

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armours clattering just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and leave the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started we have a special offer. Just to get you started we have a special offer. Just to get you started we have a special offer.

Dury's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams. Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past:

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Dury's completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a true interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. You must try to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally. Depend on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

WORK OF THE COMPRADOR

Important Personage in the Business Life of the Great Republic of China.

Americans and Europeans going to China to establish import and export business naturally find at the outset a barrier to intercourse with the natives in the language and customs of the country. The foreigner may know how to transact business with other whites, but is ignorant of how to do business with the Chinese.

To overcome this difficulty the comprador came into existence. He is a Chinaman, speaking "pidgin" English (corruption of "business" English), a strange mixture of English with Chinese accent, Portuguese and Chinese, and the principal means of communication between foreigners and the commercial Chinese. The comprador is usually a man of good financial standing who handles business with other Chinamen, and he is to some extent in partnership with the foreign import and export merchant.

All sales to Chinese are referred to him. He passes upon their credit, makes the sales, collects the money, and simply accounts to the foreign partner, who knows little or nothing of the Chinese end of the business, just as the comprador knows nothing of the American or European end of the business. In fact, each keeps a separate set of books, and the comprador often employs his own clerks and salesmen.

RETALIATION

The Scholar—My folks is dead set on me gettin' a education, but, by gum! I'm goin' to make it cost 'em sompin'.

NOT AN UNUSUAL CASE.

Smith—Say, old man, you haven't a place for my son in your office, have you?
Brown—Why, I thought you had taken him into your office.
Smith—So I did, but I couldn't run my business to suit him, and rather than get out myself, I let him go.

MATRIMONIAL JOYS.

Husband (reading)—This paper says a woman seldom achieves anything great.
Wife—It's a safe bet that article was written by a married woman.
Husband—How do you know?
Wife—Oh, because—and she was thinking of her husband when she wrote it.

TIMOROUS PROTEST.

"I don't know that I want to be nominated for mayor of this town," said the cautious citizen. "The job doesn't seem lucky."
"But the office sometimes seeks the man."
"I know it. But, oh, what it does to him after it catches him!"

She Stayed in Bed.

Ingram, Tex.—"Ever since I became a woman," writes Mrs. E. M. Evans, of this place, "I suffered from womanly troubles. Last fall I got so bad, I had to stay in bed for nearly a week every month. Since I have taken Cardui, I feel better than I have for years." You can rely on Cardui. It acts on the womanly organs and helps the system to regain its normal state of health, in a natural way. Prepared especially for women, it prevents womanly pains, by acting on the cause, and builds up womanly strength in a natural way. Purely vegetable. Mild, but certain in action. Try it. Wholesale Frauds.

It has become known that the Government is on the track of internal revenue frauds in Kentucky which are said to involve an aggregate amount in excess of $100,000 and that distillers, who are charged with beating the Government, have been given their alternative of paying the amounts assessed against them or standing a prosecution which the Government believes would reveal a startling condition of affairs in Kentucky. Most of the alleged frauds are attributed to a practice called equalizing.

BANDAGES MADE BY PAQUIN

And the Odor of Disinfectant Fills the House of Worth in These Troublous Days.

Every dressmaking establishment of prominence in Paris has done much toward providing articles of clothing and surgical dressings for the army.

Mme. Paquin has opened a hospital in St. Cloud very near her chateau. Worth has a hospital in some of the rooms of his establishment on the Rue de la Paix. The soldiers who are being cared for by Worth receive visitors from one to three in the afternoon, and many delicacies find their way to these poor fellows through the generosity and sympathy of the ladies who patronize the establishment.

So close to the showrooms are the hospital rooms that the odor of disinfectants permeates the whole establishment. The saleswomen and manikins spend their spare moments in making respirators, bandages and dressings. As one enters the Worth establishment it is not unusual to see arriving at the same time an ambulance with its burden of wounded soldiers.

Mme. Paquin has left the direction of her business entirely to her sister-in-law and has devoted every minute of her own time to the care of the sick and wounded. M. Armand of Martial et Armand is one of the secretaries of the minister of war; so he very rarely has any time to give to his own business.—Anne E. Tomlinson, in the Saturday Evening Post.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

Lady—What will you charge me for the use of a horse and buggy for a few hours?

Liveryman—It will cost you $3 for the first hour and $1 for each additional hour.

Lady—Well, I'll use for two additional hours. I've got some shopping to do and will not require it for the first hour.

ABOVE THAT.

"Old Mr. Grabbequin must be immensely rich."

"What makes you think so?"

"He doesn't have to keep more cars than he needs, simply for the sake of appearances."

OUCH!

Scribbles—My new book will be out soon. I hope you'll lose no time in reading it.

Miss Hitts—Indeed I won't. I lost several hours reading your other one.

RUBBING IT IN.

Proud Dad—I suppose in the course of time baby will be married, even as we were.

Mamma—Yes, I suppose she'll throw herself away on some man.

TELLING THEM APART.

"How do you tell the twins apart?"

"One of them has a scar on her temple."

"Which one has the scar?"

"I never can remember."

ITS KIND.

"Is Doctor Bings looking for any particular chair in the university?"

"No; any one will suit him if only it's an easy chair."

QUITE THE CONTRARY.

"I assure you, a new camera is a positive necessity."

Like Caesar Did.

When Caesar took a westward ride, And grabbed the Gauls for Rome, What was the first thing that he did To make them feel at home?

Did he increase the people's loads, And liberty forbid?

No, he dug in and built good roads— That's what old Caesar did.

Did Caesar put the iron heel Upon the foeman's breast,

Or did he try to make them feel That Roman rule was best?

What did he do to make them glad He came their lands amid?

He built good roads in place of bad— That's what old Caesar did.

If any town would make itself The center of the map,

Where folks will come and settle down

And live in plenty's lap;

If any town its own abodes Of poverty would rid,

Let it go and build good roads— Just like old Caesar did.
