What Madisonville Has Gone And Done.

Madisonville, Ky., July 21—Six months ago this place did not support a single automobile. Since the holidays several agencies have located here, and as a result the streets are crowded with machines. About thirty have been purchased within three months. At the last meeting of the city council an order was made to buy a machine for the fire department. Mayor Gatlin and R. L. Harned, fire chief, selected one, which will be here this week. It will carry six chemical engines and five men.

O'Rear's Dish of Crow.

Before his nomination, Judge O'Rear, as the conferee of Dr. Amos, as the most outspokenly adverse critic of the means used by Gov. Wilson in his effort to repress lawlessness, as the avowed sympathizer with the cause and the official apologist for the acts of the night riders, was, with seemingly abundant reason, looked upon as their friend at court.

After nomination, the same Judge O'Rear has given his full sanction to a platform, the second plank of which declares that:

"We approve and indorse the Republican Administration of the affairs of the State and we approve and indorse all means employed by that Administration for the preservation of the State and favor the passage of such additional laws as may be necessary for that purpose."

That Wonderful Oil Pull Engine.

Two months ago Dr. J. A. B. Word, of Oak Grove, took the bit in his teeth and bought a Rumley Outfit, consisting of an Oil Pull Engine and a full threshing outfit and a gang plow with ten plows, with a cut of 14 inches each. He threshed his wheat without a hobble with 30 gallons of oil per day costing $1.50. Now he is fallowing thirty acres of land per day with this rig, burning 50 gallons of oil each day costing $3.50.

He has a harrow hooked on behind his gang, and leaves the ground in a fine condition. It took nerve to pay the price, but the man with nerve is the man who eventually wins out. It is the best investment the Doctor ever made.

Mules and Feed are Getting Higher Each Year.

A farmer is too wise to feed every thing he raises to mules to raise it with. It costs $120.00 to own and feed a mule every year. Labor is getting scarcer, less dependable and more costly all the time. Be wise. The wheat kings of Christian County can't afford to fallow their 300 and 1,000 acres with mules.

We can get you a rig here within five days. Let us put you right.

It costs in corn and hay $10.00 to fallow 30 acres with mules and $15.00 for hands and feeding equaling $25.00. With an Oil Pull and Gang it costs $3.50 for feed and $3.50 for labor, equaling $7.00. You cannot afford to lose that $18.00.

LOSES A CRIB.
Containing His Supply of 40 Barrels of Corn.

A crib containing forty barrels of corn belonging to Mr. J. W. Stamps, of the Bluff Springs neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Thursday night. It is not known how the fire originated. Mr. Stamps, after feeding his stock about night, locked the crib door and returned to his house. He was not smoking when in the crib and there were no shucks in the building. His loss is about $250.

This is the second loss Mr. Stamps has sustained by fire within the past few years. About three years ago his wagon, loaded with tobacco, was burned, presumably by night riders. Mr Stamps was a witness for the defense in the Van Hooser case recently tried at Owensboro.

PEMBROKE NEGRO Accused of Theft by Another Negro in Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., July 20.—Although Charles Laubshire, employed at the water works pumping station declared he recognized William Major, colored of Pembroke, Ky., as the man who robbed him while he slept Sunday morning at the station, Major told Special Judge McCoy in city court that he could prove that he was down town when Laubshire's pocket was picked. He asked for a continuance of his hearing until he could complete the alibi. Laubshire claims $1.10 and a bottle of whiskey was sneaked away by the negro. He was awakened by the robber who was caught in the act.

Convention.
A Platform Convention will be held at Evansville, Ind., Aug. 15.

THE MAGAZINES

One of the most interesting things in the August Woman's Home Companion is an article which reports the girlhood of Mary Garden, the famous grand opera singer. The article is one of a series just beginning which is to treat of the girlhood of a number of prima donnas. The present article contains a thrilling account of Miss Garden's first great public appearance in Paris. It was a sudden call into an important part, and the young woman made herself famous in a night. "How I Sold My Daughters," is the title of an extraordinary piece of self-revelation by a mother. "Art in America" is an interesting illustrated series by George Alfred Williams. "What a Man Expects of a Girl" and Margaret E. Sangster's talk on youth and old age are notable features.

Leroy Scott contributes a clever satirical novelette to the August number of the smart set. The title is Mrs. De Payster's Idea," and the story tells of the pitiful straits to which one of the leading figures in New York's Four Hundred is reduced through the curtailment of her income due to a period of financial depression

The American Magazine for August.

The American Magazine for August is a fresh, vigorous blend of real stories and of keen, straightforward from the shoulder articles. "Mother," by Kathleen Norris, is one of the great stories of the year, telling with sympathy and charm how a woman's happiness deepens with the number of her children; and the great joy of bringing life into the world. Edna Ferber attains new power as a story-teller, in a humorous tale of a "lady" drummer; Philip Curtiss writes a vivid, exciting polo story; and Virginia Tracy contributes an unusual story of the stage. There is other fiction by Frances Hodgson Burnett, Harris Merton Lyon and Dion Calthorp.

Wholesale Kissing.
Zion City, Ill., July 20.—After kissing 286 babies, ranging in age from six months to five years, and consecrating them to the "Cause of Zion, Overseer Wilbur Glen Voliva, successor to John Alexander Dowie, stood by a barrel in Shiloh Tabernacle yesterday and watched his disciples toss $27,500 into it as a "sacrifice offering."
Voliva kissed all of the infants and consecrated them in exactly 48 minutes.

CADIZ COLONY
Continues to Receive New Recruits.

J. T. Stephens, the liveryman at Gray & Gates' old stand on Ninth street, has sold his stable to E. C. Thacker and Ed. Thomas, of Cadiz, who have already taken possession. Both will move their families to the city in the future. Mr. Thacker was formerly in the livery business in Cadiz. He is a native of this county and has many friends, especially in South Christian. The Kentuckian welcomes the new firm to the city.

Tom Morrow's Vacation.
Thos. L. Morrow, the popular and wideawake agent of the I. C. Railroad, will leave to day to spend his vacation in Canada. He will be joined in Chicago by Mrs. Morrow, who has been visiting there for some time. He has earned the good time he will have, but it is too bad that he will have to miss the ball games.
