How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife; second be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by R. C. Hardwick.

The things that people see are inside of them are not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is it. Another one will look at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well, and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot, and the disease will not stay. A man lives on pure, rich blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 108 page, "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

BY HIS OWN YARD STICK.

How a Lot Owner Got Even with an Avaricious Neighbor.

Cats are said to have nine lives, but there is more than one way of killing them. Two brick houses standing side by side in a street west of Central park are standing witnesses of the truth of this bewhiskered proverb, says the New York Press. Not many months ago there were two vacant lots where the houses now stand. The owner of one of the lots decided to build. When the walls of the new house were about completed the owner of the adjoining lot decided to follow his example. He employed a surveyor to stake out the house. The surveyor discovered that the walls of the house in course of erection on the other lot extended just one inch over the property line. He informed his employer of the fact, who immediately communicated with the owner of the property, demanding an exorbitant sum for the property accidentally appropriated.

The owner of lot No. 1 did not prove a complacent victim to the extortion. He at once gave orders to have the offending wall torn down and rebuilt. The other man, rather disappointed at being a victim of his own avarice, proceeded with the erection of the second house, building his wall close against that of the house, first erected.

When the second house was all completed the owner moved in. A few days afterward he was dumfounded to receive a notice similar to the one he had sent out himself, demanding the same amount as he had named, the reason being stated, "the walls of the house you have just completed and are now occupying extend one inch over the property line on my property."

He employed a surveyor again and found that the statement was only too true. What had happened was this: The owner of the first offending wall, when he had had it torn down, had, with deliberation and malice aforethought, caused the wall to be rebuilt one inch on his own side of the line, realizing that the second house would probably be built close against the first. There was a choice of two things for the owner of lot No. 2 to do—either to move out of the house in which he had just got settled with his family and have it rebuilt or to pay the amount demanded for the one inch of property. As he had set the price himself, he felt that there was little use in taking it to the courts. He accordingly paid the price demanded and received a deed for one inch of land.

SIMULATED DEATH.

The Lethargy Lasting for Weeks Produced by Fakirs in India.

Dr. Kuhn has had occasion to observe two cases, the genuineness of which he had no reason to doubt, says the New York Medical Journal. One of the fakirs in question had been interred for six weeks and the other for ten days. The fakirs, who are hysterical to the highest degree, possess the faculty of producing artificially a condition identical with cataleptic ecstasy. They use all possible means, such as mortification of the body by a special diet, the internal employment of different plants known only to themselves, and the adoption of a peculiar posture of the body for many hours. When they have practiced this for a sufficient length of time, they assume one of the postures prescribed by the sacred books of the Indians and fall into a hypnotic condition induced by looking fixedly at the end of the nose.

Hasheesh is still made use of by them to diminish the respiratory force, for this hypnotic, when associated with other plants and employed in a peculiar manner, makes up for the loss of air and nourishment. The fakirs have hallucinations when hypnosis begins; they hear certain sounds, see angels; and their faces express a feeling of happiness. But, little by little, consciousness disappears and the body acquires a peculiar rigidity. This is evidently, says the writer, a matter of self-hypnotism in hysterical persons who are sufficiently predisposed to it. This lethargy is looked upon by people as death, and when the subjects are aroused it is God who has brought them to life. In Greek or Roman literature, says the writer, we may find accounts of persons who have died and returned again to earth.

There is nothing astonishing in these facts, for Bouchut, in his treatise on the signs which enable us to recognize real death, reported the case of a woman who had been disinterred in order that a friend might look at her again. She was found to be alive, and she lived for many years afterward. Also, in the Department of the North, there was a case reported of a girl who had remained in a lethargic condition for several years. She had fallen into this condition on hearing that she was to be arrested for having committed a crime.

Dunn did his best poetical work before he had attained the age of 25.

When two Chinese meet, their way of saying "How do you do?" is "How are your bowels?" It amounts to the same thing. If the bowels are in good condition the rest of the system is pretty sure to be all right. But when they are constipated, it has a half-paralyzing effect on the rest of the body—and the mind too. Headaches, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, poor sleep, weakness, heart palpitation and gloomy spirits, all come from constipation. And that isn't the worst of it: It lays your system open to all sorts of serious and dangerous illness.

It isn't safe to neglect constipation and it isn't safe to use dangerous wrenching cathartics, to overcome it, either. They leave you worse off than before. What is needed is a mild natural laxative like Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They act surely but without any violence. They regulate and strengthen the intestines to do their own work. When the "Pleasant Pellets" cure you, you are cured. You don't become a slave to their use. Take care the druggist doesn't give you something else he calls "just as good." It may be for him, but how about you?

You might learn a thousand valuable lessons about preserving your health by reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a grand book and the present edition is absolutely free to all who send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It contains 600 pages and over 300 engravings. 650,000 cloth-bound copies have been sold at $1.50 each. This free edition is in strong manilla paper covers, otherwise it is just the same. This ratio of sixteen grains of silver to one grain of gold has been the measure of equality between the two metals since their first use as money by the United States. There exists no necessity to change that ratio more than to change the length of a yard stick, or the number of ounces in a pound weight. The ever busy brain of skylocks is constantly at work hatching new schemes for embroilment of their wealth and to rob producers of wealth. Law making power is bribed, corruption in high places of trust and honor exists, and the evil times prophesied by the patriot Anachan Lincoln, now menace the very existence of our country as a power among the nations of the world. All made possible through partisan prejudice that hides truth. The Cincinnati Enquirer is earnestly engaged in the noble and patriotic effort to make known the truth and facts, expose political crimes and criminals, and to show the cause and effect the unwarranted interference with the people's money, and productive industries. With every cash subscriber to the Kentuckian for one year, we give a year's subscription to the Weekly Enquirer as a free gift. Two papers for the price of one.
