HORSE SHOW CLOSING TO-DAY

The Pembroke Fair Has Been a Big Success This Time.

WEATHER WAS FINE.

Forty Exhibitors and Fine Stock From Many States.

The Pembroke Horse Show will close to day. For once the show has been blessed by perfect weather. The show has been a pronounced success in point of attendance and in the character of stock shown.

Many horsemen from the Bluegrass section have strings of horses on hand and the show Thursday was equal almost to a similar event in Louisville. Among those who had horses were Matt S. Cohen, of Lexington; Franklin, of Glasgow; Kirby, of Bowling Green; Nichols & Son, Joe Ray and others. All of these and others had a choice lot of stock. About forty exhibitors are on hand from the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin. Included in the list of horses are winners at Madison Square Garden, New York, and the Louisville Horse Show. There are many famous champions of the show ring, and the meetings in the Pembroke ring have been and will be a battle royal among giants.

Hopkinsville sent out a big delegation Thursday night, probably 150 going by rail and many in vehicles.

Interest centered in the $1,000 stake offered by the fair association for five-gaited saddle horses, which was the largest stake offered by any fair association in Kentucky this year. Ten horses entered for the money and all were on hand to compete for the rich prize and the judges awarded first prize money to Edna Mae, ridden by Robert Moreland, of Lexington, with Bourbon Prince, ridden by Matt Cohen, of Lexington, second, and Indian Boy, owned and ridden by Sterling Nichols, of Bowling Green, third. To-day is expected to be the best day of all and those who have not been should go by all means.

HOOSER-SHANKLIN.

Young People of Hopkinsville Married in Nashville.

Mr. Emmett Hooser and Miss Maud Shanklin were married in Nashville Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Hooser returned Wednesday night and are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Grubbs, south of the city. They will reside here.

The groom is a popular young business man and is a brother of Mr. Jas. K. Hooser.

His bride is a daughter of Mrs. Sue C. Shanklin and is an accomplished young lady who has a host of friends. She was one of the four successful contestants in the Kentuckian's popular lady contest for a trip to the Jamestown Exposition and this is the second of the quartet to marry. Miss Mabel Dillman being the first of the four young ladies to become a bride.

EARLINGTON P. M.

Chas. G. Robinson Dies From Hemorrhage of the Brain.

Earlington, Ky., Sept. 2.—Charles G. Robinson, who has served this community as postmaster for the past eleven years in a most thoroughly satisfactory manner, and who recently received a reappointment for the fourth time, died suddenly last night of hemorrhage of the brain at the residence of his sister, where he had gone only the day before.

Mr. Robinson was 43 years old and had never married. He was one of the city's leading business men, and quite wealthy. He leaves three brothers and three sisters, as follows: Ben T. Robinson, former representative of Hopkins county, of Morton's Gap; J. W. Robinson, of the Madisonville Ice and Laundry Company, and George Robinson, who was his assistant here; Mrs. H. L. Bramwell, of Morganfield; Miss Eliza Robinson, of this city, and Mrs. King.

The funeral will be tomorrow at 10 o'clock, and will be conducted by the B. P. O. E., of which he was an active member.

PROMINENT MEN DEAD

John Frederick Kellner, president of the Central Consumers' Company, and well known in fraternal and German-American circles, died Wednesday morning of an affection of the throat. Mr. Kellner was born in Bavaria, and was a splendid type of the self-made man.

Mr. Kellner's ailment was of such a nature that he was unable to swallow, and for months he took all nourishment through a tube which had been inserted in his stomach.

Lionel Sackville-West, formerly British Minister to the United States, is dead in London.

John A. Hall, president of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, died in London.

The Rev. Francis Tiffany, preacher, author and traveler, died at his home in Cambridge, Mass. He was born in Maryland in 1827.

Word was received at the War Department of the death from heart disease at Fort Yellowstone, Wyo., of Brig. Gen. Calvin DeWitt, retired.

BASE BALL.

Elks and Woodmen to Play Fourth Game.

The ball game between the Elks and Woodmen Thursday resulted in a tie. At the end of the eleventh inning the score was 11 to 11. As each nine has a game to its credit the contest will have to be settled by another game which will be played one day next week.

Madisonville played the Hopkinsville club at Mercer Park yesterday afternoon, but the contest had not closed when we went to press. This was the third of a series.

The local nine will play Pembroke at the latter place today.

NONOGENARIAN

From Crittenden County Dies at Asylum.

Sullivan Boaz, an asylum patient from Crittenden county, died at the institution Thursday, aged 92 years. Uraemic poisoning was the cause of death. He had been in the asylum only a short while. The remains were shipped to Fredonia yesterday.

ALL NOMINEES FOR CONGRESS

Ten Of the Present Members of Congress are Again Nominated.

CONFLICTING CLAIMS.

Democrats Expect to Redeem Third, Ninth and Tenth Districts.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 4.—The Democratic congressional nominees are as follows, those being marked * being present members:

- First District—*Ollie M. James.
 - Second District—*A. O. Stanley.
 - Third District—R. Y. Thomas, Jr.
 - Fourth District—*Ben Johnson.
 - Fifth District—*Swagar Sherley.
 - Sixth District—*Joseph L. Rhinock.
 - Seventh District—J. Campbell Cantrell.
 - Eighth District—*Harvey Helm.
 - Ninth District—James N. Kehoe.
 - Tenth District—Amos Davis.
 - Eleventh District—A. G. Patterson.
- The congressional ticket of the Republicans of Kentucky is made up as follows:
- First District—Jerry Porter.
 - Second District—John C. Worsham.
 - Third District—*A. D. James.
 - Fourth District—D. W. Gaddie.
 - Fifth District—R. C. Kinkead.
 - Sixth District—John R. Inglis.
 - Seventh District—J. L. Bristow.
 - Eighth District—J. W. Bethurum.
 - Ninth District—*J. B. Bennett.
 - Tenth District—*John W. Langley.
 - Eleventh District—*Don C. Edwards.

The Democrats claim that they will carry every congressional district in the State except the Eleventh, and will be able to take three of the four Congressmen away from the Republicans. On the other hand, the Republicans argue that they will not only be able to hold their own, but will annex another in the person of Mr. Kinkead, from the Fifth.

Close observing politicians in both parties concede that the tobacco troubles in Kentucky will cut a figure in the election in Kentucky this fall. Therefore, it is difficult to get any line approximating accuracy on the situation. There will be much breaking away from party lines. It is believed that the Democrats, however, will benefit by the breakaway, although they may not do so. There are any number of Republican tobacco growers, and some exceedingly prominent and influential men are going to vote the straight Democratic ticket on the ground that here in Kentucky they have witnessed the operations of the so-called tobacco trust and that "a Republican Governor has declined to institute any proceedings against the trust." On the other hand, it is said that there are Democratic tobacco growers not in sympathy with the Equity movement who applaud Gov. Willson's course and who will vote the Republican ticket this fall. However, the Democrats say there are more tobacco growers in the organization than there are on the outside, and the fact that all the growers' organizations in the State are absolutely in control of the situation and their respective outputs indicates the strength of the organization men over the anti-organization men.

BARGAIN For Sale

*I wish to AT ONCE dispose of the remains of the brick warehouse building that was occupied by R. M. Wooldridge & Co., and destroyed the night of the raid and situated on the L. & N. railroad opposite the depot.

UNIFORM RANK

Will Go After a $250 Drill Prize.

The Uniform Rank, K. of P., No. 27, members are drilling every night except Saturday at Mercer Park, with plenty of electric lights. Ladies are cordially welcomed. They are preparing for the Lexington drill, which takes place Sept. 21-23. Capt. C. H. Tandy feels confident that he will capture the $250 prize.

ADMIRAL GLASS.

Hopkinsville Naval Officer Dead in California.

Rear Admiral Henry Glass, a retired naval officer born in Hopkinsville in 1844, died in Paso Robles, Cal., Wednesday, from heart failure. He was a first cousin of Mr. John C. Latham and Miss Jennie Glass, the latter of this city.

NEW RAILROAD

Will Be Ready For Operation Very Soon.

The Terry Coal and Coke Company have about completed the work of grading on their railroad, which runs from their mines to the L. & N. road, connecting at a point near Mannington. Cross-ties are being laid and the rails will be put in position and the track completed very soon.

FORCED TO RETRACT

Another Charge Against Night Riders.

Murray, Ky., Sept. 3.—Deputies have gone to arrest Jasper Garland, Peter Kirk and Allen Weatherford, charged with subornation of perjury by forcing Witness Ingram to repudiate the confession he made to Judge Wells.

Dr. Jenkins Returns.

Rev. M. A. Jenkins will return from Asheville, N. C., and fill his pulpit at the Baptist church tomorrow. The morning subject will be "The Threefold Appearing." The evening subject, "The Religious Calamity Howler."

DOOMED DOG

Extends Paw to Appointed Executioners And Is Saved

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 2.—Because "Jack," a $50 bull pup, shook the life out of a little dog belonging to Joel Jones, of this city, the animal was ordered killed by the police. When two policemen went to execute the order, "Jack" held out his paw and shook hands with them. This melted their hearts and they refused to kill the dog.

FATHER AND SON DIE OF POISON

Mother Also Made Very Ill by Eating of Fungus, Mistaken for Mushrooms.

A HOME STRICKEN.

Father Gathered Poison Fungus and Wife Refused to Cook it for Him.

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 2.—As a result of eating a fungus growth supposed to be mushrooms, Thomas Bysinger and his two sons of near Livermore, are dead, and Mrs. Bysinger is in a critical condition. Bysinger was a prominent farmer of McLean county. The dead boys were 11 and 13 years old.

Bysinger gathered the fungus growth in the woods off a hickory log. He thought he had found a fine lot of mushrooms. His wife refused to cook the alleged delicacy, saying that the stuff was poison. Bysinger insisted that he knew a mushroom when he saw it and laughed at his wife's fears. He took the alleged mushrooms to the home of one of his tenants and there had them cooked. To prove that he was right and his wife was wrong, Bysinger carried the cooked dish back home and ate heartily of the fungus growth. He induced his two sons to eat with him. Mrs. Bysinger was still cautious and ate sparingly. Within two hours the father and two sons were made critically ill. Physicians were summoned from Livermore and worked heroically with the afflicted trio. While assisting to care for her husband and two sons, Mrs. Bysinger also suffered a critical attack of poisoning from the fungus she had eaten. She was so sick that she did not know until hours later that her husband and sons had died at the same instant. Physicians in attendance believe that Mrs. Bysinger will recover. The triple funeral will be held on Wednesday morning. In addition to her illness of poison, the fond wife and mother is prostrated with a terrible grief.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.
