Circuit Court and Bonds Fixed at $500 Each.

Prisoners Have not Yet Furnished Bail and Are Confined in County Jail.

The preliminary trial of Ike Poindexter and Frank White, both colored, who engaged in a shooting on Sixth street county court day, was set for Monday afternoon next. When the prisoners were brought before the court they waived examination and were held over Circuit Court.

Bond in each case was fixed at $500. They have not furnished bail and are still in jail.

Poindexter was shot in the neck and the wound appeared at the time to be a very serious one, but he is now considered out of danger.

White was shot twice, once in the arm and once in the thigh. While his wounds were quite painful, it is not thought that they would give him much trouble, unless blood poisoning should set up. His injuries, however, have not yielded promptly to treatment and he is still suffering considerably.

PARTY SCRAP.

Court House Crowd Runs Rough Shod Over Outsiders.

Compromised by Leaving Jim Rogers Off The Ticket For 1905.

The Republican committee meeting Monday for re-organization was a "warm number." The party is divided into two factions, known as the "courthouse crowd" and the "outsiders." Judge A. H. Anderson, the chairman, was again presented by the courthouse faction, while the outsiders wanted Judge James "Breathitt" or Dr. Andrew Sargent. James F. Rogers was spokesman for the outsiders, but sustained a knock-out. Finding that Anderson could not harmonize things, Mr. E. B. Long, President of the City Bank, was elected as a compromise candidate and Mr. Rogers claims that Mr. Long's son, Stanley Long, is to be given the nomination for representative, which Mr. Rogers wants again.

The negro issue was raised and Mr. Rogers was censured for voting in favor of the bill to prevent co-racial education in Kentucky. It is said one colored orator declared that "since the November election it is no disgrace for a white man to eat with a negro."

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Terry Coal and Coke Company Hold an Election.

One Thousand Acres of Coal Land Purchased and Mines Now in Operation.

At the election of directors and officers of the Terry Coal and Coke Company, of this city, held in the Odd Fellows building Wednesday morning, the following officers were chosen: R. E. Cooper, president; L. G. Williams, vice-president; Brack Owen, of Paducah, 2nd vice-president; J. F. Garnett, treasurer; L. Haydon, Secretary and general manager.

The company has bought 1,000 acres of coal land adjoining the Empire coal lands at Empire, Ky., on the L. & N., fifteen miles north of this city. They have opened a new coal mine and a contract for a spur out to the mine is being arranged.

The vein of coal is about four feet thick and is the celebrated peacock. The output for the present will be consumed by the wagon trade. When the spur track is completed the coal will then be furnished to the general trade.

The mines will be enlarged as rapidly as possible and the output increased to 100,000 tons per year.

MR. DUFFY TO LEAVE.

Will Locate in Madisonville to Practice His Profession.

Mr. John C. Duffy, of this city, has formed a law partnership with County Attorney Ed C. Morrow, of Madisonville, to take effect December 1st. Mr. Duffy will retain his office in this city until January 1st and will not move his family to Madisonville until next spring.

Mr. Duffy has been practicing in this city for eight years and has acquired a reputation as a speaker of ability, force and earnestness. He has been a Democratic leader of influence and growing popularity. In 1899 he made the race for representative and was defeated by less than 400 votes. In 1903 he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for commonwealth's attorney and although he faced odds that made success impossible, he developed great strength all over the district and the result was surprisingly close. For some years Mr. Duffy has been building up a practice in Hopkins county and he has concluded to move there. He has formed a partnership with one of the popular and influential young Democratic lawyers of Madisonville and we predict for him a successful career. We commend him to the people of Hopkins county as a gentleman of culture and character and a lawyer of ability and learning. He is a member of the Athenaeum Literary Society.

BISHOP WOODCOCK.

Third Selection of a Successor To Bishop Dudley.

It Is Considered Certain That The Third Time Will Be the Charm.

Dr. Charles Edward Woodcock, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Detroit, was elected Wednesday night by the Episcopal Council to succeed the late T. U. Dudley as bishop of the Kentucky diocese. The election came on the twelfth ballot, Dr. Frank DuMoulin, of Chicago; Dr. W. T. Manning, of New York, and Dr. F. F. Reese, of Nashville, being also voted for.

Bishop Thomas Underwood Dudley died suddenly of heart disease January 22 in New York City.

The Rev. Dr. W. G. Murray, of Baltimore, was chosen as his successor, but was unable to accept.

The Diocesan Council of Kentucky agreed on Rev. Dr. Arthur Lloyd and he was elected to the position. He declined it, as he did not feel at liberty to quit the parish he was in charge of.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Woodcock, rector of St. John's church in Detroit, is the third choice and it is said it is certain he will accept.

BRADBURN LOSES.

Court of Appeals Reverses Judge Osborne's Opinion.

Republican Remains As Circuit Judge In the Eighth Judicial District.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16.—The Court of Appeals today reversed the judgment of the Warren Circuit Court in the case of John M. Galloway against B. W. Bradburn, involving the Circuit Judgeship of the Eighth judicial district and in which Bradburn, the Democratic contestant for office, was awarded it, and remanded the case with directions to dismiss the petition.

The reversal is voted after the over-ruling by the court here of a motion to dismiss the appeal because proper bond was not filed. The opinion of the court, which is a conclusive victory for Judge Galloway, the Republican incumbent, was delivered by Judge Hopson, the whole court considering the case.

The election out of which the contest grew was held in November, 1903. By the official count, had at that time, Judge Galloway received a majority of 270 in the district. Special Judge Osborne, of Harrison county, heard the contest, and gave Judge B. W. Bradburn the office by a majority of 342 votes. On the appeal of the case the attorneys filed a regular supersedeas bond instead of the bond required by the election statute, and on the ground of defective bond, the attorneys for Bradburn moved the Appellate Court to dismiss the appeal taken from Judge Osborne's decision. In overruling this motion the court here holds that a defect in an appeal bond can be later amended under the provision of Sections 134 and 682 of the code of practice.

As to the difference in the returns by the Election Commission and the later showing in the court below, the court here says that the Circuit Judge had authority to "summarily determine" whether the ballots had been tampered with. The court here examined the ballots from the two precincts in contest and says there is "no doubt but that the ballots have been mutilated since they were returned by the election officers," and a rule in such cases is that the return of the precinct officers must be accepted as final.
