CONVALESCING.

Zeno Young Successfully Passes the Danger Line and is Rapidly Recovering.
GRATIFYING NEWS TO HIS FRIENDS.
The editor of the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN went to Madisonville the latter part of last week to see Zeno F. Young who was so badly hurt Wednesday by a fall from his window.
The account given Tuesday was substantially correct. He fell 28 feet and owes his life to the fact that he fell on the limbs of a small tree and the fearful fall was broken to some extent.
His wounds were pronounced fatal at first, but his strong constitution pulled him through and we found him gradually improving and so left him last Saturday.
We received information yesterday by mail that he was able to sit up in an invalid's chair and read his exchanges. He is cheerful and in high spirits at the prospect of an early recovery. His doctors pronounce him out of danger. A closer examination showed that only one rib was broken and his leg was badly bruised but not fractured. His jaw bone was broken under his chin and on the side and it is his worst injury.
His appetite has returned and he even craves a chew of tobacco occasionally. His rapid recovery is truly wonderful.

TRENTON, KY.

JUNE 28, 1884.
How do you envy the girl with the Mother Hubbard dress on. She is cool no matter how hot we are sometimes we wish we were a real pretty girl then we could wear Mother Hubbards and the boys would set up the ice cream.
Mr. D. S. Ford is our city assessor. We gave in our list yesterday. One white dog and a plug hat. We wish it understood that when we go visiting we wear something else besides the dog and hat.
Miss Addie Yost has returned from a very pleasant visit to friends in Allensville, Ky.
Prof. D. W. Vineyard left the 26th to visit his daughter, Mrs. Vance Holt, in the upper part of this state.
Mrs. H. R. Dickson, of Christian county, is visiting friends in this city.
Miss Mamie Rust, a charming young lady of your city, is visiting her friend, Miss Lellie McElwain, one mile west of this city.
Mr. Geo. Handle, of Sadlersville, Tenn., visited friends and relatives in this city, last week.
Miss Katie Yost made a short visit to friends in Guthrie, last week.
Mrs. Willie Garth, of St. Louis, Mo., is visiting her brother, W. C. Garth, at Oak Hill Stock Farm.
Rev. G. R. Browder, of Olmstead, spent last Thursday in this place.
Dr. Henry Maynard, of this city, contemplates committing matrimony soon. The Doctor is very much admired by the fair sex and well he may be for he's not a daisy but a dandy lion (dandelion).
A doctor, a druggist and an undertaker called on three young ladies one night last week. Things looked pretty solemn for the young ladies. The young men didn't discuss any medical or grave subject, still the young ladies were uneasy.
S. B. Hallock, of Chicago, has grown tired of that slow town and proposes to spend the summer in this city where things are lively. Stay with us S. B. and we will make it warm for you.
G. W. Dawson, of Falmouth Ky., has commenced the manufacture of Bed springs in this city. Give us plenty of beds with good springs and we won't care how hot it gets.
Col. Thomas Loyely Porter, of the Governor's staff came to town one day last week. The Col. is all wool and a yard wide.
Robt. Moody, Jr., returned from Louisville last week where he has been attending school.
Quite a large number of our people attended the Circle Meeting, at Guthrie, Sunday.
Invitations are out for a moonlight picnic to be given this evening at the residence of Squire Willis, three miles north of this city.
Every body is cutting wheat and the town is very dull.
The literary club meets at the City Hall. Recitations and essays will be the order of the day.
The farmers are having their engines overhauled preparatory to threshing the golden grain.
A bridal couple from Clarksville stopped at Hord's Hotel Wednesday night. They were on their way to Fairview. Unable to learn their names.
Miss Mollie Center and mother left last week to visit friends and relatives in East Tennessee.
Meagre reports of a difficulty have just reached us which occurred at Oakwood stock farm, six miles South of this city, June 27. Mr. Will Clements rents this farm and had Mr. W. J. Taylor cropping for him. Yesterday morning Mr. Taylor came over to plow some corn on the place and hitched his mule to the fence having some other business on hand at that time. The mule broke loose and commenced eating Clements's wheat. Words ensued between the gentleman and blows were passed. Mr. Clements grabbed Taylor around the neck and fired five shots at him. One shot struck him in the ear and another in the neck. Can't tell whether shots will be fatal or not. A negro man and small boy were the only witnesses. The difficulty occurred only a few yards from the state line. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Clements. Both parties are highly respectable and good citizens.
ERN.

Mr. J. F. Reynolds has succeeded in working up the Telephone Exchange here and it now has 37 conspicuous and several others will be added in a few days. The Exchange office has been re-papered and fixed up in handsome style. Mr. J. E. Chippiefield, of Maysville, Ky., will be here this week to take charge of the exchange and he will keep it on a good basis. There ought to be more residences in the exchange. Clarksville, a small or city then ours, has 28 residences connected with Hopkinsville has but 3, so far. Mr. Reynolds has arranged a club rate for residences at only $7.50 per quarter where there all six on the same line and at this price there ought to be a large number of residences supplied with telephones. We hope to see the number of subscribers increased to 50 or more in a short while.
St. Louis was chosen as the place of the next meeting. At the banquet Prof. A. C. Cowperthwaite, of Iowa, acted as toastmaster.
