CREAM OF NEWS.

Struck By Lightning.
Lightning struck a fence by the roadside near Herndon Friday and several gentlemen who were passing had a very close call. W. N. Taylor was driving a four mule team and the shock knocked down the mule he was riding and dazed him so that he fell off into the mud. The mules became frightened and one of them turned back and got tangled between the wheel mules in its efforts to run off. Mr. Jno. R. Dickerson was driving a team just behind and his mules were so scared that Mr. Dickerson was thrown out and narrowly escaped being run over. P. D. Moss and Jake Sherrill were also along. All of the parties were more or less shocked but not seriously injured.
The Neko Murderer Captured.
Henry Perkins, the negro who killed Richard Green, at Neco, Sunday, was captured Tuesday night at Earlington, by Messrs. J. J. Barnett, Dick Rodgers, James Head and Ed Wise. He had hid in a coal mine and the parties who were in search of him while watching saw the murderer and three others come out. Perkins is a yellow fellow, but he had blacked his face until he was as black as any of the crowd he was with. The prisoner was brought to town and lodged in jail. He will have his examining trial soon, but no doubt be held without bail as it was a cold-blooded affair. Henry Perkins stands a good chance to get his neck stretched.—Hustler.

Eight Teachers Elected.

The Public School Board of Trustees met Friday night to select teachers for the next year. Prof. C. H. Dietrich was again re-elected for the ninth time. The following eight teachers were also re-elected: Mrs. Emily McKenzie, Mrs. Rosa Braunham, Misses Katie McDaniel, Susie Rutherford, Willie Padan, Hattie Dietrich, Lelia Mills and Nora Stark. The election of the other teachers—five in number—was postponed two weeks. There are a large number of candidates, including all of those who taught last session.

Beard a Non-Resident.

B. F. Beard, the man appointed postmaster at Pembroke, is a traveling insurance agent of Simpson county, Ky., who stopped a while at Pembroke some time ago. He is not a citizen of the town or the county, and the people are kicking vigorously against a "carpet-bag postmaster," as they call him. The town has never had a Republican postmaster before, as there were none in the place competent to fill the office and in this case it seems one had to be imported. The office pays from $400 to $600.

Hook and Ladder Company.

Messrs. Forbes & Bro. have finished a hook and ladder outfit for the city and a company will shortly be organized to assist the fire department. This is something long needed, and the cost of equipping and maintaining a hook and ladder company is so little that it is strange the matter has never attracted the attention of past Councils. The ladders are 48 feet long and the whole outfit costs but $40, while a company can be kept up for about $240 a year.

Asylum Superintendents Meet.

Dr. W. B. Stone, Superintendent of the W. K. L. A., left Friday for Newport, Ky., to attend the Association of Medical Superintendents for the United States and Canada. There are about 125 members of this body, most of whom are expected to be present. The meeting will continue in session for about a week and after its adjournment Dr. Stone will visit several other asylums and return home about July 1st.

Another Probable Candidate.

The pressure brought to bear upon Eq. John W. McLaughley, by the farmers of the county, has been so great that he has about concluded to submit his claims to his party as a Democratic candidate for the Legislature. The County Committee will name the candidate Wednesday, July 3.

Acquitted.

Jim Buckner, colored, who was charged with rape, had his examining trial before Judge Winfree Friday, and was released, the proof being only circumstantial and not sufficient to hold him over.

DUMMY ON THE RAMPAPE.

Parker McGomba Makes a Murderous Entrance into Mrs. Gant's House.
Parker McGomba, the big deaf and dumb mutt who for several years driven the sprinkler, gotten on the war path Friday night and is now in jail on a charge of breaking into a house with the intention of committing a felony.
After midnight Friday night Klity Long, Mrs. J. K. Gant's cook, heard some one trying to get into her house on Mrs. Gant's premises. In the room with her was a young colored girl named Rosa Morgan, a daughter of Peter Morgan, one of the most respectable colored men in the county. The intruder finally entered an adjoining room by raising a window and began trying to force open the door to her room. The cook held the door as best she could while the girl jumped from the window and ran to the house to get help. Messrs. Geo. Gant, Nat Gaither and O. A. Wynne, who boards with Mrs. Gant, heard the alarm and responded as quickly as possible. In the meantime "dummy" had battered down the cook's door with a large rock, but as it gave way he saw the girl running to the house and gave pursuit. She barely time to get in as Mr. Gaither opened the door, when the infuriated brute grabbed at her and then began to batter down the door when he found himself foiled in his design. While Mr. Gant ran to a neighbor's to borrow a pistol, Mr. Gaither and Mr. Wynne attempted to keep him out as best they could. McGomba battered down one door with a four pole and was at work on another when Mr. Gant returned with a pistol which he suspended twice at the intruder, who then turned and fled. The men in the house and several others who had arrived pursued him and two or three shots were fired at him without effect, as he was some distance away in the darkness. He was finally brought to a halt near the railroad and held at bay until the police, who had heard the screams of the women and started on the street, arrived and took him in charge. McGomba is a dangerous and at times a very vicious character. A few years ago he murdered a colored man named Foster, shooting him in the back several times without any provocation. He ought to have been hanged for this, but a sentimental jury acquitted him. Since that time he has had periodical spells and has more than once smashed in windows and doors in his fits of rage. McGomba's mother has employed Messrs. Stites and Bell to defend him and he will attempt to prove an alibi. This is not possible, however, as he was recognized by half a dozen witnesses who know him, was pursued and captured, and while in the yard dropped a bundle which Mr. Frankel identifies as one he sold him late that evening.

A Mecca For Patriots.

Hopkinsville is now an attractive city for various and sundry patriots of the Republican persuasion. So many of them began to bear down upon the city and more especially upon the new Collector, Mr. Feland, last week, that that gentleman was forced to take to the woods and leave "Young John" to wrestle with the hungry horde. There have been ten or fifteen personal applications for places every day since Mr. Feland's appointment was announced, to say nothing of the hundred or more that have come by mail. About thirty of the applicants live in this county and all others are represented in the list. There are 35 counties in the district and something over 100 places to fill. Each county will probably have enough candidates to fill all the places, so it will be seen that Mr. Feland will have a pleasant duty to perform in making his appointments.

The new Collector is quoted as saying that he will appoint none but "sober, discreet men who are representative Republicans," and that each county will be given a fair proportion.

A DESPERATE FIGHT.

A Young Man Shot in a Fight With Two Negroes.
A fight occurred near Oak Grove one day last week between a white man named Wm. Ernest and two negroes named Dave and Chas. Broadie. Ernest is a young man about 23 years old, who lives at Luther Hamsey's in Hindsleytown. He was driving a loaded wagon along the pike accompanied by Mr. Ramsey's young son, Charlie, when the negroes appeared and asked to be allowed to ride. He told them he was heavily loaded and could not let them ride. They then began to abuse him and Ernest jumped down and picked up a rock, which he threw at one of them. The negroes drew pistols but Ernest opened his knife and ran them away without any shots being fired. Having reached the road turning to the mill, where the wagon was going, Ernest put the Ramsey boy in charge of the wagon and he started across a field to Hindsleytown on foot. The negroes who had left making threats followed him and overtook him in a skirt of timber, where they renewed the quarrel again drawing pistols. Ernest drew his knife to defend himself, when one of them shot him in the leg and continued to fire as Ernest advanced until his pistol was empty. The other negro then opened fire from the rear and shot five times, one shot striking Ernest in the arm and disabling him. The negroes then fled. Ernest was not seriously wounded and is up and about at this writing. The Broadies escaped into Tennessee and are still at large.

Attacked by this most fatal disease he has been unable to get any relief from the most celebrated medical authorities, and he has been obliged to try this medicine, which he has found to be a true and reliable cure. It is sold by Dr. H. M. Moxley, 40c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Druggists. A Pleasant Master-Worker. After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, constipation, headache and general debility, I have been cured by Dr. Moxley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man.
