WORD "YELLOWHAMMER"
 Originated With a Confederate Soldier at Hopkinsville.

"The term 'yellowhammer,' as applied to Alabama and Alabamians, originated with a Confederate soldier named Will Arnett, who belonged to Company A. of N. B. Forrest's original regiment, at Hopkinsville, Ky., in 1861," says Maj. C. H. Mutton in the Birmingham Age-Herald. "When the company from Huntsville, Ala., the captain of which was Rev. D. C. Kelly, who became one of Forrest's majors, and which was afterward commanded by Lieut. Nance, arrived at Hopkinsville, the officers and men were handsomely uniformed, and on their sleeves and the tails of their coats were bits of brilliant yellow cloth. Forrest's troops turned out to receive the Alabamians. As they marched by us—I was in company A—Will Arnett, who was a great wag, cried out at the sight of their yellow-trimmed coats: 'Yellowhammers, yellowhammers! Flicker, flicker, flicker!' There was a roar of laughter at this apt wit, and from that moment we spoke of the Huntsville soldiers as 'Yellowhammers,' a term that quickly spread throughout the Confederate armies and was applied to all soldiers from Alabama, and so today we have the 'Yellowhammer State.' Will Arnett saw, of course, in the coats of the Huntsville soldiers, a suggestion of the familiar wild bird, yellowhammer."

MAGIC CITY

Will Spring Up To-Day to be Called Lawton.

Will be the Metropolis of the New Oklahoma Lands Just Opened.

Lawton, Ok., Aug. 3.—Lawton, named after the lamented General Lawton, and seemingly destined to be the metropolis of the new country soon to be opened following the lottery drawing at El Reno, is a city of 10,000 people. Three thousand came yesterday and as many more arrived to-day. It is located just outside the limits of Fort Still. By Tuesday, when the government auction sale of town lots begins, there will be nearly 20,000 people here. Yet until Tuesday it will not be a town at all. Not a soul has title to anything, yet 400 business houses have been put up ready to be moved to the lots that their owners may be able to acquire. In the meantime they are stocked and open for business.

A building has been put up for a national bank that has been organized by Kansas republican politicians. It is the plan to buy a lot Tuesday morning, move the building to it the same day and open the bank for deposits before night. The town site proper, half a section reserved by the government, bears only this building erected there by special favor, and the land office. All the other buildings and 1,500 tents occupy adjoining lands, many of them being on the two quarter sections that Mr. Woods and Miss Beals, who drew the capital prizes at El Reno, will undoubtedly select. These claims have been considered worth $20,000 to $30,000 each, but if Lawton is half the town that it promises to-night they will easily be worth two or three times the largest estimate.

The republicans have held a mass meeting and have decided to run a municipal ticket. "Down with corruption and only honest men for office," will be the republican war cry. What democrats will adopt as a slogan is not known, but they are supposed to favor a wide-open town and that is the kind of a town Lawton is most likely to be, with or without democratic control.

A resolution was adopted thanking Judge M. D. Brown for his faithful and efficient services as City Judge protem. The election ordinance was re-enacted without change, ordering the election of seven councilmen in November, one from each ward.

ERA OF COMBINATION

Community of Railroad Ownership in the United States.

Two-Thirds of Entire Mileage Is Divided into Nine Groups, All of Which Will Eventually Work in Perfect Harmony.

A map of the United States showing the owners of two-thirds of its railway mileage is given in the Common Carrier. This paper shows that owing to an understanding or agreement, verbal or written, generally the latter, half a dozen financial leaders control two-thirds of the railway mileage of the United States and thus maintain rates. The article, as abstracted in the Railway Digest, gives the names of seven or eight men who thus control 108,404 miles of road, and the table of roads, grouped as controlled, is given below. Says the latter paper:

"The writer further remarks that community of ownership will not mean low wages or high rates. Under private ownership men of ability will be well paid. It is the government that pays modest salaries for responsibility. Railway owners believe with Andrew Carnegie: 'There is no price too dear to pay for perfection.'"

ELK'S BASE BALL.

Wonderful Game to Be Played Next Tuesday.

Owensboro and Hopkinsville Elks To Meet on the Diamond For Blood.

Perhaps the greatest ball game ever played on the continent, says the Owensboro Inquirer, will be seen Tuesday (to-day) on the diamond of Owensboro, near Hickman park, the contending clubs being the Owensboro Elks against the Hopkinsville Elks. Each club has been at star chamber practice for months and months, and have attained that degree of perfection in the manly art of ball tossing, ball catching and ball batting, not to mention other bawling proclivities acquired, as will put the fans to wondering how the game of base ball could ever have reached such a pinnacle.

The proceeds of the game will be devoted to the purchase of a set of musical instruments with which to supply the organized brass band of the Owensboro Elks which is destined to out tout any band in this county or Europe.

In the absence of the instruments to be purchased with the proceeds, the Cattlettsburg military band has kindly consented to furnish the music during and between each inning.

The uniforms of each club are gay, gaudy and giddy, cut V pattern with bloomer trail, and are something entirely new in ball circles and emanated from the prolific brains of those true artists in dress, Messrs. Lawrence Spring, Lee Levy and Knox Boyd.

- The line-up will be as follows:
- Owensboro.
- John Thixton, Jr. Third Base
 - C. L. Applegate Second Base
 - J. T. Ellis First Base
 - George Burch Pitcher
 - H. D. Boyd Catcher
 - Fred Clark Center Field
 - James Jarboe Right Field
 - Dudley Lindsay Left Field
 - Lee Levy Short Stop
 - La Vega Clements Substitute
 - Lawrence Spring Substitute
- Hopkinsville.
- F. H. Bassett Third Base
 - E. B. Bassett Second Base
 - Dr. E. H. Barker First Base
 - J. T. Edmunds Pitcher
 - Charles Eggleton Catcher
 - J. O. Littlehales Center Field
 - B. J. Mathews Right Field
 - Major Dabney Left Field
 - W. S. Sheridan Short Stop
 - John Feland Substitute
 - Judge W. W. Owen, with proper body guard, will umpire the game and the first kick made against his decision will endanger the life and limb of the kicker. An automatic scorer will tally the runs.

The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock p. m., standard time, and fans are requested to be in their seats at that time and ready to applaud each play.

The committee in charge of the game have visited several of the merchants, many of whom have agreed to close their stores and take a holiday in the afternoon.

MORE RAIN.

Welcome Shower On Yesterday Causes Rejoicing.

A good shower fell in the city yesterday morning, the best rain for many weeks and about the only one of consequence that has fallen in the city since June. It was a steady downpour and lasted nearly an hour. The indications are that it will be followed by others. The recent showers have put the farmers in better spirits and some of those in town yesterday estimate the corn crop at half a yield. Esq. J. N. Murphy, of Macedonia, says he has 60 acres that will make at least 60 barrels to the acre. Some neighborhoods report almost a total failure and it is almost impossible to make a correct estimate. Probably 25 per cent of a crop would be a high estimate for Christian county as a whole. Tobacco is doing very well.

Some Special Features of the State Sunday-School Convention.

The State Convention which meets at Danville, August 20-22, will be specially noted (1) For the character of the speakers, each one being a specialist on the particular work to which he is assigned, (2) For the music: Prof. Hopkins is a splendid leader, and has prepared some specialties in the way of solos, duets quartets and choruses that will be delightful, (3) For a display of helps and appliances, (4) The Primary Work, (5) For the unusually large attendance that is promised.
