The Council of Princeton has made it a fine of $1 to skate on the concrete sidewalks.

The Italian Foreign Minister Marquis San Giuliano, who has kept Italy out of the war so far, died in Rome Friday.

The fighting line of the allies now reaches to the North Sea and there will be no more talk of turning to the right wing. If there is fighting now it will be on the front, but both sides seem to be avoiding a decisive struggle.

Mrs Hortense A. Calmes offers the Lyon County Herald for sale, as she wishes to move to Union county to look after property interests left by her late father. The Herald is one of the best weekly papers in the First district.

The Springfield News has polled the grand jury of 14 members and found 13 for Rye and 1 undecided. Ten of the jurors were Baptists, two Methodists and two no church members. One of the petit juries also polled, showed 9 for Rye, 2 for Hooper and 1 undecided.

After a prolonged illness of several months, Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, founder of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and one of the most prominent charity workers of the South, died Friday night at 9 o'clock at her home, in Nashville. She was the widow of Col. M. C. Goodlett.

Believing horse racing is virtually at an end in England, Harry Payne Whitney is shipping his stable back to the United States from his farm at Newmarket. The horses include Harmonica and the best yearlings produced in England.

Millions of pounds of corned beef and tinned beef have been bought from Chicago packers within the last week by purchasing agents of the English and French governments. Canning departments of the plants are working in day and night shifts filling orders for shipments abroad.

It was officially announced that the British cruiser Hawke had been sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. Out of a crew of four hundred men fifty-two were saved by a trawler. The Hawke was of 7,350 tons displacement. She was commanded by Captain H. P. D. P. Williams. The loss of the Hawke makes a total of six British cruisers destroyed by Germany in the North Sea since the beginning of the war.

Thursday Mrs. Kirtland and daughter, Birdie Carter, who were placed in jail at Clarksville, upon suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Jesse Kirtland, made a voluntary confession in which, it is alleged, they named Frank McCormick as the slayer of Kirtland. The statement was that McCormick had been visiting the girl, Birdie Carter, for some time and there was some feeling against Kirtland because of some alleged mistreatment of the girl, and according to the statement of the two women, McCormick resorted to violence as the remedy. He was arrested on the 17th.

NOT MUCH "PROFIT" IN PLAY

Unsuccessful Author Had Figures Right, but He Didn't Know All the Facts in the Case.

From an incident that Victor Hugo jotted down in his notebook, some seventy years ago, we may conclude that the dramatists of that day more often received fame than any more material consideration as a reward for their work. And not infrequently even fame was withheld.

"Monsieur Santy," Hugo wrote in November, 1844, "is a former secretary of Thiers. He has written a tragedy called 'Count Egmond'; it is very flat. The piece is played; not a cat in the theater, and not a sou in the box office. After three performances the tragedy disappears from the repertory of the Odeon. Furious, the author runs to the director, M. Lireux.

"'Sir,' he cries, 'you have stopped playing my tragedy?'"

"'Yes,' the director replies.

"'Why?'"

"'Because it brings in no money.'"

"'I am told that the receipts were only 100 francs less than the receipts for Casimir Bonjour's 'The Students of Segovia,' and you are still playing that.'"

"'Only 100 francs less!' says Lireux. 'That may be true enough. But you see, the highest receipts for 'The Student of Segovia' were 89 francs.'"

GUESS AGAIN

"What made you send me this mushy novel? Haven't you any better taste?"

"Well—er—that isn't my taste. I thought it was yours."

TENNIS UNDER ARC LIGHTS.

At the Mohawk Golf club, Schenectady, N. Y., the tennis courts have been equipped with large electric lamps mounted overhead to permit of night playing without the objections generally obtaining on a court lighted by lamps placed around the side lines. Not only are the light sources thus removed from the field of vision of the players, but the amount of electricity necessary to produce adequate illumination is considerably less than has been required for lighting by the other method. The new tennis court installation consists of four 1,000-watt tungsten lamps arranged 28 feet apart along the center line of the court. The lamps are equipped with reflectors having special skirts which conceal the lamp filament except when viewed from directly beneath.

WOULDN'T DO AT ALL.

"Hear about Primley?"

"No—what about him?"

"Got put off the floor at the dance the other night."

"What for?"

"He was keeping perfect time and 15 people ran into him and fell down."

NOT EXACTLY STRANGE.

"I'm afraid that young nephew of yours lacks application."

"Not at all; he applies to me for a loan regularly every week."

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fournier, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before I took Cardui, I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patience or courage. Since taking Cardui, I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to, and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.—Advertisement.

Shakespeare.

Shakespeare's purpose was to write dramatic pieces for playhouses of his day, to which he belonged, and by which he was paid in good coin of the realm. Being a very great man, and therefore able to "hold the mirror up to nature" with a force and fidelity never before possessed by a playwright, he made at one and the same time a good-sized fortune and an everlasting fame.

For Lumbago.

Your attacks of Lumbago are not nearly so hopeless as they seem. You can relieve them almost instantly by a simple application of Sloan's Liniment on the back and loins. Lumbago is a form of rheumatism, and yields perfectly to Sloan's, which penetrates quickly all in through the sore, tender muscles, limbers up the back and makes it feel fine. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. Advertisement.

Simple Headache Remedy.

There is a simple remedy for headache which can be concocted with half a lemon, a glass of water, a small teaspoonful of sugar and an eighth of a teaspoonful of baking soda. Put the lemon juice and sugar into a glass of water, stir well, then add the soda, stir again and when it foams nicely drink the mixture immediately. This is an agreeable as well as a very excellent remedy for some kinds of headache, and certainly is one of the most harmless.

Prerogative of Suffering. Every tragedy in the home circle, every hour of agony through which you pass, every wrong that you must endure in silence—for there is no redress upon this side of the grave—is not purposeless or accidental. It is a great privilege to which you are called—the high prerogative of suffering. Some day we shall see the meaning of it all, and never regret a moment of it.—R. J. Campbell.

HAS HANDLED MUCH MONEY

Retiring Director of the Philadelphia Mint Tells of Immense Sums Passing Through His Hands.

The director of the United States mint in Philadelphia, Mr. Landis, has just resigned after serving for twelve years. In commenting on the fabulous wealth that has passed through his hands Mr. Landis states that it consisted of $11,000,000 in cents, $19,000,000 in nickels, $60,500,000 in silver dollars, halves, quarters and dimes, and $372,000,000 in gold. The entire coinage totals $462,500,000. To give one a better idea of the quantity of this bulk, Mr. Landis said it would tax the capacity of 683 cars of twelve tons each. It would be impossible to haul this vast sum with fewer than eleven locomotives, which would mean that each would have to pull about sixty-three cars. These cars in one train would extend about ten miles. There was exactly $415,000,000 in coin and gold bullion in the mint when Mr. Landis turned it over to his successor. The largest amount at the mint at any one time in the last twelve years was $452,000,000. This was in the Roosevelt administration.

DOING ONE GOOD TURN A DAY

Spirit of Helpfulness That is Very Generally Lived Up to by Boy Scouts.

At home or away from it the Boy Scouts, of whom there are now organizations in practically every city in the United States of more than 4,000 inhabitants, must "do one good turn a day."

Here are some of the good turns they did last year: Five hundred and forty-eight Boy Scouts from nearby cities helped the veterans at the reunion at Gettysburg—acting as guides, erecting tents, running errands and helping to care for the sick; Boy Scouts helped to carry household goods of flood sufferers in Ohio to high ground, and in many cities they collected funds for the relief of victims of the floods; Scouts have helped in "clean-up" campaigns in Harrisburg, Pa.; Buffalo and Yonkers, N. Y.; Richmond, Va., and other cities; they have aided in exterminating flies and mosquitoes in many communities; they made it possible for seventy blind people to hear Admiral Peary lecture in New York by escorting them to and from the Museum of Natural History. In many other ways they have shown the spirit of helpfulness that their organization teaches.

BEFORE LUNDY'S LANE.

One hundred years ago, following the battle of Chippewa, the American army under General Brown marched to Lundy's Lane, a mile below Niagara Falls, and not far from the present location of the hotel where Canada recently offered its hospitality to the A.-B.-C. mediators. Sir Gordon Drummond, administrator and commander in Upper Canada, came from Kingston with 800 men to add to General Riall's army, assumed command and pursued the Americans to Lundy's Lane. The two armies encamped within three miles of each other and prepared for battle.
