TAPPY ON A STICK.
The belles of Frankfort are not only beautiful, but are exquisitely beautiful. And so far we have only counted 250 of them!—Danville Tri-une.

"STRICTLY BUSINESS."
Correspondents are requested to confine themselves strictly to news. We have no room for free puff for business men. The rule of this paper is no one shall receive free puff unless he advertises in the paper. Terms reasonable.—State Journal.

WHY DIDN'T YOU MARRY ONE THEN.
Our friend Dr. J. A. Akin, of Princeton, is noted for saying the right thing at the right time. He is credited with saying: "That the biggest ambition of a Cadiz boy is to marry a Cadiz girl." Thank you Doctor.—Cadiz Telephone.

ADVICE THAT SHOULD BE HEARD.
"Thou shalt not kill" is one of the most important commands which God gave to the children of Israel from Sinai. We counsel the citizens of our Commonwealth to read it every morning before breakfast.—Danville Tribune.

"LAY ON MACDUFF."
"The Philistines are upon us. The battle of the giants has begun. There can be no neutrals in the impending crisis." All are enlisted for the war between Mammon and the Masses. Legalized extortion will die hard, but die it must.—Licking Valley Schercher.

WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN.
Postmaster Fagan showed us a letter yesterday that was addressed to his father on the 7th day of March, 1831. It was mailed in Texas, and addressed to some office in Middle Tenn., and forwarded to Fulton, reaching the last named office on the 12th inst. Thus it was detained in the mails 30 years, 9 months and 5 days, out came up at last.—Fulton Index.

CORRECTED QUOTATIONS.
Two weeks ago the Cocktail Editor of the Courier-Journal printed a warning wall to the effect that there were but 2,000,000 drinks of whiskey on hand in this State. The paragraph is still going carelessly and without change. Editors copying it are to note corrected quotations. The 1,640,000 people in Kentucky since that date averaging three drinks a day, have already reduced the amount by 9,840,000 drinks. This leaves but 2,080,410,000 drinks in the State, with a cold winter threatening us, and Christmas and New Year's to bull the average.—Louisville Commercial.

IN DEFENSE OF PETTIT.
The Louisville Post, speaking of Tom Pettit's appointment to the tally clerkship of the House, says: "Mr. Pettit was tally clerk at the last State Democratic convention, and unquestionably understands the details of his position." This is an insinuation about the methods of the nomination of Mr. Knott for Governor. Mr. Pettit was not tally clerk but the reading clerk in that convention. Mr. C. M. Meacham, of Hopkinsville, and Col. J. D. Powers, of this city, were the tally clerks, and statements published at the time by Hon. Isaac Caldwell, Mr. Pettit and Col. Powers, thoroughly explaining the whole matter, satisfied all fair-minded men. The Post is doubtless, only poking fun.—Owensboro Messenger.

NEAR CHURCH HILL.
December, 18, 1883.
By some mischance my last communication to the "S. K." failed to put in an appearance in due season, having no doubt in some mysterious and inexplicable way evaded the devil! (Printers devil, I mean of course.) I have after mature deliberation and consideration arrived at the conclusion that, as it contained a surplus of that commodity said to be relished occasionally by the wisest men, it had failed in its mission, found the editor in a serious vein, and by his stern behest had gone the way of condemned articles into the waste-basket. Since such was not the case, I arise and come again with the gleanings from this neighborhood.

The very pleasant Friday evening social reunions at the residence of Mrs. John Poard continue to be a source of enjoyment and recreation. Mrs. Poard is inimitable as a hostess, and to be one of the favored few is indeed an honor as well as a privilege to be appreciated.

That "Love laughs at lock Smith's" and defies the "stern parent" has recently been fully demonstrated in this neighborhood. The example had its effect and was not without its profit, but the arrangements of the "part" that endeavored to follow working on it for some time, he turned to me with a rueful face and said: "Abe, it won't make an ax, but it will make a clevis!" Next he again put it into the forge, and, having heated it as before, placed it on the anvil and striking it with his hammer, the sparks flew around smartly and all had to get out of the way of them. After a while he said to me: "Abe, I'm sorry to say it won't make a clevis, but it will answer for a bolt." He again introduced it into the fire, and after pounding it on the anvil and the sparks flying from it as before, and all present had to stand out of the way of them, he, with a most ingenuous expression of countenance, said to me: "Abe, it won't make a bolt, but there is one thing I am damned certain it will make," and having heated it again as highly as he could he plunged it in a bucket of water and exclaimed: "It'll make a big fizzle!" and it did.

EXCHANGE SCINTILLATIONS.

Webster says "seamster" is one who sews. Seamster is she should be called a sewing-machine.—State Journal.

Mr Tompkins is now a peer of the realm. He was the peer of any man in England before he was smitten upon the shoulder.—Yeoman.

About the only protection this country needs is against fraud English poets and lecturers. The tariff on such yarns ought to be very high.—State Journal.

The Japanese always take off their shoes before entering a house. This is an old American custom, but it is practiced only by married men in the "wee sma' hours."—Bismark Tribune.

"Do you ever gamble?" she asked, as they sat together, her hand in his. He replied: "No; but if I wanted to now would be my time." How so? "Because I hold a beautiful hand." The engagement is announced.—Elizabethtown News.

"I'll take whisky; what will you have, Fred?" said a man in a Main street saloon yesterday. "I don't feel like drinking," said Fred. The first speaker poured out a generous glass of whisky, drank half of it, and handed the rest to his friend, remarking, with a wry face, "there's something the matter with that stuff. Try it." Fred finished the liquor. The first speaker laid ten cents upon the bar, and they walked out. "That's a new game," remarked the bartender.—Bowling Green Times.

A "GOOD ONE" ON BARNUM.

Entreaties on science, or writers connected with agriculture, should avoid scientific terms as much as possible, or else explain them. A good story used to be told of P. T. Barnum, who, having attended an agricultural lecture where the speaker was very lavish in his praise of muriate of soda as a fertilizer, went in the morning and ordered several tons to be sent to his farm, which in due time was delivered. His farmer opened one of the sacks with the intention of applying it, and was not a little surprised with its familiar appearance, and, on tasting it, was satisfied that its appearance did not belie it, for it was common salt. He started for Mr. Barnum, and accosted him in the following manner: "Mr. Barnum, what did you say that stuff was that came yesterday?" "Muriate of soda!" "Muriate of soda!" said the farmer. "It's nothing but salt!" "Nonsense," said Mr. Barnum. "It is muriate of soda." "Mr. Barnum, come and see for yourself." He went, he saw and tasted it, and declared it to be the greatest fraud ever perpetrated. He started for the city, and went directly to the dealer from whom it was bought, and asked what the stuff was they had sent him. Their reply was, "Muriate of soda, as ordered." "It is a mistake, it is nothing but common salt." "Yes, for the first time, he learned that common salt and muriate of soda are one and the same thing.

The Trotters of 1883.

The standard time adjusters are not going to enjoy a monopoly of the time-conquering question. The trotting horse fanciers are assiduous in their unremitting efforts to get the time of trotting horses reduced. A recognized horse authority, the New York Sportsman, giving the result of the year, tells us that in 1883, 270 trotters have trotted in 2:30 or better. Twenty-six of these have trotted in 2:30 or better—namely, Bay Frank, 2:20; Bonita, 2:18 1/2; Duquesne, 2:17 1/2; Hinda Rose, 2:18 1/2; Majolica, 2:17; Mooloo, 2:27 1/2; Phallus, 2:15 1/2; Sleepy Joe, 2:19 1/2; Tony Newell, 2:19 1/2; Tucker, 2:19 1/2; Abbottsford, 2:18 1/2; Clemmie, 2:13; Director, 2:17; Fanny Witherspoon, 2:17; Forest Patchen, 2:19 1/2; George V., 2:20; Jay-Eye-See, 2:10 1/2; Joe Banker, 2:19 1/2; Maud Messenger, 2:20; Nellie B., 2:19 1/2; Phyllis, 2:17 1/2; Overman, 2:19 1/2; Robert McGregor, 2:17 1/2; J. B. Thomas, 2:18 1/2; and Wilson, 2:16 1/2. Sixty-seven pacers

NEW AMERICAN Sewing Machine No. 7,

Is The Best Machine Known!

Its high finish, its capacity and power to sew light and heavy fabrics without changing the tension, the arrangement to regulate the length of stitches, and many other improvements, make it the Favorite. We would mention the following points of merit: The simplicity of all its mechanical parts, the material used in its construction. It is entirely self-threading at all points, including the shuttle. The needle is self-setting. The bobbin can be filled with thread by means of the loose balance-wheel without running the machine.
