

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

WE buy Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for you because we want you to have the very best things on the market. When we give you perfect fitting suits in the latest style, we know we're serving you well.

The best thing that can happen to us is to have something good happen to you, through us.

We have suits at $18, $20 and up to $30.00. We have some very special values at $20.00, $22.50 and $25.00, that you certainly ought to see and try on. Also "Worthmore" Clothes that are all Wool at $15.00 and $17.50.

Frankel's
BUSY STORE
INCORPORATED

This store is the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes.

Exclusive agent for Knox and Stetson Hats, Wilson Bros. & Onyx Hosiery and Wilson Bros. Shirts and Underwear.

IN TRULY ORIENTAL LUXURY

Enervating Conditions Under Which Future Rulers of India Are Brought Up Almost Unbelievable.

A sketch in St. Nicholas tells American boys and girls, under the title of "His Highness the Young Raja," about the lives of some of the future rulers of India.

"It is almost impossible for an American boy or girl to imagine the extravagance and luxury that surround some of these young princes," says Mabel Alberta Spicer, author of the sketch. "Servants attend them night and day, fan them, dress them and obey their slightest wish. If a wind stirs while they sleep, curtains are drawn that they may not be disturbed. When they drive out a mounted escort accompanies them, and all the people salaam as they pass. Once, when taking tea with a raja in his garden, I was amused to notice that, as he moved about among his guests, a servant followed carrying a cup which he kept always within reach of his master's hand. The raja would take a sip of tea, and, with perfect unconcern, set his cup down in mid air. With unflinching dexterity the saucer was placed under it by the servant in time to avoid accident. One prince had, suspended from the ceiling, a silver couch which was kept gently swaying while he slept or read. Another had a beautiful vine-covered arbor where artificial rain was made to fall, while the nabob sat under a marble canopy in the center, cool and refreshed, with the rest of the world broiling about him."

IN HIS ARMOR OF INNOCENCE

Anthroald Binks Felt Himself Proof Against the Cowardly Taunts of the Slanderers.

"Darling," she murmured, as she nestled against his shoulder, "do you know that horrid people are saying that you are marrying me for my money?"

He leapt to his feet. "The miserable creatures," he roared. "I won't stand it. Tell me who they are and I'll horsewhip them! I'll—"

"But, my dear," she objected, "you would create scandal, and the case would be made horribly public in the papers, and then I really could not marry you."

"What, then," he muttered, hopelessly, "can be done?"

"Darling, it is easy," she replied. "I will make over my fortune to my brothers and sisters, and everybody shall know of it. Then no one shall be able to make horrible accusations against you."

But then he drew himself up proudly. His manliness had won a moral victory.

"Nay, Araminta!" he exclaimed. "Do not put thy sweet self to any trouble. Anthroald Binks is proof against every slanderer!"

ICEBERGS FOR THE PICKING.

Off the coast of Newfoundland, less than 1,000 miles to the northward of New York city, are floating icebergs big enough to supply the needs of 20,000,000 of people through the hottest of summers. The average man who buys his ice in small blocks has doubtless often wondered why these huge bergs should not be blown up with dynamite and towed down the coast in sections for summer consumption in the large coastal cities of the United States. The Norseman is proposing to do something like this, only he will saw his bergs into small blocks and load them on ships. Thus transportation will be more rapid and loss from melting less.

SUMMER BOARDER.

"Beautiful view from here, don't you think so?" said the farmer.

"Might be," growled the grouchy boarder, "if those windows were scrubbed."

VERY MUCH SO.

"Did your wife give you a light answer when you rebuked her?"

"Yes, sir. She threw the lamp at me."

ANCIENT'S WOE.

Methuselah was pessimistic.

"Age doesn't help you any," he declared. "I now know 800 summer resorts where I don't want to go again."

SOCIABLE SHAVE.

Hubbubs—Don't you miss a barber out in the country?

Subbubs—Oh, no; I talk to myself all the time I am shaving.

DR. KETCHUM MARRIED.

Gone With Bride to Honolulu To Make Their Home.

Information from an undoubted source, was received here yesterday that Dr. W. H. Ketchum was married about the 15th of this month to Miss DeTunque, of St. Paul, Minn. To a very few people here this information will not be a surprise, as the event has been whispered about for a short time.

Dr. Ketchum gave up his practice here about sixteen months ago, and when he left he had not made up his mind where he would locate. He has traveled most of the time and made a voyage to Honolulu. Part of the time he was under treatment at a hospital for some chronic trouble. His bride was a teacher in Bethel Female College about two and a-half years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum, just after their marriage sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu where they will make their home, the doctor having qualified to practice there when he made his first trip.

Circuit Court.

Monday the first day of the six weeks term of court was pretty well taken up in making up and charging the grand jury, empaneling the petit jury and do many little things that have always to be looked after before the machinery of justice is set to running. After administering the oath of allegiance to the three men of foreign birth, heretofore mentioned, the court took up the first of the seven Commonwealth cases docketed for the first.

TUESDAY, 2D DAY.

There were just 11 Commonwealth cases on the docket Tuesday morning for disposition. Fines were imposed on five of them, as follows: Loe Hancock, $35; Claude King, $25; Elbert Wiley, $25; Fred Spocks, $10; Samuel Wright, $25.

The following cases were continued. Bob Bullock, breach of the peace; O. G. Hille, selling pianos without license; Chas. West, malicious shooting. The case against C. E. Conibear and T. S. Winfree, for trespass, was thrown out of court.

WEDNESDAY, 3D DAY.

There were ten Commonwealth cases set for Wednesday, but the case against K. H. Keach, charged with manslaughter, and the case against Elder, charged with willful murder, were taken up and delayed other proceedings.

Baby Boy.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Erkiltian, of Mayfield, a son. The mother was formerly Miss Morton, of this city.

POLICE.

Bill—This paper says an English artist sketches submarine landscapes by descending with a diver's helmet and using waterproof paper and crayon.

Jill—Sometimes I suppose he's sketching fish?

BIASED.

"You are unreasonable."

"Why?"

"You don't believe anything I tell you."

"That's because you are always telling me something about yourself."

KNEW THE GAMES.

"I've been out there watching the game," said the lady returning to the porch of the summer hotel.

"Are you a baseball fan or only a chaperon, madam?" asked the one nearest her in the rocker.

DIDN'T AFFECT HIM.

Horrified Old Lady—Oh, kind sir, think of your mother! Think of your mother!

Burglar (sternly)—No use, old lady. I wuz brought up in an incubator!—Puck.

Dead From a Thorn Thrust.

A thorn of her favorite rose puncturing her finger while she stretched forth her hand to pluck it for a friend's bouquet, caused the death of Miss Susan Reichart at Greenport, N. Y. Several doctors united in trying to cure the blood poisoning that resulted from the piercing wound, but their efforts were unavailing.

Guarding an Impression.

"Why doesn't that Parisian playwright accept those challenges?" "He's in a predicament. He is a tragic author and can't afford to let the public see him in anything as funny as a French duel."

FOR FALL AND WINTER

New Brocade Silks, Morie Silks, Fancy Silks, Plain Silks and Stains.

READY-TO-WEAR

Ladies' Nobby Suits and Dresses, Ladies' and Misses Coats, Ladies' Silk Skirts.

BIG ASSORTMENT IN EVERY LINE.

T. M. JONES
Main Street, Hopkinsville, Ky.

$2.45 ROUND TRIP
to
NASHVILLE, TENN.,
Account
TENNESSEE STATE FAIR.

Tickets on sale Sept. 27th to Oct. 4, inclusive, limited returning Oct. 6. FIVE TRAINS DAILY offers the best service to be had. For further information call on or phone JNO. C. HOOE, Agent.

The Evansville
Courier

(DAILY)

AND THE

Hopkinsville
Kentuckian

(TRY-WEEKLY)

BOTH ONE YEAR FOR

$3.50

The above offer good only during the month of October. Subscriptions must be sent to this office.

COLORED CELEBRATION

Creditable Street Parade and a Mammoth All-Day Program.

The celebration of Emancipation Day Monday by the colored population was an all-day affair. Dr. Preston Taylor, a widely-known negro leader of Nashville, was the speaker of the day and for two hours kept a multitude numbering thousands cheering because of his eulogistic speech which he made concerning the negro and his progress during the past half century.

An industrial parade, participated in by all the leading negro business concerns, secret organizations and churches, was by far the most respectable affair of anything of its kind ever before attempted in Hopkinsville. Many negroes from the surrounding country and adjoining towns took a general holiday and spent the day here. The exercises were held at Mercer Park and the speaking took place from the queen's boat, the speaker being introduced by Lou's Berry, a well-known local colored leader. Among others who participated on the program were: Revs. R. H. Bayliss, G. H. Hubbard, H. S. Smith and Rev. E. Williams, Mary Ella Turner, a colored school girl, who had been elected queen of the emancipation after a spirited popularity contest, read the emancipation proclamation. The first and second prizes respectively, were awarded W. E. Penn and the C. M. E. Sunday school, for the best decorated floats.

The crowd was somewhat lessened by the danger of frost to the outstanding tobacco crop.

Good order was observed all day, there being only three arrests for minor offenses. A game of baseball was played in the afternoon.

New Series Of Stock Soon To Be Issued.

The Hopkinsville Building & Loan Association will open its books for subscriptions for stock in the sixty-fourth series, on October 1st, 1913. Advertisement.

Lost.

Last Sunday, between Hopkinsville Infirmary and Mr. Frank Yost's residence, Duchess Lace collar. Reward. Phone 200-1. H. J. MINTY. Advertisement.