Who Was There That You Knew?

The shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there any of your grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in the long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 30 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was made by the photographer who had been put to rest for nearly 30 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector, J. Pierpont Morgan...

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—"Kentuckian" A virile, newsy newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Second—Technical World Magazine is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. Third—A Fine Atlas This one is just off the press. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures, 128 pages of a color map brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys.
