bushel.

Ducker's Station, Woodford county is said to have a citizen who hasn't combed his head for 20 years.

Six cents seems to be the ruling price paid per bushel for wheat threshing in upper Kentucky.

Geo. W. Bain's health was greatly improved by his trip to California. He has returned and in good time.

Major Humphrey Evans, editor of the American Short-horn Record, died at his home in Frankfort, last week.

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company employ thirty thousand men, and operate more than one thousand miles of railway.

Parties from New Jersey and other Eastern States are buying a large number of sheep in upper Kentucky. Mostly for breeding purposes.

Rev. H. A. M. Henderson has purchased property near Orlando, Florida, and will make it a winter home, if not a permanent residence for himself and family.

The tobacco war in Louisville seems to have been suddenly subdued. The Warehousemen have decided to allow no buyers in their houses save regular members of the board.

Lindsay Thomas, of Vanceburg, is afflicted with rheumatism, from which one of his legs has grown about one inch longer than the other. The leg that is afflicted is the one that has grown longest, and it is yet growing.

Careful estimates justify us in making the prediction that the wheat crop of Clark will be fully 100,000 bushels! -Clark Democrat.

Surely a mistake. Christian county will raise a million and a half bushels this year.

A celebrated bull case has taken up eight days of the Woodford Circuit Court. The animal was sold for $9,000 as a breeder, when proving impotent the amount was reclaimed by the purchaser. There were fifty witnesses. John G. Carlisle and other big game acting as attorneys. Carlisle gained the suit for plaintiff. The case will go to the Court of Appeals.

A respectable citizen of Louisville delivered himself up to the Police with the following remarks: I have come to deliver myself up to you, because I am afraid that I shall commit murder. I am either crazy or I am a murderer at heart. I love my wife and family as well as any man in the city, but sometimes when I look at them, I feel that I must kill them. I am afraid of myself, sir, afraid of myself."

The Postmaster General has required all postmasters to make an actual count of the number of letters and postal cards and of packages of third and fourth class matter deposited for mailing at their post-offices upon the first seven days of September, and the Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service is directed to have a similar count made upon cars and steamboats for the same length of time.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

Nails have advanced 10 cents per keg. Simpson county is building a new jail. A protracted drouth in portions of Texas. Hanlon has sailed for the United States. Congress adjourned on the first instant. France is said to be free of secret societies and conspiracies. Dr. Carver has concluded to shoot in Germany and Italy. The prospects brighten for an early cessation of the famine in Cashmere. A church in Massachusetts was burned by loyal fire crackers on the 4th. Secretary Schurz contemplates visiting the Indian agencies during the summer. Seven hundred horses have just been stolen from the Red Cloud Indian agency. Col. Masby thinks of returning from Hong Kong, China, with the Grant party. Three hundred and twenty new money order Post offices were established yesterday. Lieutenant McCanley has just committed suicide on account of heavy losses at faro in Augusta, Ga. It is formally announced that the business of the late Baron Rothschild will be carried on by his three sons. The wife of Gen. Grant has sent an invitation to the Princess Louise to visit her in Washington next winter. It is estimated that Kentuckians and Tennesseans together lost $65,000 on Janet, in the Chicago races last week. Hugh J. Glens was nominated by the Democrats of California for Governor. He is from Augusta county, Virginia. Attorney General Groves decides that Capt. Eads is entitled to $500,000 for the twenty-six-foot channel at the passes. Congressman Tucker, of Virginia, has another cataract on his other eye. The first was removed by a surgical operation. The receiver of the Louisville Commercial newspaper company commences the sale of that establishment July 15th. Prince Bismarck gave a public dinner on the 4th in honor of Dr. Andrew J. White the American Minister to Germany. The Senate confirmed the nominations of General Jas. B. Eads as chief engineer of the Mississippi River Commission. Owing to the dullness of trade and general feeling of insecurity, the industrial exhibition, contemplated for Moscow in 1880, is postponed one year. The New York Sun declares a semi-annual dividend of thirty per cent on its $350,000 capital stock. Sixty per cent, per annum is good earnings for any paper. The constitutional convention, of Louisiana allows the Legislature to grant license to lotteries, provided they pay $40,000 annually for the privilege. It is said that many of the Bonapartists are in favor of supporting Jerome Bonaparte Patterson, the American, for pretender to the Napoleonic succession. In the United States Court, William S. Gelson, convicted of the embezzlement of postoffice funds, was sentenced to confinement in jail one year and to pay a fine of $1,250. Henry Page set out to preach Mormonism in Georgia. He had made about one hundred converts and taken six wives, when he was arrested for bigamy. A dispatch from Madrid says that the Senate has passed a bill allowing the Senators elected in Cuba to take their seats without giving proof of their qualifications. The City Council, of Louisville, has repealed an order passed some time ago, submitting to a popular vote the question of selling the city's stock in the Louisville & Nashville railroad. From various causes 105 lives were lost on steamboats the past twelve months, against 212 the preceding twelve. During the past three months 312 lives were lost by accidents ashore; previous twelve months, 470. In 1875 the number of lives lost on steamboats was 607; in 1876, 394; in 1877, 224; in 1878, 212. The steady decline is attributed to the increasing efficiency of steamboat inspection.

Personal Agreement.

The undersigned, being candidates for Circuit Judge in election to be held in August, 1880, and being desirous of settling our claims so that one name only shall be presented from Christian, agree to open a poll at all the precincts at the coming August election, and that all persons may vote except those who vote for the Republican candidate for Governor.

It is further distinctly understood that this settlement is only made between ourselves, leaving the field to any other aspirant who may choose to contest the county with the successful candidate. And it is further agreed that we will not canvass the county or go out of town for the purpose of electioneering, or attend any public meetings or barbecues in the county, except by agreement of all of us. It being hereby intended that the people shall decide their choice calmly and deliberately, the one receiving the highest vote to be the candidate and the other two to be withdrawn their names. The vote at each precinct to be taken down by three persons, one to be selected by each of us, or by his friends; the poll books to be returned by them to S. J. Boyd, J. D. Hays and Sam. M. Gaines, and by them to be counted and the result declared, and their action to be final.

E. A. SYBERT, JNO. W. McPHERSON, G. A. CHAMPLIN, July 1st, 1879-Sw.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

TODD. (Register.) A tartrarin was found on the farm of S. H. Perkins a few days ago, with 1790 cut on his back. The crop prospect of Todd county is very flattering. The wheat crop has been harvested and is now being threshed. The corn crop bids fair to be a very fair one. In some portions of the county our farmers were not able to plant out their entire tobacco crop until the rains of last week, but with a good season and a late frost we may yet make a full crop of tobacco.

HOPKINS. (Times.) We are satisfied that a gang of horse thieves are operating in this section. John M. Cooley, our jailer, who has acted so badly of late, left for good last Sunday night. He resigned his position last week. This community breathes freer and easier now that he has left for good. He is the worst man we ever had in this county.

REPUBLICAN. All business houses were closed up in our town on yesterday afternoon in order to celebrate the ever glorious 4th. H. G. Sizemore, who attempted to put up a "wheel of fortune" at a negro picnic held near Slaughter'sville, was arrested and brought here. He had his trial before Judge Hall on Monday, and was found guilty, and sentenced to pay $500 in default of which he was returned to jail.

MULLENBERG. The McLean county fair will commence on October 14th, and continue five days. As two ladies, Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Wood, were coming to town last Monday, when crossing Pond creek bridge, the horse the former was riding became frightened and unmanageable, backing against the other and crowding it over the side of the bridge. Mrs. Wood was seriously bruised about the face and elsewhere by the fall, though not dangerously. The horse was also slightly hurt. It was a very narrow escape from death.

CALDWELL. (Banner.) There is a tree on the farm of Mr. Sam Craig that measures 120 feet from tip-end of the largest branch pointing Westward to the tip-end of the largest branch pointing Eastward.

TRIGO. The Democrat does not reach this office until Monday night, three days after publication.

FAIRVIEW. A. A. Kenner who has been afflicted with the sore eyes, returned home from Nashville last week where he had been under the treatment of Dr. Edwards, greatly improved.

Ben D. Eddins is having a new house built. What next, Ben, some one to occupy it for you? Rev. E. N. Dicken preached at the Cave Spring yesterday.

The fishing party returned from Pond River Friday. A sicker lot of boys one doesn't often see.

The farmers generally are busy threshing wheat. It is one of the best crops raised for years.

Dr. Thos. Lackey, of Woodburn, Ky., has located in our little village. We wish you much success doctor.

Rev. W. T. Moore preached a very interesting sermon at this place yesterday. Subject: The Identity of the Church.

Dr. H. W. Dudley is at his father's attending the bedside of his sister, who is very low with fever.

Miss Ella Cason, of Christian county, is visiting the family of Capt. M. D. Brown.

A certain young lady, of Hopkinsville, who has turned the head of at least one young man of our town, says that Fairview is a beautiful little town, consisting of a long Layne with the prettiest little Alle in the world. VIND.

LONG HOLLOW. Thinking a few items from this place would not be uninteresting to the readers of your journal, I will send you a few, which you will please publish, if you deem them worthy of space. Long Hollow is located in the southeast corner of Trig county, and is so called on account of a "long hollow" that indents the southeast corner of the section of country known as "Long Hollow."

There are two groceries and one cooper's shop in full blast in the Hollow at present. Farmers are done plowing corn. Tobacco is about "stuck."

A Lafayette girl told her lover recently that if he could catch her she might kiss her. She ran well till she got out of the sight of her mother and then "kissed in." This shows what a Lafayette girl will do when she is hard run.

Miss Minerva Wallace, of Stewart county Tenn., is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. David Dunn, our efficient and accommodating grocer, has become so corpulent that he is compelled to carry his protuberant stomach in a wheel barrow.

MARRIED-On Thursday, June 26, 1879, Mr. Manson Carr and Miss Rhoda Duncan were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. That is right. Multiply and replenish the earth, and dig and drain these bottom lands, which is a little more than Noah demanded at the hands of his progeny, but it is truly commendable.

As this is my first letter for the press, I will quit. CORNER.

A Havana letter says: The Cuban Government proposes asking Madrid to distribute at least 40,000 of the troops on the Island as field hands among the sugar plantations, at fixed wages to be paid by the planters under supervision of their officers. The measure is expected to secure tranquility and protect the estate during the period of the gradual emancipation of the slaves. The soldiery, thus getting accustomed to field work, would form a nucleus for free labor on the day slavery ceases.
