PORTLAND, TACOMA AND SEATTLE THE GREAT CITIES OF THE NORTHWEST VISITED.

The Trip Extended to Victoria.

The morning of the 30th, ult., the party awoke to look upon the fertile lands of Oregon. The Committee from Portland met us with cigars and a cordial greeting. A complimentary dinner was given at Albany by the Portland people which was a surprise, and was only a sample of the genuine cordiality that awaited us. At Albany the Ky. Delegation were presented with a large bouquet of bluegrass and clover, which seemed to be duplicates of the genuine articles so largely raised in our state. Oregon is called the Kentucky of the west. The Committee arranged for us to leave the steamer Harvest Queen, down the Willamette river to Portland. This was a pleasant part of the program, and as the train pulled in the sound of music from a band blended with the falling waters rushing wildly over Willamette Falls was indeed enthusiastic. The Falls from the upper to the lower bed of the river represents a descent of 36 feet, and as the waters leap over the rugged rocks, foaming and lashing into spray, formed a beautiful picture from nature. A ride of 28 miles landed us at Portland and was immediately taken to Hotel Portland one of the finest in the west where a sumptuous dinner was served. The freedom of the theater was offered, where the "Power of the Press" was presented, which was indeed an appropriate program for the fraternity. The next day the party was given an excursion up the famous Columbia river. Lunch was served on the steamer, and some speaking and recitations were indulged in during the afternoon. The city of Portland is built on a level flat of ground on the River, with a rugged hilly background, where town lots seem to be even more valuable than on the level. It is an important port, and the large shipping interests were noted as we passed the extended wharfs on the Willamette river, Portland is at the head of deep water navigation of the Columbia and Willamette rivers, and its harbor can accommodate the largest vessels. There are 87 miles of street railway, and this thriving city of 75,000 people has but laid its foundation. The greatest exports consist of lumber and grain and vessels from nearly every port anchor in her waters. There is a large iron and steel plant located here, and the mine largely abundant in this valuable mineral. Tuesday night we departed with reluctance, and at 7:30 the next morning we were met at the depot in Tacoma with carriages and driven to the Hotel Tacoma and given an elegant breakfast, and shown over this wonderful city that has grown to a population of 45,000 in about eight years. Here large buildings rear in the air monuments to genuine business push and enterprise that are to be found only in the West. Tacoma boasts a lumber out-put daily of over 1,000,000 feet, has a foundry and machine shops, large fish industries, coal and coke, and smaller manufactures which add to the large volume of business done there.

The steamer Multnomah was chartered to take us up to Seattle, and at 12:30 p. m. the steamer pulled up the sound. A landing was made at the dry docks, of which Tacoma is proud. A most elegant lunch with punch was served, and it seemed to us the farther we got up in the north west the more unbounded the hospitality. At about 5 p. m. Seattle was sighted, and a tug with a committee steamed alongside, came aboard and brought beautiful bouquets for the ladies and bouzouaks for the gentlemen, besides a cordial greeting. We thought when we left California we were done with flowers, but this surprise proved to the contrary. Even in this climate flowers live out all winter. The whole city of Seattle turned out to meet us and upon landing we boarded the street cars for a ride through the city to the beautiful lake Washington, thence up the lake to another line back to the different hotels, where we were royally treated, and he it said to the hospitality of Seattle it is the only place that offered us complimentary lodgings in the hotels. But little signs of the burnt district that destroyed so much of this enterprising city could be seen, but instead, magnificent structures that any larger city would be proud of. Seattle has in its midst several fresh water lakes, the principal of which is Lake Washington, to be connected with Puget Sound by canal, and thus make a harbor of much benefit. It is not generally known that fresh water will remove all the barnacles that destroy the hull of vessels, which cause so much trouble, and this harbor will afford a natural remedy for such annoyance. Seattle has a beautiful location for a great city and is growing rapidly. It has a population of 50,000, and when the next census is taken the number will be many thousand larger. About 70 miles of street car line traverse the city, beautiful residences adorn the streets, and solid walls of business blocks tell of marvelous prosperity. After breakfast the steamer, City of ### Kingston, was boarded for Victoria on Vancouver Island, away up in the British possessions. After a pleasant ride of seven hours up Puget sound the elegant steamer rounded into the wharf. To our utter surprise the Victorians met us with open arms, pleasant smiles of welcome, and a line of carriages for the noted drive around the city. After being driven for two hours to the various points of interest about the city, a dinner at Hotel Driard was announced with the sparkling champagne; toasts were drunk to Queen Victoria and President Harrison. Our stay was indeed delightful. At 9:30 p. m. we left, to retrace our steps, with faces turned toward our different homes. To sum up, this part of the country, I would say that there is a great future ahead of it, and the development on borders of Puget Sound has only begun. Inexhaustible lumber, minerals, diversified agriculture and a wonderful harbor. It was a surprise to find so palatial a steamer as Kingston plying these waters. The line of tourist travel is increasing so rapidly that such boats are in demand. The Northern Pacific has been as kind and courteous to the fraternity as could be asked, even going beyond their requests to make it pleasant for them. Mr. Chas. S. Fee, the G. P. A. is a strong friend of the newspaper men. At Portland we met Mr. Logan C. Murray, of New York, who inquired of many warm friends in Hopkinsville. He is a brother of Gen. Eli H. Murray. On account of the cloudy weather we were prevented viewing Mt. Tacoma. The mountain scenery around the three northern cities is grand and picturesque, and the lavish hand of nature has not been unkindful of this section. There is a large rainfall here, but the weather does not get very cold, rarely ever snow. We are now pulling out of Tacoma for Salt Lake, where we hope to worship Sunday. W. A. W.

A Choice List of Summer Resorts.

In the Lake regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and the two Dakotas, there are hundreds of charming localities pre-eminently fitted for summer homes. Among the following selected list are names familiar to many of our readers as the perfection of Northern summer resorts. Nearly all of the Wisconsin points of interest are within a short distance from Chicago or Milwaukee, and none of them are so far away from the "busy marts of civilization" that they cannot be reached in a few hours of travel, by frequent trains, over the finest roads in the Northwest—the Chicago, Milwaukee & Northern Railroad:

Oconomowoc, Wis.	Clear Lake, Iowa.
Minoqua, Wis.	Lakes Okoboi, Ia.
Wausau, Wis.	Spirit Lake, Iowa.
Palmyra, Wis.	Fond du Lac, Minn.

Hon. W. V. Lucas, Ex-State Auditor of Iowa, says:

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and have no hesitation in saying it is an excellent remedy. I believe all that is claimed for it. Persons afflicted by a cough or cold will find it a friend." There is no danger from whooping cough when this remedy is freely given. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Leavelle & Wood.

Herndon.

Herndon, Ky., June 10.—The crops in this section are fine and the prospects for an abundance of all the necessities of life were never better. The trade of our town was never better and Herndon is rapidly assuming the commercial importance to which by geographical position she is richly entitled, and just here let me say that she is doing what every other district in the country should do, viz: keeping up a ten months' school, the last term of which was taught by Miss Nettie Lyle, the accomplished sister of Mrs. Paschal Giles, whose work as an educator in this community years ago is bearing its proper fruit. Miss Lyle, though quite young, has given high evidence of her proficiency and has been able by her ability as an instructor not only to greatly develop the minds and scholarship of the children, but has won all their hearts as well as several hearts of those who are not children. The community may esteem itself fortunate should able to secure her services for the fall it be term.

HILL IS NOT IN IT.

The Tammany Leaders Have His Letter of Withdrawal.

New York, June 10.—The Times this morning publishes the following from Troy:

There is in existence a letter signed by Senator David B. Hill, authorizing the withdrawal of his name from all further consideration by the Democracy, State and national, whenever in the opinion and discretion of Richard Croker, Hugh McLaughlin and Edward Murphy, Jr., and W. F. Sheehan such a step should be taken.

That letter is in this city at this moment. It is in the safe of Edward Murphy, Jr., Chairman of the Democratic committee. There will be hasty and perhaps angry denials of the above statements, but they are based upon the information which the Times has taken pains to verify, and which is believed to be absolutely reliable.

The letter was brought to New York by Lieut. Gov. Wm. F. Sheehan on Sunday night from Washington in the same pocket in which Mr. Sheehan had also brought the resolution, a part of which only was adopted at the delegates' meeting on Monday last. The knowledge of the letter was supposed to be confined to Messrs. Murphy, Sheehan, Croker and McLaughlin.

The letter throws a good deal of light on the Monday night's meeting of the delegates. It fits in exactly with the resolution that was adopted, to vote for Hill until he was nominated or "until he withdraws his name."

ALICE MITCHELL.

The Case Set For Hearing Monday, June 27.

MEMPHIS, TENN.—The case of the State against Alice Mitchell has been set for Monday June 27. The lawyers for the defense, it is understood, will be ready, and whether or not Alice Mitchell is insane will be argued at length. A mass of depositions have been taken, one from the eminent French authority on insanity, Dr. Bilot, of Paris. It is thought that the trial will last several weeks. Alice Mitchell is still occupying a room in the jail, and so far as the world knows is in fairly good health.

Many relics of the Cabots, the early English voyagers to America will be exhibited at the Exposition by a committee formed for that purpose in Bristol, England where the Cabots lived. The Bristol Times and Mirror of recent date, states that the committee held a meeting to complete arrangements for collecting the material for the exhibit; that the mayor of the city presided; that there was a very large attendance, representing especially the leading mercantile houses and the various archeological associations of the city, and that it was apparent from the proceedings there was available an abundance of relics from which to select a very interesting exhibit.
