

"High Art" Clothing.

There may be other concerns that make clothing to fit our Southern people as well as Strouse Bros., celebrated "High Art" Brand, but we have never been able to locate them as yet, nor do we believe any one else has. "High Art" clothing is made in five separate and distinct shapes—the short and stout—young men's—regulars—long and slims and extra large and we can fit any shaped man or boy, but it is especially adapted to our tall, slim, long legged, long armed, long bodied, small waisted Southern folk's. "High Art" patterns are the result of 35 years of experimenting, study and experience, and they are well nigh perfect.

There is a set of shapeliness about a "High Art" suit of clothes that very few of the high price tailors can approach.

STOCK SHOW NEXT WEEK.

An Old-Fashioned Exhibit of Blooded Animals.

The time is now drawing near for the first annual stock show of the Christian County Fair Company. It will come off at the fair grounds on October 8 and 9. Many innovations from former exhibitions will be made and new features introduced tending to elevate and fix the show in the confidence of the people and enlist their help in making it a permanency. There will be no gambling, drinking or racing allowed. It will be strictly an exhibition of stock and poultry.

On Friday, the first day, there will be rings for blooded cattle, hogs, sheep, jacks and jennets, mules, fine stock and poultry. The premiums in the stock rings are $10 and $5, according to the importance of the exhibit. The poultry shows will consist of nine breeds and a sweepstakes display. The premium is $3 for each variety and a special premium of $5 for the best display.

There will be three speed rings, a green trot of untrained horses, a pony race by boys under 15 years and bicycle races. There will be three of these—a free for all, a race for boys under 16 years of age and a special premium for the most graceful female rider.

These bicycle races close the day's program and are expected to prove a most interesting feature.

Saturday there will be utility rings for three $10 premiums, saddle stock four $10 premiums and a special $10 offer on best Rockaway horse and $4 for best pair of turkeys.

There are fifteen harness rings with premiums ranging from $25 to $5. The program will be concluded with a half-mile dash mule race for $5.

The total premiums amount to nearly $600, and these liberal offers ought to stimulate a lively contest in all the rings.

The show will be under the direction of the following well-known gentlemen: M. V. Dulin, President; J. B. Galbreath, Secretary; J. R. Caudle, L. H. McKee, John Mason, Wm. H. Jessup, C. F. Jarrett, E. E. Wash, F. B. Lacy and B. S. Wood.

Water Cut Off Monday.

The Water Company sent a man around Monday and requested all consumers to stop using water for sprinkling purposes, as the supply is growing alarmingly scarce. With a few exceptions, all of the patrons promptly acted upon the suggestion. Those who refuse to quit using the water will have their supply cut off entirely. The Water Company will not be able to run a week longer, without rain, except by the most rigid economy in the use of water even for household purposes.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Dr. Settle Robbed—Water Cut Off—Stable Burned—Dropped Dead—Foot Crushed—Synod.

Two Young Lawyers.

Messrs Forest Zimmer and Ed R. Settle, young lawyers just ready for the practice of the profession, were sworn in at the local bar Tuesday morning.

Will Go on the Road.

Mr. J. C. Terry, the merchant tailor, has retired from business in this city and accepted a position as traveling representative with the shoe house of Magnus Hessberg & Co., of Richmond, Va. His territory will be Kentucky and Tennessee. Mr. Terry's family has been here for some time but he did not come himself until recently, having closed out his business at Adairville and opened up here. This change in his plans is due to a desire to change his avocation on account of his health, which long confinement indoors has somewhat impaired. Years ago he was a drummer and is well up in the business. He will continue to make this city his home.

Robbed Her Wood Shed.

Some thief stole a large lot of wood from Mrs. Eliza Clark's wood shed one night this week. She had purchased several loads of seasoned wood for fall and winter use and every stick of it was taken and hauled off.

Crushed His Foot.

An accident happened to Mr. Bun-ion Haskins at Crofton Tuesday, which may cost him the loss of a foot. While he was assisting in boring an artesian well the sand bucket became loosened in some way and fell upon one of his feet, crushing the bones. The member is so badly injured that amputation may be necessary.

Fell Dead on His Porch.

Jack McReynolds, col., dropped dead Monday night on the farm of Mr. J. C. Moore, near the city. He complained of feeling badly and retired early, but could not sleep and got up and went out on the porch and sat down. In a few minutes he fell out of the chair and expired instantly. He was 42 years old.

Stable Destroyed by Fire.

Wm. Rogers, a Todd county farmer, living near Bivinsville, had his stable destroyed by fire a few nights ago. Two fine mules burned to death and two new wagons, fifty barrels of corn and a large quantity of hay and farming implements were lost. His loss foots up about $1,000, with no insurance. It is believed that it was the work of an incendiary.

Light Crop and High Prices.

The destruction by frost of a considerable portion of the present very short crop of tobacco has caused a good deal of activity among tobacco buyers. Already they are canvassing this county, although the crop is not yet fired, and are offering some fancy prices for future deliveries. Some sales have been made in the Pembroke neighborhood at prices ranging as high as $10 to $15 round, for unfrosted crops.

Registration Next Tuesday.

The only general registration for 1897 will be held next Tuesday at all of the city voting places, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 9 p. m. Those who fail to register cannot vote in November, unless they are sick or absent from the city all day. The officers for the coming election officiate at their respective polls and each party is allowed to have a challenger at each voting place. There will be supplemental registration days at the Court House on October 25, 26 and 27, but only those who were sick or absent on Oct. 5 can avail themselves of those opportunities.

DR. SETTLE ROBBED.

Burglars Make a Rich Haul at Trenton Wednesday Night.

News has been received of a burglary at Trenton Wednesday night, in which Dr. H. C. Settle was a heavy loser. Dr. Settle had been to call on his new grandchild at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Russell Hogan, and was spending the night in Trenton with Mr. J. F. Crunk, the L. & N. agent. During the night the house was entered by burglars, who secured from Dr. Settle a considerable sum of money, his grip containing two valuable suits of clothes, his gold watch and other valuables. From Mr. Crunk they got $200 in money, a lot of jewelry, a shotgun and rifle and other property.

Bloodhounds were put on the trail and traced the thieves to the coal chute at Guthrie. No direct clew has been secured. It is supposed they boarded a train at Guthrie.

COOK AND BREATHITT.

The Christian County Man Turned Down at Every Point.

Judge Cook and Judge Breathitt met in joint debate here Monday and there is but one opinion among Democrats and other fair minded men who heard them. The Democratic candidate surprised even his friends. He more than sustained himself on the stump. He met every point made by Judge Breathitt and used him up badly all along the line. Judge Breathitt opened the debate and began his speech by referring to recent publications in the KENTUCKIAN. He admitted that he and his near relatives had drawn something more than $100,000 in salaries, but said they had never misappropriated a cent of public money. The Judge seemed to think this was an especially strong point in view of the records made by other Republicans. He disclaimed responsibility for the rapid growth of slyster litigation in his courts. He justified the action of his father in appointing men who voted for McKinley as Democratic officers. He then turned his attention to political matters and made a rank Republican stump speech, drawing party lines as tight as a bow string and lauding to the skies the whole Republican platform, high tariff, gold standard and all. His friends were absolutely amazed. He was no longer the mild-mannered, non-partisan candidate for a non-political office. He became a campaign stump speaker, calling upon Republicans to stand by the party principles. It was evident that his speech marked a radical change of tactics. It is believed that Judge Breathitt sees now what every well-informed man in the district knows, that his own race is absolutely a forlorn hope and that he immolated himself upon the altar of his party and sacrificed himself to save the local ticket.

Judge Cook followed in a speech of an hour and a half, touching upon every point made, riddling his opponent's arguments and showing himself to be thoroughly posted upon current issues in general. He cornered Judge Breathitt on the question of election officers with a proposition to guarantee the fairness of the list in Calloway county and let him change the officers wherever he found that the spirit and letter of the law had not been complied with, and turning upon him he asked if he would say as much for the list appointed by his own father in his home county. No answer came. Judge Breathitt was as dumb as an oyster and Democrats shook the house with applause.

This was only one of the many telling points made by Judge Cook, and his speech created the greatest enthusiasm among Democrats. He proved himself so much superior to Judge Breathitt in debate that the latter will have to again change his speech if he hopes to hold his own in the rest of their joint debates. It must not be supposed from this that there is anything unpleasant between the gentlemen. They are making their canvass upon a high-toned plane and are personally upon pleasant terms. It is a contest between two men of ability, representing two great parties of opposite principles and it bids fair to be a clean, dignified race throughout.

A Hot Race For Judge.

Judge Breathitt will be engaged in the canvass this month and Judge J. I. Landes is serving as special judge. The election came off Tuesday morning and was very close on the finish between Judge Landes and Judge John Phelps. The bar had been given notice and nearly all of the country lawyers were present, a total of 51 being on hand. Seven ballots were taken before an election resulted. The first stood, John Phelps 15, J. I. Landes 13, John Feland 11, M. D. Brown 8, scattering 3. The second, Phelps 15, Landes 13, Brown 11, Feland 9, Petree 3, Warfield 1. Warfield was dropped. The third ballot was, Phelps 17, Landes 12, Feland 11, Brown 7, Petree 3. Petree dropped. The fourth stood, Phelps 18, Landes 15, Feland 10, Brown 7, Hale 1. Hale dropped. The fifth ballot, Phelps 15, Landes 17, Brown 10, Feland 9. Feland dropped. The sixth ballot, Phelps 20, Landes 22, Brown 8. One not voting. Brown dropped.

The seventh ballot, Landes 26, Phelps 24, one blank ballot.

The voting was by ballot but those who claim to know say that Landes received the votes of 19 Republicans, 6 goldites and his opponent. Judge Phelps got the votes of 23 Democrats and one Republican. It is not known who put in the blank ballot, or whether it was done by accident or design.

Ex-Governor John Young Brown thinks "Dick" Tate is alive, basing his opinion on efforts made during his administration to secure his pardon. In regard to the recently published interview with William Pinkerton, Gov. Brown says he never had any communications with the detective concerning the capture of Tate.
