WHAT IS A JOKE?

It is a Serious Business to the Man
Who Concocts It.

"There's one thing I thought I knew,
but now I don't know," said Tommy.
"What is a joke?"

Father pricked up his ears, as it were. "A joke," he said slowly, "is something its maker thinks is funny,
but nobody else does."

"That explains it then. Today I said an awful quaint thing. Mother had a lot of women here, and they talked about clothes. I said: 'A woman's mind is always on clothes. When she ain't talking through her hat she's laughing up her sleeve.' But no one laughed, and I read that one too. Ten-ture a joke?"

"If I were to say when I came home from visiting the cemetery that I had returned from the dead, that would be a joke."

"Is that a practical joke?"

"It is not. It's a grave joke."

"What's a practical joke?"

"If your mother just before going out shopping asked for money and gave her all she wanted."

"Do you like practical jokes?"

"Not when they're as practical as that."

"Does every one like jokes?"

"Few people do. Most think it is more blessed to give than to receive."

"Then people can't take a joke?"

"There are some who can't. Editors for instance, rarely take a joke."

"Does any one make money from the writing of jokes?"

"Only the papermakers and the postal department of the government."

"Must a joke be funny to be a joke?"

"Few are."

"Then some are serious?"

"Not exactly. But if you refer to a sexton as a man of grave cares some-might think you intended to be jocu-lar."

"Is a pun like a joke?"

"Nothing at all. A man who makes a joke is an idiot, whereas a man who makes a pun is a criminal."

"Then the man who writes what he thinks are jokes is a funny fellow?"

"No; it is a serious business with him."

"He has his ups and downs, then?"

"Yes. He gets up courage to write to editors and gets turned down by them."

"You're not referring to the man
who writes the columns in the papers,
every day? Surely life is one joke
with him?"

"No, it isn't. He thinks he's a humorist, but he's a pessimist. He'd rather be a hodecarrier."

"Why does a hodecarrier make more money?"

"Well, he has a habit of climbing and often goes higher. Besides, the outdoor work is healthier."

"Isn't joke writing healthy?"

"Not when you're caught at it."

"Can a man write jokes and still be a gentleman?"

"You forget, Tommy, that our remarks are intended for publication and that I have many friends who write. Besides, I sometimes get off a joke or two myself."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The One Who Knew.

"Elijah," said the judge to the defendant, "you have had a fair trial.
The prosecuting attorney has shown by circumstantial evidence that cannot be gainsaid that you were in Mr.
Brown's chicken coop on the night that his hens disappeared, and your attorney in his speech has practically admitted that the theory of the prosecution is true. Have you anything to say before the court pronounces its decision?"

"Judge," said Elijah, rising politely,
"all I's got to say is dis. I don't know much about de law, but I does know hearsay evudence isn't good, an' all dese lawyebs says is hearsay. I oughter know, for I uz de only man
in that chicken coop dat night, an' I's denied it raight erlong."—Chicago Post.

An Apology?

A London Journal says that a lively discussion once took place in a town council in the north of England. One thing led to another till one of the disputants gave another the lie direct.
The insulted party rushed forward,
and the pair clinched. At that moment the first man exclaimed, "I reiterate that you are a liar!" To the astonishment of every one, the aggrieved party let go his hold. "Oh, well,"
he said, "in that case I accept the apology. If a man says he reiterates, that is all any gentleman can ask." He did not understand why the bystanders laughed, but the fight was off.

Anything to Oblige.

While crossing the ocean the two sprightly children of very seasick parents were scampering around the deck.
"Tom, dear," said the mother in a weary voice, "the children are too near the railing." But he was too ill to notice, and in sheer desperation his wife nudged him on the arm. "Speak to them, Tom," she said faintly.

With a wan smile he lifted his head
and said, "Eh—how do you do?"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Village Gossip.

"Is Squire Whetstone considerate of dumb animals?"

"I don't know how he treats 'em," answered Si Simling, "but he certainly speaks mighty kind of 'em when he's engineerin' a hoss trade."—Washington Star.

A Free Trip to Evansville and Return

EVERY BUSINESS DAY IN THE YEAR ON

ALL RAILROADS, STEAMBOATS AND TRACTION LINES

Come to Evansville to do your shopping. The metropolitan character of its stores, give you the advantage of selecting from much larger and more varied stocks than can be found in any city within such easy reach, and prices are lower than in any city in the country.

The members of The Retail Merchants' Rebate Association will pay your fare both ways, under the conditions specified below. Read the plan carefully and when you want merchandise that you cannot find in your home town come to Evansville.

TO GET YOUR FARE REFUNDED THROUGH THE ASSOCIATION BUY ONLY FROM MEMBERS WHOSE NAMES ARE LISTED BELOW.

MEMBERS

- Ask every member to enter your purchase of any and all cash amounts.
- Andrews Co., Dry Goods, Millinery.
- E. K. Ashby Co.
- Artes, Chas. F., Jewlery.
- Bitterman Bros., Jewlery.
- Blackman & Lunkenheimer, Queens-ware.

- Elmendorf Co., (Inc.) Carpets, etc.
- Geisler, G. W. Shoe Co., Shoes.
- Gross, N. & Son, Clothing.

THE PLAN

To customers coming a distance not exceeding 40 miles, the Association will refund fares both ways, provided the aggregate purchases amount to $25.00 or over from one or any of its members.

The above rule applies also to customers coming a distance of more than 40 miles, in such instances the round trip fare for 40 miles will be refunded, the customers paying only the excess mileage.

If the amount of the purchases are less than $25.00 and more than $5.00, the round trip fare of one mile for each dollar's worth purchased will be refunded.

Ask for a Rebate Book from the first member of the Association from whom a purchase is made, have all purchases entered therein, and when through, your fare will be refunded at the office of the Association.
Each customer is entitled to one book only.
