J. B. WALKER PASSES AWAY

Died Thursday Night at Dr. Fort's Sanitarium In Nashville.

WAS BORN IN PADUCAH, 1857

Remains Arrived Here Last Night, Funeral This Afternoon.

The sisters of Mr. J. Burch Walker were apprised last Thursday night of Mr. Walker's death, which occurred between 8 and 9 o'clock, at Dr. Fort's sanitarium, Nashville. The remains arrived here yesterday evening on the 6:52 Dixie Flyer and were taken to the residence of the Misses Walker, on South Virginia street. Funeral services will be held at the Misses Walker's residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. E. Gabby and Dr. C. M. Thompson. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Walker's death was primarily caused by stomach trouble, from which he suffered greatly for some time before he was taken to Dr. Fort's infirmary. The doctor did not offer Mrs. Walker any encouragement for her husband's recovery.

Joseph Burch Walker was the only son of Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Walker and was born in Paducah, Ky., February 12th, 1857. His father was pastor of the First Baptist church of Paducah when his son was born and came to Hopkinsville not long after.

The deceased started out in life as office boy in the office of the Hopkinsville Conservative (now the Kentuckian) where he learned the printing business. He had decided talent for mechanics and left the office and served a couple or more years as fireman on the L. & N. railroad.

November 27th, 1887, he married Miss Lula Gary, daughter of Mr. R. S. Gary. After his marriage he took up the life of a farmer. He was the best farmer along scientific lines in the county. He was known all over this and other states as such and delivered lectures at the call of agricultural organizations in different states of the Union, besides year after year being put into the lecture field by the Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky. As a farm machinery expert he had few equals.

He is survived by his wife and three children, William B. and Misses Laura and Janie Walker, and two sisters, Misses Eudora and Eugenie Walker, of this city.

Mr. Walker was at one time commissioner of the Western Asylum and was for many years a member of the Democratic Committee of Christian County. Until a few years ago he lived on a fine farm a few miles west of town, which he sold and had since lived just outside the city on the Palmyra pike.

He was one of the most prominent men of the county and was active in the work of the Church Hill Grange and in agricultural matters generally. His last work in this line was in a series of lectures delivered in the state of Connecticut and throughout Kentucky about two years ago. For almost a year he had been in failing health.

Killed By a Negro.

Paducah, Ky., March 14.—Argument over a supper, followed by the murdered man calling the negro a liar, resulted in H. B. Duncan, fifty years old, traveling salesman for the Sutherland Medicine Company, of Paducah, being killed Tuesday night by Allan Edmonds, a negro cook in a saloon. Edmonds crushed Duncan's skull with a beer bottle and he fell to the floor a corpse.

Edmonds was immediately arrested and placed in jail.

Duncan leaves his widow and five children, who are in New Mexico, where he traveled. He formerly resided in Birmingham, Ky.

THE BIG CONTEST CLOSES ONE WEEK FROM TONIGHT

The Large Extra Vote Offer of 18,000 Extra Votes With Each $10 Ends With Today.

REWARDS FOR EVERY ONE.

Work Today and Roll Up a Big Reserve Vote For the Final Count--There Is Honor and Profit in Winning.

One week from today the Kentuckian big piano and diamond contest will come to successful end and the six costly prizes will be awarded to as many ladies.

Tonight the opportunity of 18,000 extra votes with each $10 club will close, and as only a few extra votes will be allowed next week, contestants should realize that effective work should be done today while this big offer is in force. The opportunity closes tonight, and no contestants should let it pass without out bettering her condition for success.

There is honor and profit in winning. You have made a good fight and now that the end is drawing near your enthusiasm and determination to win should increase. You should make up your mind that you will not be defeated if effort and work will prevent. Let your friends know that you need their help and need it today, while you can secure 18,000 extra votes with each $10. Figure what a few five or ten year subscriptions will do for you and secure several of this class. You can find them if you will look for them, and now is the time to turn them in.

Rewards For Every One.

The Kentuckian has made an arrangement with the representative of the Harding & Miller Music Co. Mr. J. W. Lawson, where by we will give to every candidate who works to the end of the contest and fails to win one of the prizes, a certificate purchase price of any new piano or good for one hundred dollars on the player piano in their stock. This certificate will be transferable and if you do not care to purchase a piano you may sell it to some other person. This is a guarantee that every one who works to the close of the contest will receive a reward for her efforts.

Notice To Contestants.

No more free votes will be published after today and all the 100 vote coupons must be in the hands of the contest manager by Tuesday March 18. This positive and none of the free votes will be counted after the above date.

The last count of ballots will be made by the contest manager Wednesday March 19, and the result published in the Thursday issue following. From that time all will be secrecy as no information whatever will be given out regarding the standing of any contestant. Contestants who wish to have any part of their votes counted in Thursday issue must turn them in to the contest manager not later than next Wednesday noon. Contestants who desire may verify all votes counted by the contest manager by applying to this department not later than Wednesday night March 19. We feel that every contestant feels assured of all votes having been counted correctly, and this opportunity is offered any one who may have a doubt, to become satisfied.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Dr. Belk Heard by Large and Appreciative Audience Thursday Night.

CHILDREN'S SPECIAL SERVICE

Evangelist Will Preach Tomorrow Morning and Night.

The sermon preached by Dr. Belk at the Westminster Presbyterian church Friday night on "What Presbyterians Believe" was heard by a large and appreciative audience. When the evangelist takes up the faith of Presbyterians he is thoroughly at home and no one can hear him without being convinced that he has made a most careful study of the doctrines of the church.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, a special service will be held for the children of the city. Parents should see that the little ones are there on time.

The officers and pastor of the church have not determined yet about continuing the services next week.

TOBACCO MARKET

Receipts Continue Heavy and Demand Still Strong.

The local tobacco market this week underwent no change either in receipts, demand or prices, unless there was a slight drop in prices. A tobaccoist stated during the week that the buyers thought they paid too much and the sellers complain that they are not getting enough, which goes to show that it is impossible for either side to be perfectly contented, especially when it comes to selling and buying tobacco.

During the entire week the deliveries to the Regie, Imperial and other large warehouses have been coming in from half a dozen surrounding counties, some of them 40 or more miles away. Many of our own farmers, now that they are through with preparations beginning another year's crop, have resumed delivering the old crop. The loose floors are having all they can do in taking care of the weed as it comes in and putting it on the market.

IN BURLEY DISTRICT.

AT LEXINGTON—The market was easy, especially under the $12 class. Receipts were light. Prices ran from $2 @ $23.

AT CARLISLE—The market closed for the season Wednesday, with practically no tobacco in the hands of the farmers.

AT SHELBYVILLE—Sales were much lighter and prices ranged from $3 @ $24. Lowest grades were under former quotations.

AT MAYSVILLE—Market showed some improvement over the first of the week. The up price was $19.25. The most inferior quality sold as low as $1.20 per hundred.

AT RICHMOND—Market slow. One house sold 30,000 pounds, at an average of about $10 per hundred. The highest price paid was $14.

Meet at Madisonville.

The West Kentucky High School track meet this year will be held at Madisonville, prospects being for the biggest and best meet the high schools have ever held. The first place winners will go to Lexington to compete in the state meet against the Lexington High, Louisville Manual, Louisville High, Newport High, Covington High and Owingsville High. The high schools that will enter the contests at Madisonville are: Paducah, Madisonville, Hopkinsville, Owensboro, Henderson and Dawson Springs. The date of the meet will be announced in a few days.

Purely Personal.

Mrs. C. H. Branch is in St. Louis visiting relatives.

Lucian H. Davis was confined to his home by illness this week.

Mrs. C. H. H. Branch and children are visiting relatives in St. Louis.

Mrs. R. L. Gossett, of Muskogee, Okla., is here on a visit to relatives and friends.

Miss Fannie Belle Bronaugh has returned from Missouri, where she spent the winter.

Mrs. Robt. Johnson, after a visit to Miss Fannie Phelps, returned to her home in Middleboro Wednesday.

FINE ATTRACTION

Was Snow White at Rex Theatre Last Wednesday.

The Rex has, during its first five months of business, put before the people a number of special attractions that drew capacity houses. It may be said that when it presented "Snow White" Wednesday afternoon and night it touched the keynote of success financially as well as for pleasing the multitude. Miss Elsie Albert in the title role was simply perfection and all that was missing was the sound of her voice to make it a perfect piece of work. The wicked Queen, whose ambition was to be the prettiest woman in the realm, was a grand piece of acting in a most difficult role. Though the audience had no sympathy for her yet they could not help but admire her as an actress. Altogether the play as to scenery, setting of stage and support was about as good as was ever put on here by the movies.

Manager Will Grau is well keeping up his promise made at the opening of the Rex last fall, to give the people the very latest and best movies. It is probable that his next special attraction will be "The Crimson Cross," a 3-part Eclair, which is a drawer, wherever it goes.

$10,000 AUDITORIUM

To Be Built at Dawson and Ready For Next Season.

Attorney John T. Edmonds has just completed the articles of incorporation of a company to build a $10,000 auditorium at Dawson. W. I. Hamby is president. The articles of incorporation will be sent to Frankfort at once. The plans are completed and bids will be received in a short time. The building is to be completed by the first of June, as the Kentucky State Pharmaceutical Association is to hold its annual meeting there during June. The seating capacity is 1,000. The Forbes Mfg. Co. has just completed an addition to the New Century Hotel, costing $30,000, will probably put in a bid for the contract.

$1,406.50 WORTH

Of Sheep Killed In This County Last Year.

Some people are very fond of dogs and think they ought to be permitted to run at large at will and at all times. A good dog is worth something and ought to be protected. People who are in Mr. Dog's neighborhood ought to be protected, too. Sheep-killing dogs ought to be exterminated and a premium should be put on their heads dead.

In 1912 110 people of this county lost sheep by dogs. The total value of the sheep killed was $1,406.50. That amount of money is now in the hands of County Clerk Stowe. He received a warrant from the Auditor of State a day or two since and persons entitled to reimbursement for their losses are asked to call on Mr. Stowe and get a check for their money.

The claims allowed run from 50 cents up to $201. Thos. M. Barker was the heaviest loser. Next comes George Boddie with a loss of $200. Other large amounts range from $100 down.
