PICTURES IN THE EYE.

One of the Mysteries Science Has Failed to Entirely Explain.

When the eyes are closed a never ending series of pictures pass before a person's mind if she or he chooses to look at them. Lying in bed, after a tiring or exciting day, with your eyes closed, and about to fall asleep, have you never seen, apparently in the eyeball, spots and streaks of colored light, changing their forms and shifting their places. Have you never watched them passing into complicated patterns, like those of the kaliedoscope, or into pretty landscapes quite unknown to you, or into strange faces, now and again, very beautiful or angelic, but often as ugly and hideous as goblins from the infernal regions, or haply, into scenes of action reminding you of the drama, but such as you never saw in real life or upon any stage?

What are they? It is one of the mysteries of the marvelous, nay, miraculous, organ, the brain, says the Philadelphia Press. We must distinguish them from other mysteries of the "borderland" which lies between the adjoining states of wideawake and sound asleep.

Pictures in the eye are more akin to what are called "after images." A gentleman, after a fatiguing day, was cheered by the sight of a beefsteak for his dinner, as he very well might, but seemingly the steak made a very deep impression on his mind or his digestion, for while he was drowning, with his eyes closed, after eating it, he saw it again as vividly as before, and on dropping asleep he saw it a third time in his dream. It was doubtless a substantial steak and not a ghost, and yet it haunted him.

There is, of course, more than one theory of these living creatures in the eye, or, as they are called in science, "hypnagogic images." One is that they are formed on the retina of the eye and confined to it. Another is that they are purely mental and formed in the cortex, or bark, so to speak, of the cerebrum. As often happens, the truth appears to lie in a combination of both views. Recent observations of M. Yves Delage have put the question to experimental proof. When we look at a bright body, for example, the sun, and shut our eyes, we see a colored spot of light, and if we move the eye up or down, to right or left, the spot moves with it. The spot, in fact, is left by the image of the sun upon the retina, and, therefore, moves with it. Now, if the hypnagogic images are on the retina, they also will move with the eye, and this is what M. Delage has found. Nevertheless, the brain also comes into play

If Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Ill., and the directors of the company which manufacture his wonderful remedy did not stand so high in the community in which they live, their statements as to the merits of that remedy would not be accorded the weight which they now receive. Their statements, however, are backed by hundreds of voluntary testimonials which prove that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a most satisfactory cure for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, liver and stomach troubles. Druggists sell it.

They come from people in every walk of life and from every state in the Union. The following from Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburg, Ga., speaks for itself: "I would have been dead but for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me of chronic diarrhoea after seven years of suffering. I can never say too much in praise of that remedy." For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

TROUBLES OF MILLIONAIRES.

They Find the Public Somewhat Prone to Fleece Them.

"To be a millionaire is not all joy," he said, getting out of his $12,000 motor car, according to the Philadelphia Record.

"The dence it isn't."

"Well, it isn't."

"Why isn't it?"

"On account of the way everybody piles it on you in the matter of prices. For instance, this morning a dentist sent my wife's bill for $150. He hasn't done much to her teeth, and the bill seems exorbitant. I am on my way now to get another dentist's opinion on it, and this other fellow will certainly charge me for his advice, and he may be, furthermore, a friend of the first man's, and on account of friendship he may say the bill is all right."

"How provoking!"

"Isn't it? I have to bind everybody I do business with down to a contract. Unless I say: 'Now, how much are you going to charge? Draw up a paper. Put it down in black and white'—unless I fence myself in with every precaution, I am fleeced on all sides. Because I am a millionaire people take me for a fool. They think they can charge me double, treble and quadruple. I'm in hot water with them all the time."

"Remember," he went on, "that $8 pair of shoes you showed me last month? Well, I went to your bootmaker and ordered a pair just like them, and when the bill came home it was for $15. I had made no contract. Hence I had to pay up."

"Doctors and lawyers charge me tremendous prices. They don't gain anything by it, but they gain more than I do, at that. I am getting mad at their extortion; I keep changing from one to another. But it does me no good. They're all alike."

"When I go to buy a horse I leave my own carriage three or four blocks away, and I make my purchase before revealing my name. How mad the dealers look when they hear my name—when they perceive that they have given reasonable rates to a well-known millionaire. But it's seldom I get the better of a bargain in this way."

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for An Old One—How It is Done in Hopkinsville.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Hopkinsville citizen.

J. B. Cravens, blacksmith, of 320 West 19th St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills practically gave me a new back. For three or four years a kidney trouble had caused me the me the constant and severe aches and pains through my back and compelled me to constantly complain in more than one way. When arising in the morning I felt sore and lame and had to make a great effort to dress myself. The trouble grew worse and a weakness of the kidneys set in which caused me a great deal of annoyance. Willing to try almost anything I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as I saw them advertised locally and got a box at Thomas & Trabern's drug store. They brought me a great deal of benefit. My back is well and strong now and the trouble with the kidney secretions is much relieved. The experiment has given me a great deal of faith in Doan's Kidney Pills."
