GEN. HUERTA CLIMBS DOWN

Will Salute Stars And Stripes And Crisis Passes.

FIRM STAND WON OUT.

Congress Stood Ready To Back Up The Administration.

Washington, April 17.—The United States government has accepted General Huerta's offer to salute the stars and stripes as an apology for the arrest of American blue jackets at Tampico a week ago Thursday. The Huerta government's salute to the American flag will be answered with a salute to the tri-color of the Mexican nation.

This arrangement, the details of which were being finally arranged in an exchange of official messages between Washington and Mexico City, ended, in the view of all high administration officials, the crisis that had resulted in the dispatch of American war fleet to Mexican waters. Executive officers and congressmen breathed a sigh of relief that the tension had passed.

No time had been set for the firing of the salute, and until the details are arranged, no further orders will be sent to American fleets now proceeding south. It is practically certain, however, that for while many of the vessels will be maintained in Mexican waters.

Huerta's offer and request for a return salute caused President Wilson to ask for an opinion from the counsellor of the state department and navy department officials. All reported that it was the invariable custom in naval practice to return a salute and cited precedents. The President also was informed that Rear Admiral Mayo, on making his original demand for a salute, agreed to return the courtesy.

Mr. Wilson said a return of a salute under such circumstances did not involve recognition of the Huerta government, but was merely an act of the same character as grasping the hand of an individual who was apologizing as he extended it.

Everybody who has heard the new orchestra instrument at the Rex is loud in its praise. It was put into use a day or two ago and is undoubtedly a wonderful instrument. One man plays it and it gives out all kinds of music made by a regular band. It must be heard to be appreciated.

SERUM TO SAVE HOGS

May Now Be Obtained Here Of County Agent Morgan.

STORAGE DEPOT IS HERE

Not Necessary To Wait Arrival Of Medicine From Lexington.

Geoffrey Morgan, County Agent, has arranged with the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station to make Hopkinsville a cold storage depot for anti-hog-cholera serum. This will enable orders to be promptly filled. Often the delay in getting the serum from Lexington causes many hogs to be lost that should be saved. When cholera strikes a herd, owners want serum immediately. This phase of the subject was presented to the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station by the swine raisers of Christian county, and in order to overcome this difficulty Mr. Morgan will be allowed to keep the serum for sale at one cent per cubic centimeter. It takes from 10 to 100 centimeters per hog, according to the size. It is put up in bottles of 250, 500, 1,000 and 2,500 cubic centimeters. Details as to its use will be supplied by Mr. Morgan. The serum is distributed by DR. ROBERT GRAHAM, Hog Cholera Serum Laboratory Experiment Station Farm, Lexington, Ky.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

Good Roads Movement To Be Given Impetus By Canvass.

A committee has been named to make a systematic canvass of the entire county for the purpose of getting the farmers to agree to use the split-log drag if they live on dirt roads, or to haul crushed stone if they live on a pike.

The plan has everything in its favor so far as results are concerned and the only thing that remains to be done is to get the people to agree to render this service. To this end the committees are going to go through every neighborhood and put the proposition squarely up to each man. These committees and the territories assigned each are as follows:

BLOODIEST OF BATTLES

In Mexican Revolution Fought At San Pedro This Week.

REBELS WIN THE VICTORY.

Federal Loss About 3,500 And Rebels Heavy But Not So Great.

San Pedro De Las Colonias, Coahuila, Mex., April 15.—(Via Torreón, April 17.)—A survey of the battlefield of the last week shows that the battle for possession of this city, which engaged practically the full force of rebels and federals, was the bloodiest of the revolution.

The battle was at its climax Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and on the last day the rebel loss in wounded alone was 650 men. In all 1,200 rebels were wounded so seriously as to require hospital treatment. The rebel dead may never be known owing to the wide area covered by the battle.

The federal loss was at least 3,500 killed, wounded, prisoners and "dispersed." By dispersed is meant those federals who were separate from their commands and fled individually or in small detachments to the hills or into the desert, probably to perish there for lack of food and water. Twelve hundred regulars were captured by the constitutionalists. The men were mustered into the rebel ranks while their officers will be held as prisoners. A number of so-called volunteers or "red flaggers" were captured and executed. These men were former followers of Madero, who are alleged to have joined the Orozco rebellion which overthrew him.

All the prisoners, including one major, three captains and ten lieutenants are being sent to Torreón.

CONNECTION IS DENIED

Louisville & Nashville Refuses To Join Tracks With Illinois Central.

REQUEST OF THE H. B. M. A.

Matter Will Next Go To The Interstate Commerce Commission.

The request of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association for physical connection by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad with the Illinois Central has been denied by the L. & N. Out on the Belt Line, in the grounds of the Mogul Wagon Co., the tracks of the two roads almost touch each other, but there is no physical connection.

The H. B. M. A. has undertaken to bring this about and will take the matter of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It was expected that the L. & N. would refuse, as it has long been the settled policy of that road not to allow physical connection with the I. C. at this place.

SUFFRAGISTS ORGANIZE

Public Meeting Was Held At The Avalon Thursday Night.

JUDGE WINFREE PRESIDED.

Miss Lily Ray Glenn Presented The Arguments For Woman Suffrage.

A large audience greeted the suffrage speakers Thursday night at the Avalon and a number of men and women signed the cards of membership in the Christian County Women's Suffrage League. It is a non-paying organization, and does not bind its members to anything except a belief in woman suffrage. All who live in Christian county are invited to join this league.

Judge W. P. Winfree, in introducing the speakers, spoke briefly in endorsement of the cause of equal suffrage. He refuted the argument that women should not vote because they could not fight, drawing a sharp contrast between the physical weakness of Alexander Stephens and the brute strength of Corbett and Jack Johnson.

Miss Lily Ray Glenn said that every good movement must go through the stages of contempt and ridicule, and that the woman suffragist is no longer looked upon as an umbrella waving, disgruntled woman. Women of today owe their opportunity for higher education to those pioneer suffragists who fought against prejudice and superstition to gain for girls the same educational advantages enjoyed by the boys.

Judge W. T. Fowler stated that wherever women vote you will find the greatest array of laws safeguarding women and children. He pointed out the bad laws that exist in states where women do not vote—for instance in some states, a husband can will away the custody of a minor child, even an unborn child. Only two years ago, Kentucky women were given equal guardianship with the husband and father over a minor child, the Kentucky Equal Rights Association having secured this legislation.

The members of the new league were to meet yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Avalon, to elect their officers.

Miss Glenn left last night for Owensboro and from that city will go to Louisville to continue her work.

NEW ROLLER IS AT WORK

Tried Out With Entire Success On Rebuilding Virginia Street.

The new International roller purchased from C. H. Bornhauser, local agent of the International Co., has been received and is now at work on the streets. It was put to work on Virginia street between Seventh and Eighth streets Thursday. The scarifying attachment was first used and the old roadbed torn up under the direction of City Engineer B. F. McClaid. Then the split log drag was used to grade the loose stone to the center and crown the street, after which the roller was passed over the entire street service. The effect was to leave the street in about as good condition as is possible to make a macadam street without a binding course. The work is done at comparatively small expense and the roller is expected to pay for itself over and over again in the material saved.
