FEDERAL COURT.

Takes a Hand In the Hopkins
County Mining Troubles.

Judge Evans Enjoins Strikers and Others From Interference
In Any Way.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14.—After months of alleged lawlessness growing out of the troubles between union coal miners and the operators in Hopkins county, the Federal Court has been asked to intervene. An order has been issued by Judge Evans which, if not obeyed by the strikers, will be enforced by Federal marshals.

The Federal Court was invoked by the Reinecke Coal Mining Company last night, and Judge Evans signed an order to prevent "all persons whatsoever" until the further order of the court from interfering with the company or its employees in the operation of its mines.

James D. Wood, the District President of the United Mine Workers, and a number of others are especially brought within the provisions of the order and then "all persons whatsoever" are included.

The order further enjoins them from entering upon the company's premises for the purpose of interfering with its business in any manner and from compelling by intimidation, force or violence to induce the company's employees to refuse to work or to prevent other persons by such means from entering the company's employ.

VAULT DOOR

Blown Open But Burglars Could Not Force Safe.

Burglars entered the Bank of Trenton about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, and blowing open the door of the vault with nitroglycerine, secured about $300 in cash, belonging to the government and deposited by postmaster Martin.

Several holes were bored in the door of the safe, which contained a large sum of money, and explosives inserted, but the thieves were unable to blow it open. Muffled reports were heard by citizens of the town, but the robbery was not discovered until about 6 o'clock in the morning.

The tools used in the building were stolen from a blacksmith shop. The burglars escaped on a hand car and at last accounts had not been captured.

While several citizens were looking over the bank building a charge of nitro-glycerine exploded, badly shocking some of them. Mr. Phil Dickinson was thrown against a desk and hurt pretty badly. His injuries are not of a very serious nature, however. Mr. T. W. Hewlett was also hurt about the face and head.

COFFEY'S MURDER.

Examining Trials of The Prisoners Held Still In Progress.

Many Speeches to Follow The Taking of Testimony in The Case.

The trial of the men accused of the murder of Robt. H. Coffey has occupied all this week and bids fair to last at least two days more. The examination of witnesses was still in progress yesterday. There have been a great many witnesses in the case, but the commonwealth is relying upon John H. Fields as its leading witness.

Fields swore that he saw and recognized Jim Will Anderson as one of the men who shot at him on the morning of Oct. 26. It was this shooting that caused Coffey's murder, as he was searching the woods for Anderson and others when he was shot from ambush. He said there were seven other men with Anderson. He heard the shots that killed Coffey and saw the tracks examined and measured about Coffey's body, when they were found to fit Anderson's shoes. He also saw the hat found near Coffey's body, said to belong to Anderson.

Deputy Sheriff C. J. Barnes described his part in the arrest of the men, when Will Goldsworthy attempted to shoot him with a pistol that dropped from Fields' pocket. He also saw the tracks and blood spots about the dead man's body. Chas. Johnson, a colored fireman, was another material witness.

He also recognized Anderson standing behind a tree shooting at him and Fields.

Recognized him as he stepped into plain view. He positively maintained that Anderson was one of the men in the early morning affair.

Deputy Geo. W. Lapper corroborated Fields on several points.

It was proven by several witnesses that Anderson had been seen wearing a hat of the same color as the one found near the scene of the murder, and shown in court.

Wednesday afternoon Judge Candler dismiss the charges against Ed Goldsworthy and Ellis Deckard, on the ground that the evidence against them was insufficient. The witnesses for the defense were examined yesterday.

The three men still held are Jim Will Anderson, Will Goldsworthy and George Phillips.

The defense closed yesterday afternoon and the argument will begin to-day and continue until at least four speeches have been made.

The three men now in charge are all young men. J. W. Anderson is about 35 and is of strong physique, with dark hair and keen gray eyes. He looks like a man of daring and fearlessness.

Will Goldsworthy is a slender young fellow, apparently about 30, with sandy hair that curls low down on his neck. He has a sandy moustache and pale complexion. He does not look like a desperado.

George Phillips is small and youthful. He looks to be about 25 years old. His face is beardless and his keen eye indicates the fighting stock from which he comes.

He was married about two weeks before his arrest, and his bride, a fine looking brunette with a pretty face and attractive figure, sat behind him the first day or two of the trial.

MEETING CLOSSES.

Dr. Broughton Will Leave For Atlanta To-Day.

Revival Results In Many Additions to the Church--Thirteen Wednesday Night.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church has continued all this week. Dr. Len G. Broughton preaching to overflowing houses. The entire church, converted into one big room, has been filled in the afternoons and packed at night. The sermons have been strong appeals to the intelligence and better feelings of the people and there have been a large number of confessions. The doors of the church were opened Wednesday night for the first time and thirteen young people united with the church. Last night several more joined and the meeting closed with the best service of all.

Dr. Broughton and his singer, Mr. Tilmann, left this morning for Atlanta. This popular evangelist was here last year and his return this year has made him many new friends and admirers.

HEAVY SALES

But Receipts of Weed Are Very Light.

The sales of tobacco this week amounted to 115 hogsheads and full prices were maintained. Receipts continue light. The sales were made up largely of common stock, no fine leaf changing hands. Snuff goods are in demand and bring good figures. Very little loose tobacco has been delivered on the market, hence there is not much doing in this branch of the business.

Loose buyers are in the country inspecting the new crop, but sales are not as numerous as they were at a corresponding time last year. The crop of 1901 is a fine one and the impression is that much of the weed will command outside figures.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE.

Charles F. Grainger's Majority
Over Stratton is 6,591.

Louisville, Nov. 12.—Mr Charles F. Grainger's official majority over Mr. John A. Stratton in the mayoralty race is 6,591. Mr. Grainger received 21,004 votes and Mr. Stratton 14,413. These are the official figures as ascertained by the county board of election commissioners. Commonwealth's Attorney-elect Joseph Huffaker has a majority of 6,633, receiving 22,727 votes to W. B. Holt's 16,095, and Coroner-elect Harris M. Kelly a majority of 6,914, receiving 22,728 to Dr. Groves 15,824.

VERY CLOSE.

Edwards' Official Majority For Senator Only 4 Votes.

Christian's Official Majority For Feland Offset by 449 For Edwards in Hopkins.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 12.—Rev. D. S. Edwards, Democrat, has defeated John Feland, Republican, for Senator in this district. The County Election Commissioners met this morning and completed the count. Edwards' majority in this county is 449, while Feland carried Christian county by 445. This gives Edwards four majority. There was no material change in the vote of the other county and city officers. The vote gives Edwards 3,331 and Feland 2,882 for Senator. The decision of the board on the contested ballots was unanimous. Rev. D. S. Edwards, the new Senator, is a Baptist preacher, living at Hanson, Ky.

The total vote in the district is: Edwards, 6,610; Feland, 6,606.

The count was delayed in Hopkins by the absence of Geo. A. Stewart, the Republican election commissioner. On the face of the unofficial returns Edwards had 438 majority in Hopkins but an error was discovered that increased this to 442 and in the counting of the 21 contested ballots Edwards gained 7 votes.

The Hopkins county board will certify the returns from that county to a meeting of the Christian county board on next Monday, the 18th inst, and the Christian county board will have to issue the certificate of election, that being the larger county.

The total vote of 13,216 was the largest ever polled in the district.

FIELDS WILL BE FULL

Of Sportsmen for the Next Six Weeks.

To-day the season for shooting quail opens in Kentucky. For the next six weeks lovers of the sport will have a try at the birds on every possible occasion. For the past two or three weeks owners of bird dogs have been getting them in condition for field work. Favorite guns have been overhauled and shells loaded and the arrival of the open season has been looked forward to with pleasant anticipation.

A large number of Hopkinsvillians will participate in the sport on the opening day.

Many went to the country yesterday in order that they might "get to business" with the rising of the sun, and others will leave this morning. Birds are reported very plentiful but the chances are that it will not be long before there will be a scarcity.
