

Quay's trial has again been postponed, this till Feb. 27.

W. T. Knott, a brother of Ex-Gov. J. Proctor Knott, is dead, aged 76.

The 6000 shot machines in Chicago will hereafter pay a $10 license.

Congressman Towney, has offered a resolution to make Feb. 15, the anniversary of the blowing up of the Maine, a national holiday.

The Owensboro Messenger confesses that there has been a murder, or an attempt at murder, in Daviess county every week this year.

The Glasgow papers announce that Senator Goebel will speak there March 6, the same day his friends here say he has promised to speak in Hopkinsville.

Secretary Long has broken all records for brevity in official communications. A cablegram to Admiral Dewey Tuesday consisted of one word, but that word was enough to cover the subject in hand. It was the word "congratulations."

Willie Klair, formerly a page in the House, and a well-known young man, has been nominated for Representative by the Democrats of Fayette county. As he is a strong friend of Senator Goebel's, there may be some political significance in his victory.

Israel Acott was married in Michigan twenty years ago. The couple were separated by the wife's parents. Acott located in Peoria and last Thursday his wife found him, and they were re-married with their nineteen-year-old daughter as a witness.

During the fight at Manila Sunday 700 Ygorotes, naked savages, were conspicuous for their bravery, facing artillery fire and fighting only with bows and arrows. The American Indians could give these savages some pointers about the treatment Uncle Sam gives his wards who refuse to become civilized.

Harry A. Rantz, of Elmira, N. Y., was married by telephone to Miss Nellie G. Maxwell, at Williamsport, Pa. Legal forms were observed at both ends of line and able lawyers gave opinions that such a ceremony would be as binding as any. Kissing the bride of course had to be postponed until the bride and groom were at closer range.

The president has caused to be promulgated the sentence in the case of Gen. Chas. B. Eagan. The court-martial sentence was dismissal from the army, and the president has commuted this to suspension from duty, which covers the remainder of time prior to Gen. Eagan's retirement in January, 1905. Gen. Eagan will be reinstated in time to retire with his regular rank and pay. The sentence of suspension does not deprive Eagan of any pay, but he loses his allowances, which included commutation of rations and fuel.

Mr. Watterson himself has once more defined the "position" of the Courier-Journal, concluding a long editorial with the following concerning the gubernatorial contest, which, it will be observed, contains a promise to support the nominee:

"The pretense that the Courier-Journal has preference among the Democratic aspirants for Governor of Kentucky is a lie out of whole cloth. It is a figment of the malice of unprincipled enemies. If anybody wants to know the truth, we can assure him that the Courier-Journal is infatuated with none of them. All free-silver coons look alike to the Courier-Journal. But, as it has to choose between a free-silver Democrat and a high-tariff Republican, it will vote for the Democrat who may be nominated. In the interim its columns are equally open to Mr. Hardin, to Mr. Goebel and to Mr. Stone. Each shall have fair play. If any one of them finds, or thinks he finds, the least reason to complain he has only to make his grievance known to have it corrected."

PON PARAGRAPHS

Penned for the Kentuckian by Honey Bee.

Pon, Ky., Feb. 7.—The usual amount of rabbit hunting has been indulged in since the heavy fall of snow.

Mrs. Sam'l Cavanah, who had been confined to her bed with consumption for several months, died last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. King visited Hopkinsville a few days ago.

Mr. L. B. King sold several hogs-heads of tobacco on the Hopkinsville market last week, realizing satisfactory prices.

Miss Myna Wood opened a subscription school at Dogwood Chapel yesterday.

Messrs. Jas. and Harvey Cavanaugh and sister have moved into their new house near Kelly.

The cold weather has stopped the work of prizing tobacco.

HONEY BEE.

HAEGERTY-McGINNIS.

Early Morning Marriage—Couple at Once Leave for Tennessee.

Mr. Thos. J. Haegerty, of Knoxville, Tenn., formerly of this city, and Miss Sabra McGinnis were married at the bride's home in this city at 5:30 o'clock a. m., Wednesday. Father B. J. Wright, of Russellville, performed the ceremony.

The couple left on the 6:15 train for their future home in Knoxville.

Another Hero Hobson.

Henry Williams, of Bowling Green, writes to the Democrat from Matanzas, Cuba:

"The Kentuckians are better pleased with the Cuban natives than they expected. They find them poverty-stricken and in need, but enthusiastic and ambitious with a love and admiration for America that is exemplified on all occasions. If all Cuban natives class up to those of this city I see no reason why they are not capable of self-government.

The Third drew its first blood on Cuban soil yesterday. Private Hobson of Company B, killed a shark measuring nine feet, and is now dubbed by his comrades: "Hero Hobson." St. John B. LaRue has been appointed Quartermaster of the Third battalion and Corporal Otho Vaughan Sergeant Major."

Death of Dr. Burchard.

Dr. M. J. L. Burchard, a prominent homeopathic physician, of Princeton, aged 80 years, died Sunday night.

Bowling Alley License.

Johnson & Muir were yesterday granted a license to operate a Bowling Alley—two ball ways—on south Main.

John D. Clews, aged one-hundred and two years, and Mrs. Sarah Jennings, aged one-hundred, were married in Franklin, Pa., last week. The bridegroom is a wealthy oil producer and a veteran of the Civil and Mexican wars, while the bride is a cousin of Abraham Lincoln. Notwithstanding the advanced age of Mr. and Mrs. Clews they are as lively as people of forty.

Eagan will continue to draw his pay as Commissary General while under suspension. His alleged punishment turns out to be a farce, and he will doubtless soon be pardoned by the President.

BALDHEADED CLUB.

Col. Wooldridge, Who Expects To Be President, Speaks.

Objects to Sam Jones' Sneering Remarks About Poor Men Like Col. Bryan and Others.

I AM glad President Bassett is on hand to-night, said Vice-President Wooldridge, to Col. Buck Leavell, who was at work on his scrap-book, for I am loaded to the muzzle with a speech and don't want to be battered up by having to preside again this time.

The members were somewhat slow in coming in, and there were still a number of vacant seats when the President rapped for order.

Among the late arrivals was Col. Green Champlin, who had been laid up with grip for several weeks, and Col. Dave Wiley, who came in on the night train from Dawson.

Col. Tom Williams was absent, as he had left town on reading that the Hobson craze was still raging to such an extent that some women down in Texas had actually sunk a smack at the entrance to Gen. Shaffer's alimentary canal. There was no telling when the kissing epidemic might reach Hopkinsville, as they say it goes with the grip, and he sent word that he would light a rag and wait till the clouds rolled by.

Col. Buck Leavell was unusually cheerful by reason of the endorsement Sam Jones gave his Extra Dry List. The Colonel said he was anxious to get a chance to exhibit the workings of his whipping post while Sam was in town, but failed to find a victim. He made a nice little speech and said Sam called on him and he was obliged to apologize for not having somebody on hand to whip, just to show Sam his copyrighted method of making criminals quit their meanness.

Col. Bob Wooldridge, as soon as he could get the floor, said he wanted to ask what Sam Jones meant by sneering at poor but honest men. He had heard him say Bryan was unfit to be President because he paid only $8.35 cents taxes. If Mr. Jones had a mouth-piece present he would like to know how rich a man had to be to be President. Mr. Jones evidently had his wires crossed. It is Senators and not Presidents who have to put up the stuff as a rule to get there.

Few of our Presidents have been rich men. Grant, Garfield, Harrison and Cleveland were all men of modest fortunes. Cleveland, it is true, came out rich, but he went in poor. And McKinley was worse than any of them, for he not only had nothing, but owed $118,000 to those who paid his debts for him a year or two before. "Growing eloquent as he proceeded, Col. Wooldridge declared: "Who did Sam vote for anyway? He says he didn't vote for Bryan because he was a poor man. Then who did he vote for, as Bryan was the only man on the track who paid any taxes at all. McKinley was in the hands of an assignee, and Palmer is even now begging for a pension of $50.00 a month to keep him from suffering in his old age. If he was hunting rich men to vote for, he surely didn't find them in that assortment."

Col. Lem McKee said Bro. Jones was not always consistent. One night he eulogized Abe Lincoln for being a rail-splitter, and the next night sneered at Bryan for being poor but honest.

At this point President Bassett cut off the discussion by ruling it out of order, as he was afraid some of the colonels might say something if they continued to talk.

After appointing a committee to investigate a report that the groundhogs had spoiled the weather, the club adjourned until another night.

Editor Charles C. Moore, of the Bluegrass Blade, of Lexington, was this week sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by the Federal Court at Cincinnati, on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. J. E. Hughes, Moore's publisher, was fined $25.

Conductor's Story

A Friend Put Him on the Track to Good Health

Had Been Laid Up for Two Months with Dizzy Spells.

"I have had a stomach trouble for the past three years and last winter I was so that I could not work for over two months. I would have dizzy spells when I could not get out of bed, and when I was lying down it seemed as though there was a hard lump in my stomach. The medicines given me afforded relief only for a time. A friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and after taking six bottles I am glad to say I never felt better in my life. I do not have any dizzy spells and do not feel the lump in my stomach." A. JACKSON, Passenger Conductor, P. C. C. and St. Louis Ry., 429 19th St., Louisville, Kentucky.

OBITUARY.

Little Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Coleman died, Feb. 1, aged eleven months. He had been sick for quite awhile, when he took the grippe. All that loving hands could do, proved of no avail. It makes my heart ache when I see the almost heart-broken parents, grieving so sorely for their baby. This is the second time they have been left childless. Dear Friends, take heart saying:

"Baby has gone to the golden weather

Over the shining mountains brow, Through the dark mist we'll walk together

We have only each other now. Put your hand in mine and pray,

Pray that soon the morn will break, That God will hear us and show us the way.

Safe into Heaven for our babies sake." A FRIEND.

Prepare For Spring. Don't let this season overtake you before you have attended to the important duty of purifying your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.
