James R. Keene, the horseman and noted stock gambler, died in New York last week.

A member of the Tennessee Legislature who forgot his billed shirt had it sent by parcels post.

C. R. Hancock, of the Pembroke Journal, has taken charge of the Guthrie Journal, and will run both papers.

The Lyon County Herald and Springfield Herald of January 1912 came rushing into this office last week after a year's delay.

Two Caesarian operations were performed at Evansville last week. One of the children was saved, though both mothers died. One of them lived two days.

J. N. Heiskell, editor of the Arkansas Gazette, of Little Rock, has been appointed by Governor Donaghey, U. S. senator to succeed the late Jeffreys Davis. He was born at Rogersville, Tenn., in 1872 and went from Memphis to Little Rock.

Gov. Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana has found too small the chair that has served the governors of Indiana for several years, and selected one more substantially built to accommodate his 275 pounds. The chair used by Governor Marshall, vice-president elect, may be given him as a relic of his administration. It is plenty large for the next vice-president, as he weighs only about 140 pounds.

Mail Carriers Will Fly.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits the world. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs, Colds and Sore Throat and Lung Diseases is the popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Sickkey Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds or any bronchial affection it's unequalled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at All Druggists.

Eaten By Cannibals.

Butchered by cannibals at New Guinea was the fate of two planters named James and Herman Weber, brothers. It is believed that they were devoured. A punitive expedition has been planned by the government.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, ore or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. Its a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and indigestion, worn out feeling. Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Law, Okla., "and I thank you, oh all my heart, for making such good medicine." Guaranteed by All Druggists.

Unfortunate English.
 The general impression that the Englishman's life is rather prosy is supported by the statement of a Londoner who visited at Clay Center. He said he never had tasted fried chicken or strawberry shortcake, the two things unknown to the culinary art in England.—Kansas City Star.

CRUELTY TO THE BURGLAR

Joseph Tattenham Showed No Mercy to the Trapped Invader of His Apartment.

Joseph Tattenham, a writer of short stories, opened the hall door of his apartment on lower Sixth avenue, reports the New York Globe. As he did so he heard a queer noise within. Mr. Tattenham paused, for the New York flat robber is apt to be a highly temperamental person if interrupted at his work. Then he saw a shadowy form fit down the corridor and leap through a window. "So," said Mr. Tattenham, "I lighted the gas and looked about to see what was up." On a chair by his bed he found all of his clothes in a neat pile. Under the bed was a tattered suit belonging to some person who distinctly does not travel in Mr. Tattenham's set. Nothing was missing from the flat. He sat down to consider. There came a timid tap at the door. "Well?" said Mr. Tattenham, opening it to a shivering person, who had obviously removed the ragged suit Mr. Tattenham had found under the bed and had not had time to get into any of Mr. Tattenham's clothes. "Well?" "Please, sir," said the shivering man, very meekly indeed. "Please, sir, may I have my clothes?" "Are those your clothes?" asked Mr. Tattenham, indicating the discarded garments by a gesture. "Yes, sir," said the willowy individual in the hall. "You see, sir, I'm a little insane at times. And I'm afraid I entered your flat and took off my clothes while I was raving." "Well," said Mr. Tattenham brutally, "rave on." And he closed the door.

KEPT HIM GUESSING

Howe—Did you ever sail on an iceboat?
 Wise—Well, I rode on one once, but I don't know whether I was sailing, skating or swimming most of the time.

VIOLET PERFUME.

A young lady passes by, leaving in her wake a delicate odor. "Ah," you say as you sniff the sweetly laden zephyr, "that's violet." The chances are as ten to ninety that you are wrong. It is so labeled by the perfumer, but the honest druggist will tell you that it is the perfume of the root of the Iris florentina, or Florentine iris, otherwise orris root. The root itself, as seen in the shops, is white and of irregular shaped pieces. Some years ago the young man who had partaken of liquid refreshments chewed this root as an effectual disguise to the alcoholic aroma lingering upon his breath. Immense quantities of this root are grown in Italy. It might well be cultivated in this country. The plant thrives in mountain regions, attaining its maximum in stony ground. The best months for planting are August and September.

ART AND INDECENCY.

"Of course," said Art, "we have nothing in common."
 "Of course," said Indecency.
 "But as long as I get you tolerated by the police and you get me cared for by the paying public, we have mutual interests," said Art.
 "Precisely," said Indecency.
 And so the world was, after all, big enough for both.—Life.

HIS SIZE.

Miss Jaggs—Is he one of those chaps who would sooner be right than president?
 Mr. Raggs—Oh, he is not so rigid as that; but I think he would sooner be right than vice-president.

TERRIBLE TRUTH.

"Why do you wish to bury yourself in the army? Promotion is very slow."
 "Promotion is much more rapid since the aeroplane corps was established."

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Winning Widow" will be the attraction at Holland's Opera House Monday night, Jan. 13. The plot deals with two immensely wealthy men, Heine Schmitz and Dennis McFadden who have acquired their fortune by selling Cheese and Corn-beef. The first act takes place on the campus of one of our leading colleges and here the two men Heine Schmitz and Dennis McFadden meet the Widow Lloyd (The Winning Widow) who also has a large fortune. They proceed to make love to the Widow at once but she refuses to listen to them until they have spent every dollar of their fortune, promising to marry the one who spends it first. The many novel ways in which they try to get rid of their money evokes roars of laughter. They go to Paris and try to lose their money in a large Gambling House but fortune smiles on them and everything they touch turns to gold. Max Spiegel has given "The Winning Widow" one of the most lavish scenic and costume productions ever seen en-tour, in fact, the identical production which was seen in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, and all the other large cities during its phenomenal tour.

Fully Explained.

Every now and again some individual arises to tell us Why We Are, and What We Are, and How We Know Why We Are, and How We Would Be if We Weren't, and What, Precisely, Areness Is, also Wereness, and Why We Aren't What We Mightn't Have Been if We Weren't, and other simple and entrancing facts. Such an individual is called a philosopher.—Bulletin, Sidney.

MANY CIGARETTES SMOKED.

The American people are drinking more whisky and beer and smoking more cigars and cigarettes than ever before in history, according to tax returns received by Royal E. Cabell, commissioner of Internal revenue. From July 1 to October 1, 1912, more than 5,800,000,000 cigarettes were smoked, an increase of one billion over the corresponding period of the previous year, which broke all records. The nation consumed 23,150,000 gallons of whisky during July, August and September, an increase of 450,000 gallons as compared with that quarter of 1911, while nearly 1,950,000,000 cigars were smoked during that time. The cigar consumption promises to establish a record. A total of 19,500,000 barrels of beer were consumed during the three months, which was 320,000 barrels more than in the same period of 1911. This somewhat surprised revenue officials, as beer drinking fell off considerably during the fiscal year ended June 30 last. That decrease was partly accounted for by Commissioner Cabell by the increased popularity of buttermilk as a summer drink.

Insect Bite Costs Leg.

A Boston man lost his leg from the bite of an insect two years before. To avert such calamities from stings and bites of insects use Bucklen's Arnica Salve promptly to kill the poison and prevent inflammation, swelling and pain. Heals burns, boils, ulcers, piles, eczema, cuts, bruises. Only 25 cents at All Druggists.

Answering a Point of Etiquette.

William Henry: If, while you are making an evening call, the young lady of the family is pushed forward to entertain, and begins to hack and fill and declare that she is so—ee-hee! hee!—horse that she just knows she can't sing a note, it is bad form for you to give three cheers. Etiquette does not often demand the active or audible, form of lying, but the passive form—i. e. saying nothing, no matter how painful—is en regle most any time. You should always strive to be a gentleman, let the chips fall where they may.

Got Thinned Out.

Hewitt—But I thought you had a fat job?
 Jewett—I guess it struck some obesity cure.

The Choice of a Husband is too important a matter for a woman to be handicapped by weakness, bad blood or foul breath. Avoid these kill-hopes by taking Dr. King's Life Pills. New strength, fine complexion, pure breath, cheerful spirits—things that win men—follow their use. Easy, safe, sure. 25c. All Druggists.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

We begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series in the history of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will preserve your heart, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.
