Admitted during month 8 Discharged improved 4 Discharged, restored 3 Died 3 Total 16 DEATHS. Henry Stanley, of Livingston, of pulmonary phthisis. Robert H. Moody, Todd, of general paralysis. W. S. Brazzelle, one of the sleeping patients, has been sent near Paducah. Smedley, another of them, was a bigamist from Indiana and was in jail awaiting requisition papers when he suddenly became insane. He was brought here and made his escape by making a key out of a piece of wire. He is not crazy to hurt. Wm. Farley, col., the third runaway, became insane in the Henderson jail, having been convicted previously of burglary. He claimed to be deaf and dumb, but watched an opportunity and escaped. He stole an overcoat from Peter Morgan, an attendant, and was seen the next day and had recovered his powers of speech. He is still at large and is also a sane man and a rascal at that. The Steward's report showed the products of the farm and garden for November to have been $680.07. The annual inventory of Asylum property in the wards and outbuildings showed an aggregate of $37,823.25.

Death of Dr. S. R. Brewer. Rev. Sam'l R. Brewer, of Louisville, one of the most prominent Methodist divines in Kentucky, died Wednesday of Bright's disease. He was but little over 50 years of age. He served in the Confederate army and entered the ministry in 1868. He was transferred to the Louisville district in 1874, preaching first at Lebanon, and afterwards successively at Allensville, Bowling Green, Hopkinsville, Owensboro, and in the Louisville district as Presiding Elder, to which position he was appointed about three years ago. He was a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Church South, at Richmond, in the spring of 1886. He leaves a wife and five children. The funeral will take place in Louisville at 2 p. m. to-day.

City Election Officers. At the Council meeting Tuesday night the following officers were appointed for the municipal election on the 14th: Ben Thompson, clerk; Harry Ferguson, sheriff; W. S. Davidson and Polk Canaler, judges. The polls will be located in the grand jury room on the north side of the court house. The election will be held between the hours of a. m. and 7 p. m.

HENDERSON, Ky., Dec. 3.—A runaway couple from Illinois were married yesterday at the Barret House by the Rev. S. of the Methodist church will have a grand Bazaar in a few days. Christmas trix a specialty. The will of the late J. E. Jaupp has been admitted to probate. Thos. S. Jaupp and W. S. Davison are the executors. The ladies of the Christian church held a social at Dr. Seargent's last night. The admission was 10 cents, the proceeds to go to church purposes. Liquor licenses have been issued to J. J. Nixon, A. G. Bowling and O. A. West, at Crofton, and to Buckner & Rives, at Burnett's store, near the Tennessee line. It should have been Mr. I. R. Davis who secured a position with Henderson & Son instead of Lucian H. Davis, mention of which was made in our last issue. The ladies' guild of the Episcopal church will give an entertainment at Mr. Wm. Cowan's this evening. An interesting program has been arranged. Admission 10 cents. At the close of the performance given by the Peerless Minstrels, Miss Rosa Blunhagen was presented with a very handsome bouquet for the services she had so kindly given in leading the orchestra. "Storm Beaten" at the Opera House to-night is one of the Union Square Theater's most successful plays. The piece is presented with special scenery, including the burning emigrant ship. Preceded at 8 p. m. by short farce "Who Wins?" Rev. Thomas S. McWilliams, a Kentuckian by birth and education, but now of Chillicothe, Ohio, will preach at the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, and will probably remain in the city during the week. The public is invited to attend these services. The Peerless boys made a handsome thing out of their minstrel show. The receipts from sale of tickets were $278.45 and from donations $43.70, making $322.15 in all. After paying all expenses they had left $170.50 in cash and $33.75 in materials, which can be used in similar entertainments hereafter. An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Esq. E. B. McReynolds Wednesday night. An entrance was effected to the bath room adjoining the family room but the burglar was put to flight by the noise made by Mr. McReynolds in opening the back door, the outer knob of which was held by the burglar. T. J. Tascodd, L. & N. freight agent at Florence, and H. P. Saiter, the Sheffield agent, have been exchanged. Mr. Saiter going to Florence and Mr. Tascodd coming here. Mr. Saiter during his short stay at this place made many friends for his road and Mr. Tascodd will be fortunate if he succeeds as well—Sheffield, Ala., Enterprise.

Hiram's many friends here will be glad to learn of the good opinion in which he is held. Mr. August McNeill, a special artist of the Courier-Journal, was in the city this week getting up illustrations for a write up and illustrated sketch of Hopkinsville, to be published in a few weeks in that paper. He made out of the principal business blocks, the school buildings, Asylum, Confederate monument, etc. This is a stroke of enterprise on the part of the Courier-Journal that will pay it well in the long run and at the same time greatly benefit Hopkinsville and other cities to be written up. The list of officers elected by Evergreen Lodge, K. of P. for the January term on Thanksgiving night was crowded out of our last issue. The higher officers were nearly all promoted one degree and the list is as follows: C. E. Kennedy, P. C.; W. L. Thompson, C. C.; F. L. Waller, V. C.; David M. Canaler, P.; R. F. West, M. of P.; W. C. Wright, K. of R. S.; M. L. Elib, M. of E.; Otho G. Lander, M. at A.; John Moayan was re-elected Trustee for the long term and W. R. Bowles, T. C. Williams and D. L. Johnson were elected Trustees of the Widows and Orphans Fund. After three or four candidates have been advanced in the degree work the lodge adjourned and partook of an oyster supper at Randle & Ely's, at the expense of the newly elected officers.

Information Wanted. Mr. J. S. Patterson, of Fayetteville, Arkansas, writes to a gentleman in this city for information of a Mr. H. S. Williams, who once lived in the Tradewater section. It is not known by the inquirer whether or not Mr. Williams is living. He was a son-in-law of the late Spencer Hayala, and a brother-in-law of James Hathcock. Any information in regard to Mr. Williams can be sent to this office or to J. S. Patterson, Fayetteville, Ark.

JUST IN TIME.

The Fire Department Saves a Business Block By Prompt Work. Four Young Men Make a Narrow Escape With Their Lives. Some parties who were on the streets at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning discovered a dense smoke issuing from the Gish block on the corner of Ninth and Main. They gave a vigorous alarm and the Fire Company promptly responded. The fire was finally located in the cellar under the confectionary store of Randle & Ely. It had started in some mysterious way in a pile of straw and rubbish where goods had been unpacked. It had not broken through the floor, but the heat was intense and the flames were creeping up under the stairway and had broken out at this place when the department arrived. A hole was cut in the burning floor, which was almost ready to break through, and the intrepid firemen blinded and stifled almost with smoke poured a stream into the cellar and over the hot walls that soon extinguished the fire. It was the promptest and most effective work the boys have ever done, and under the most difficult circumstances in many respects. The whole building was filled with smoke and the only way to get to the store from the front, around the oyster parlor, cut off by a three-foot passage, and light it under the most dangerous conditions. A great conflagration was narrowly averted, as the square is one of the principal business blocks of the city. The newly opened Christmas stock of Randle & Ely, just displayed the day before, is almost totally ruined by the heat and smoke, as is the case with all of their goods. Canned goods on the nearer shelves were cooked and 22 boxes of oranges unopened in the bank room were baked. Everything tastes of smoke and even the walls and counters are smoken a dark brown. The firm had opened up only a week before, but fortunately they had taken the precaution to insure early and they have $3,100 in the agencies of Callis & Wallace, Long, Winfree & Kelly, Buckner & Hays and Mercer & Mercer. All of the stocks in the building were more or less damaged, but most of them are insured. The Lipatine's dry goods store was adjoining on the first floor and everything was badly smoked, though it is hard to estimate the damages. Up stairs Miss Bettie Stevenson, dress maker, was damaged probably $50, with no insurance. Drs. Gish, Young and Gunn had their offices emptied and their drugs and other property badly smoked. In the two rear rooms over Lipatine's store four young men were sleeping. Their rooms opened into a little square where the back steps led from the narrow hall. It was under these stairs that the fire was located. Dick and Harry Lipatine were in the first room. They awoke almost stifled and were barely able to get out and drag their trunks and clothing. In the other or corner room were H. P. Dilitz and Homer Prince. After much difficulty they were aroused. Prince was able to get up but Dilitz had to be taken out. Their escape was a very narrow one indeed. The building is owned by Dr. D. J. Gish and he has $8,000 insurance, $6,000 with W. F. Garnett and $1,400 with Long, Winfree & Kelly. The confectionary room is badly damaged. The paint is blistered off, the papering and white-coating all ruined and the doors had to be broken in. Even the sky-light in the roof was cracked by the intense heat.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH. At Nashville of James J. Tandy, a Hopkinsville boy. Mr. D. A. Tandy, of this city, received a telegram last Monday night about 12 o'clock from an official of the L. & N. Railroad Co. at Nashville informing him that his eldest son, James J. Tandy, had been horribly crushed by the cars. In a short time another message came stating his son had died from his injuries. Mr. Tandy took the first train for Nashville and returned Tuesday afternoon on the 2:25 train with the remains. The Nashville American of Tuesday morning in giving an account of young Tandy's death stated the unfortunate man, at the time of the accident, was making a coupling in the yards at Edgeland and he got one foot in a "frog" of the track and was unable to extricate himself before the train ran over him, badly mashing his right leg. Dr. Eve was sent for and amputated the limb, but the shock was so severe that the young man breathed his last in a couple of hours after the accident. James Tandy was in his 22d year and was a railroad man of great promise. Since entering the service of the railroad company, three years ago, he had been promoted several times and no doubt, by his faithfulness and efficiency, would in a few years have won his way to a highly responsible position. He learned the printer's trade in the Kentucky office, but railroad seemed to have a charm for him, and he laid aside his stick and rule and changed his vocation. The blow fell with terrible effect on the family, but not more so than on a young lady of Hartsville, Tenn., to whom he was engaged to be married the first of next year. A letter from her to him was delivered to his father in Nashville, which was buried unopened with the remains, which were laid to rest last Wednesday morning in the City Cemetery. The family has the sympathy of the entire community in their great and unlooked-for bereavement.

The Merchants' Carnival.

The Merchant's Carnival Tuesday night given by the ladies of the Baptist church was largely attended and proved a very pleasant entertainment. The net profits amounted to about $125, which was more than the ladies had expected to make. The military drills participated in by fifty young ladies were the features of the evening. They were drilled in three squads and music was rendered in the intervals. Capt. Jonett Henry was drill master and at the conclusion of the performance he was presented with an elegant gold pin by M. W. W. Clarke, on behalf of the young ladies. Mrs. H. J. Stiles and Miss Katie McDaniel sang several selections and Messrs. Bailey Waller and S. H. Dicken also took part in the singing. Jerry Tobia gave a humorous character speech, which was well received. Mr. E. K. Ashby recited "Shamus O'Brien" in fine style and was loudly applauded by the delighted audience.
