

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

THEO. E. BARTLEY, Business Manager. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1889.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

W. M. Campbell, of Louisville, is visiting relatives near the city. Miss E. L. Carter, of South Christian, is visiting Mrs. V. M. Metcalfe. Mrs. J. R. Hill and Mrs. J. J. Gaines, of Montgomery, are visiting Mrs. N. D. Green.

CREAM OF NEWS.

A Series of Petty Thefts. A sneak thief entered Mr. J. E. McPherson's hall on Monday night before bedtime and stole Mr. McPherson's overcoat from the rack. Dr. B. W. Stone, who was making a social call, also had his hat stolen at the same time. On Tuesday night the residence of J. B. West on the corner of Sixth and Liberty streets was entered and Mr. West's pockets rifled and a few dollars in change taken.

Citizens' Progressive Ticket. A public meeting to name a Council ticket was held last Friday night, which was largely attended by citizens interested in the good government and material advancement of Hopkinsville. The following gentlemen were nominated for Councilmen and have consented to the use of their names: Geo. O. Thompson, M. C. Forbes, W. T. Radford, F. W. Dabney, F. F. Henderson, I. T. Brasler, Henry C. Gant.

A Bull Dog in a China Shop. Last Monday night a dog was fastened up in Hooper & Ballard's store when the house was closed for the night by the clerk in charge. It is not known how he happened to be overlooked. Before morning the prisoner began to pine for liberty and in his frantic efforts to break through the show window a general wreck was made of whatever could be broken. Fine lamps, china sets, hand-painted vases, tableware and various kinds of glassware and crockery were knocked down and utterly destroyed.

The Out Was Fatal. Mention was made Tuesday of an attempt made Monday by a patient at the Asylum to commit suicide with a case-knife taken from the breakfast table. The cut on his throat was not thought to be dangerous, but the man, whose name was W. F. Walker, lost so much blood from the wound that he died on the following day. His brother came and took the body to Fulton county on Wednesday.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Jarvis H. B. Ferrill excused and B. Marquet put on the panel. Mrs. Mary Keel vs. Mrs. P. J. (Co.) Johnson, damage suit for $6,000, for slander. Suit filed October, 1888. Bush and Breathitt for plaintiff, Stiles for defendant. Verdict of $1,800 damages for Mrs. Keel. D. T. Brown, foreman of jury. The court set aside the verdict and granted a new trial upon the ground of excessive judgment, refusing an offer of the plaintiff's attorneys to abate it to $750. The damage case of Legato vs. Rutland for $10,000 for false imprisonment was argued Wednesday and given to the jury yesterday. Verdict of one cent and costs for plaintiff. J. E. Baker's adm'r vs. L. & N. R. Co. for $50,000. Verdict for defendant.

HERE AND THERE.

Dr. Seagen's office over City Bank County Medical Society meets Monday. Wanted, a good harness horse for family use, John Biles. The trial of Elijah Ricketts was postponed until next Monday. Buy goods of 5-McGehee Bros.—4 Clarksville, Tenn., and save money. Robt. M. Woodruff, livery and sale stable, Fritz' stand. Telephone 144. The Methodist ladies gave an oyster supper at the Court House last night. Headquarters for city transfer is still at Jas. G. Ellis' livery stable, W. S. Davison. Prof. S. L. Frogge, of Lafayette, will be a Democratic candidate for County School Superintendent. Mr. Alex Gilliland has bought out Polk Casaler's interest in the lime making firm of Casaler & Connell. The Democratic candidates of Trigg are announced to speak at Cerulean Springs on Saturday, the 23rd inst.

Remember the display of bouquets at Konetzka's jewelry store to-day. Handsome premiums will be given for the three prettiest bouquets. Jas. Q. McGehee, merchant at Montgomery, shipped a lot of hogs to Louisville Tuesday. One among the number weighed 595 pounds. J. A. Konetzka has just received a large and very handsome Mosler safe, properly shelved and lined for depositing fine jewelry and other valuables. The 29th semi-annual meeting of the McDowell Medical Society was held in Henderson this week. At night the doctors partook of a possum supper at Dr. Dixon's.

J. D. Good, of Bainbridge, recently circulating cards announcing himself a Democratic candidate for jailer, has torn them up and now calls himself an independent candidate. The Superior Court has reversed the case of the L. & N. Railroad vs. Vaughan, appealed from Christian Circuit Court. This is the mule killing case of W. T. Vaughan. There have been no arrests made by the police since our Tuesday's report and things in their line are remarkably quiet. Only 11 arrests have been made this month, against 24 for a like period last month. Rev. J. G. Kendall, pastor of Locust Grove church, was very pleasantly remembered by his congregation last week with a wagon load of family supplies. The protracted meeting closed Thursday. There were 8 additions.

Mr. G. W. Shaw, of Fairview, has moved to the city to live and is occupying the cottage on Campbell street, which he purchased from Mr. H. E. Wiley two years ago. Mr. Shaw is adding several new rooms to his house and Mr. Sam Egles will live with him. In district No. 1, of Montgomery county, Tenn., a colored woman, living on the farm of Clarence Dunn, left home leaving three children alone in the cabin. During her absence the house caught fire and the children were burned to death. Their charred remains were raked from the ashes. Mr. C. M. Latham received from the east last week a live horse shoe crab. It was kept several days in a tub of salt water and was quite a curiosity to those who had never been to the seashore. It was killed this week and the horse-shoe shaped shell can still be seen at Mr. Latham's store. It is as large around as the crown of a man's hat.

J. H. Durando and D. Galbreath had an altercation Tuesday evening in front of the former's store. According to Durando's statements, Galbreath had been to his store several times during the day and had used insulting and abusive language to him. Finally he got tired of it and pummeled Galbreath severely with his fists. L. H. McKee interfered and separated them. The frequent comments on the entertainment the 79th inst. shows an interest that is rarely expressed by the public, which encourages the participants, causing them to double their efforts to make the affair more novel than ever. Among the specialties is a "banjo duel," rendered exceptionally well by Messrs. Lindsay and Jones, but their original force entitled "Street Ventriquist" is played with distinct humor and ability. These with other specialties, which will be announced from time to time, should be particularly noted, and that they may serve to stimulate our people to patronize the entertainment is the united wish of the entire troupe, but especially our "fire boys," for whose benefit this entertainment is given.

Catalogue Free. We have lately received a copy of the Twenty-fifth Annual Catalogue of the Louisville, Ky., Bryant & Stratton Business College. It is a magnificent work of art and one of the most complete catalogues ever issued by any college. All young people who desire to obtain a practical business education, or take a course in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, telegraphy or penmanship, will do well to write to the college. Graduates of this college are very successful, and they can be found in good positions throughout the country.

OF INTEREST TO LADIES.—The scalp may be kept white and clean, and the hair soft, pliant, and glossy, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation never fails to restore to faded and grey hair its original color. Sold by druggists and perfumers.

CALLED BACK.

Jas. O. A. Smith Captured at Murfreesboro, Tenn. Brought Back to Todd County. Jas. O. A. Smith, the murderer of Marshal W. T. Williams at Trenton, was captured at Murfreesboro, Tenn., last Monday and is now in jail at Elkton.

W. G. Patterson, who formerly lived in Todd county, now resides near Hampton's Station, where Smith has a brother-in-law named Kirk. Kirk has lately been receiving letters postmarked "Murfreesboro" and Patterson arranged with the postmaster to watch Kirk's correspondence. On Friday Kirk mailed a letter to "Joe A. Alexander, Murfreesboro, Tenn.," and Patterson at once concluded that he had located his man. He started for that point at once and went to the Murfreesboro postoffice Saturday and waited for the letter to be called for. During the day a negro called for the letter and the postmaster called Patterson, who was in the back room. The negro was questioned and readily gave the information that "Mr. Alexander" was at work on a dairy farm three miles from town and had been there two or three weeks. His description fitted Smith so well that Patterson was satisfied he was the man wanted. In company with the Sheriff, Patterson went to the farm and found Smith milking cows. He was arrested without trouble and readily agreed to return to Kentucky without requisition papers. His pistol was at the house. Smith claimed that he had decided to return to Kentucky and give himself up on Saturday, the 16th inst. He talked freely on the way to Elkton and stated that the officers pursuing him were some time within 25 steps of him, while he was hiding in a corn field near Hampton's.

Patterson turned him over to the Todd authorities Monday night and got the $450 reward offered by the citizens of Trenton and Pembroke. Smith is very uneasy and for the first night or two he prevailed upon the sheriff to take him to his home and guard him, fearing a lynching party. He has engaged counsel and will plead self defense. The lawyers will also make the point that Williams had not given bond as marshal and was not an officer. This defense will be a very lame one and the chances are that Smith will be hanged.

Christian County Pomona Grange. Owing to the inclemency of the weather and small attendance and the kind invitation of Church Hill Grange Oct 25, we will meet with them Friday Nov 22, 1889, and the same program will be carried out as far as possible, which is as follows: Do our present laws and system of government demand political action in the grange?—Dr. J. D. Clardy. The comparative value of beef and dairy products and cost of production.—G. V. Green. Some of the most important qualifications to insure success on the farm.—J. F. Garnett. The grasses and their cultivation.—J. L. Mossy. Are farmers' organizations beneficial to the average farmer?—M. B. King. To what extent should the grange co-operate with other farmers organizations?—C. D. Bell. How to make a living without work.—George Pierce. The discussion of these questions will begin at 10 o'clock in open grange and everybody is invited to attend and participate. By order of the master, T. L. GRAHAM, Lecturer.

He was the fourth of a family of eight children born to Samuel B. and Catharine Jesup. Samuel B. Jesup was born in Virginia and came to Kentucky when four years of age. In 1836 he settled in Fayette county where James E. Jesup was born and reared, on a farm. In 1845 he was married to Miss Lucy Long and lived in Todd county and in this city for 45 years. They had eight children, five of whom are now living. In 1879 Mr. Jesup was married to Mrs. Mary Redd and his second wife with two little daughters survives him. Mr. Jesup was for many years a leading commission merchant, being a member of the warehouse firm of Nelson & Jesup until a few years ago. He was also a Commissioner of the Western Asylum until the beginning of the present year. He was a consistent member of the Christian church and a man who lived an upright life and enjoyed the respect and esteem of his neighbors. A good man has passed away, leaving behind him the example of a well-spent life. The funeral services will be held at the residence to-day at 10:30 o'clock. Obituary. A FAMILY TROUBLE.

Dr. Nisbet Resigns Two Offices and Goes West. Tuesday morning Dr. Wm. K. Nisbet took the north bound train and left the city. On the following day it became known that he had left without the knowledge of his family. His office was examined and found in a very disorderly condition, as if it had been ransacked and most of its contents removed.

Dr. Nisbet was a young physician of good character and was not open to any suspicion of crookedness in his affairs. He was county physician and pension examiner, both of which positions paid him well, and he had a fair practice for a young doctor. There was a mystery about his departure until the mail from the north arrived. When that came it brought two letters from him, postmarked "Farm, Ill.," One was to Judge Winfree, resigning his position as county physician. The other was to his wife, the contents of which have not been made public.

Dr. Nisbet some three years ago married the only daughter of Mr. O. S. Brown and the young couple have made their home with Mrs. Nisbet's parents. So far as the public is advised, their married life has been happy and congenial. It has leaked out that the cause of Dr. Nisbet's departure was his unwillingness to live in the house with his mother-in-law. His wife would not agree to go to house-keeping and so he left. So far as Mr. Brown is concerned, Dr. Nisbet was very much attached to him and their relations have always been pleasant. Only a short while ago he presented the young couple each with a $1,000 bond. The KENTUCKIAN was unable to find Mr. Brown yesterday, as he has been out in the country all the week. From an intimate friend of the family it was learned that Mrs. Nisbet is very much distressed over the affair. The letter she received was of a very affectionate character and Dr. Nisbet expressed much regret at having to leave.

Mrs. Brown is also much grieved to think that she was concerned in the matter and stated that she had never knowingly said anything to offend her son-in-law and didn't know that he had decided to leave. The fact that Dr. Nisbet has resigned two good offices, leads to the conclusion that he does not expect to come back, but the opinion is gaining currency that it is a hasty step taken without proper deliberation and that he will soon be back. Mr. Brown is a man of means and standing and his daughter who married young is still scarcely out of her teens. The young couple have no children.

Dr. Nisbet's place as county physician has been filled by the appointment of Dr. Dulin.
