

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor. TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1889.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

THE "ARRANGEMENT" BETWEEN THE editors of the Elizabethtown Independent and State Senator D. L. May, since the facts have been made public, turns out to have been a disgraceful affair and a very corrupt "sell-out," issued on a contract in writing. Nor is this all, Editor Stovall jocularly admits in his paper that he has lied in some of his statements about the matter. This after the phrase of affairs, and whatever has heretofore appeared in these columns that may have been constructed into a defence of Stovall is hereby "expunged from the record." There is a wide difference between this sort of business and inserting reading locals at so much a line.

The committee investigating the West Virginia gubernatorial vote found a large number of fraudulent votes cast for Goffin Mercer, one of the candidates on the Virginia line. In one precinct 78 negro votes were thrown out, because they were proven to have voted in Virginia the same day, and in another precinct 40 more were found who were registered voters in Virginia. These votes were also thrown out. Fleming, the Democratic candidate, is now 140 votes ahead and will undoubtedly be declared elected Governor. As soon as the work is done the Legislature will be convened to receive the Committee's report.

Corporal Tanner caused a boat of indignation to be raised by fixing a price upon the virtue of soldiers' widows, in making the following statement in a speech at Milwaukee, during the G. A. R. meeting: "I tell you, comrades, this $12 a month, small as it may seem, will often preserve the virtue of some dead comrade's widow." His whole speech was ordered to be expunged from the records, but the ubiquitous reporter was on hand and took it down.

There are 43 Presidential postmasters in Kentucky, and thirty-four of them are Democrats, all of whom will hold office until their terms expire. Those in this section are Owensboro, which expires December 5; Henderson, November 2; Hopkinsville, July 2, 1890; Princeton, October 5, 1889. The Republicans have in applications for every one of the offices and in many places are retreating before the delay.—Owensboro Messenger.

The long-delayed returns from Breathitt county are in at last and Sharp's official majority is 83,523. The total vote was, Sharp 148,081, Colson, 115,150, Cobb, 3,050. Compared with the vote of last year, the result shows that 35,000 Democrats and 40,000 Republicans staid away from the polls.

Ex-Judge A. M. Pulliam, who killed Jas. Miller at Hardinsburg, and was tried last weekend and sentenced to 15 years, accepted the verdict without dilatory motions and was taken to the penitentiary Friday. Seven of the jurors wanted to hang him.

A Congress composed of delegates from the various countries of North, Central and South America, will assemble at Washington next month. The body will visit Louisville Nov. 1 and will make an excursion to Mammoth Cave while in Kentucky.

Wm. Black Montgomery, a son of Judge James Montgomery, has passed a competitive examination and been appointed to the U. S. Naval Cadetship by his uncle, Congressman A. B. Montgomery, of the Fourth District.

A second election to vote aid to the Henderson Sta Line railroad was held in Henderson yesterday.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo. Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every cure of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. '89.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

THE CRAFT. The Grayson Republican is dead. J. W. Miller has been the publication of the Democrat at Ashland.

W. G. Oysterree, who recently started the Springfield, Ky., News, has sold out to J. N. Saunders.

The Cadetsburg Democrat, whose editor was an Indian agent under the last administration, has come out strong for Cleveland in 1892.

The most sensible course for the editors of the Frankfort Capitol and Richmond Times to pursue is to drop the controversy over the executive committee of the K. P. A.

The editors of the News and Democrat, the rival papers of Lawrenceburg, are amusing themselves and disgusting their readers by trying to bluff each other with bets on their respective circulations.

The Jessamine Journal man while discussing the subject of flannel shirts with the Georgetown Times, should be careful and not put his foot in it. Maybe he is disagreeing with somebody who doesn't wear 'em.

Thomas H. Corbin.

One of Christian County's substantial men and loyal citizens, died at his home on the Clarksville pike Friday evening, August 16th, 1889, at 7 o'clock. Mr. Corbin was born in Warren county, Ky., Oct. 31st, 1826, came to Christian Co. when a boy of fifteen, worked on the farm and went to school alternately until grown, making his home most of the time with Davenport Jones, father of Mr. Loden Jones; Carter L. Reshaw, and later with Mr. B. S. Campbell. Married Henrietta H. Caldwell May 10th, 1856, who bore him two children: Ermie, wife of J. V. Van Cleave, and a son, the latter dying in infancy. In January, 1860, his loving wife crossed the last river and left him to raise their only child. How well and faithfully he cared for little Ermie, by tolling through heat and cold to provide for her every want and give her a liberal education needs no witness, other than the loving and sorrowing daughter, now the mother of three beautiful children who were the pets and idols of their grandpa. The writer has known Mr. Corbin intimately since he came to the county in 1840. He was my friend for forty-nine years, and he was as true in his friendship as the needle to the pole. So strong were the ties that bound him to his neighbors and friends, that strong men when looking for the last time upon his lifeless form, bowed down and wept as children when a loving parent is being laid down to rest.

We do not claim perfection for our departed friend. There is none that doeth good and sinneth not, and he doubtless had such faults and imperfections as are the common property of a fallen race. Yet they were as dress to fine gold in contrast with his many virtues and noble traits of character.

Mr. Corbin was a quiet, modest man, a man of few words, but was ever ready for action when duty called. He was a brave man, for none but the brave stand for the right to condemn the wrong. More, he was a man of clean lips. No unchaste or impure words were uttered by him. He was a charitable and forgiving man. No viper nestled in his breast. He was an industrious, thoughtful, and intelligent farmer, hence a prosperous man, leaving a handsome landed estate for those whom he loved, and for whom he toiled. And last of all he was a Christian man, fearing God, and keeping his commandments. In early life, he united with the Christian Church, was a regular attendant at God's house, died in the faith and rests from his labors.

Let us who knew and loved him keep his memory green in our hearts, and emulate his many sterling qualities and Christian virtues, and it will not be long until our departed friend will greet us on the banks of the river of life. Until then, friend of my boyhood, young manhood and old age, farewell.

To Dispel Colds, Headaches and Fevers, to cleanse the system effectually, yet gently, when colds or biliousness, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently cure habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, use Syrup of Figs.

Drawing Water From the Nile. Now, I will try to explain the process of drawing water from the Nile. First there are from two to six peasants located on the bank of the river, their number depending on the height of the bank. The first man raises the water in a bucket from ten to fifteen feet and empties it into a ditch previously cut and the water runs usually twenty feet to the end, where there is a depression or artificial well large enough to accommodate the bucket of the second man above, who also raises the water in the same way as No. 1. In the case of No. 2 the ditch may run along the side of the bank some distance to the well-hole of No. 3, who raises as previously represented to the fourth, and so on to the top of the bank, where it is conducted in small ditches over a large tract of country. They have this to console them: That if they give the land water it will repay in an abundant harvest of from eighteen to twenty-five bushels of grain to the acre. I was permitted to see the crops, so uniform in growth and color that I can say a spot could be found in fifty acres of wheat, barley, millet, or white clover, which grows to the height of two or even three feet.—Cor. Buffalo Express.

General Sherman was once a patient of Dr. Bliss, who died the other day in Washington. The doctor had been treating him for some time for some slight but troublesome disorder and had given him several different kinds of medicine, when one day on making his regular call the General said to him: "Doctor, I don't seem to be getting any better for all of your medicine." "Well, General," replied the doctor jocosely, "perhaps you had better take Shakespeare's advice and 'throw physic to the dogs.'" "I would, doctor," replied the sick man as he turned his head on the pillow, "I would, but there are a number of valuable dogs in the neighborhood and I don't want to kill 'em off."

At High Ridge, near Stamford, Conn., there is a wife who is the mother of fourteen children, all living, and none of them twins. All but two live at home, and those two, catching the scarlet fever, went home to be nursed. They gave it to the other dozen, and the whole fourteen were sick at once, and medicine had to be mixed in pitchers and bread pans.

Sells Brags, Against the Field. In the race for first money among circusmen, Sells Brothers will win, hands down. They have demonstrated the fact that the best attractions always are the most profitable to the management, and while the other would-be big shows have been shrinking in size year after year Sells Brothers' show has been expanding. "I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for seven or eight years. Whenever I have an attack of headache, to which I am very subject, I take a dose of Ayer's Pills and always find them beneficial in colds; and, in my family, they are used for bilious complaints and other disturbances with such good effect that we rarely, if ever, employ a physician."—H.
