

Mr. Went-And-Cut-It - Here's Mr. 'Gets-It'

The New Plan Corn Cure That's as Sure as the Rising Sun.

"Glad to meet you!" says the razor to the corn. "I'll bleed for you!" says the corn to the razor. Razors and corns love each other. Corns love to

"Why, O Why, Did I Do It? 'Gets-It' for Me After This—If I Live!"

be cut, picked, gouged, saved, plastered and jerked out—they grow faster. Mr. and Mrs. Went-and-Cut-It realize it now—they use "Gets-It" instead—it's the wonderful, simple corn-cure that never fails. Stops pain. You apply it in 2 seconds, it dries at once, the corn is doomed. Nothing to stick to the stocking or press on the corn. It means good-night to plasters, salvers, diggers, razors and too-bundling. You can wear smaller shoes. Your corns will come right off, "clean as a whistle." Never inflames healthy flesh. The world's biggest selling corn cure. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Hopkinsville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by L. L. Elgin and J. O. Cook.

Can't Remit Fines.

County Judges, who have remitted or suspended fines, will be held strictly accountable for the State's portion of the fines by State Inspector and Examiner Nat B. Sewell, who has received an opinion from Assistant Attorney General O. S. Hogan stating that, while a judge has the right in term to set aside judgment and grant a new trial, he has no authority to suspend or remit a fine.

It is customary in many counties for the County Judge after sentence to remit the fine or to suspend it, or to go to the jail and direct the release of a prisoner serving out a fine. This has been held to be a direct exercise of the pardoning power, which belongs alone to the Governor. County jailers, the opinion says, have no right to release a prisoner on such terms.

The opinion quotes the Court of Appeals, saying: "The practice of suspending the judgments of courts in misdemeanor cases is a failure to enforce the law; it encourages crime and is a menace to good government." Inspector Sewell said judges must take steps to collect the fines and execute their judgments, or they will be required to pay the amount into the State Treasury.

PARAGRAPHS

From Sermons by Billy Sunday in Baltimore.

Be an amen Christian. But don't shout it louder than you live it.

The best way you can get a revival is to get rid of friction, the fusses, the feuds and the flirts.

Some of you people know old Hoyle better than you do Paul.

There can be no wedding unless two parties are agreed. If the girl says "no," that ends it.

It is better to go to heaven with one eye than to hell with two eyes.

Judging from church attendance, heaven won't be overcrowded with men.

Take the path of righteousness and follow Jesus Christ along that path, even if it leads to the coffin and the graveyard.

You may not believe in God, but there isn't any old infidel who can run even his own farm without following the divine order.

The preacher who murders the King's English four times to every sentence and has the Holy Ghost will get the revival.

What the church needs today is a baptism of horse sense.

I've been in churches where they had clocks screwed on the pulpits, and I believe that the devil had his hand in that. If the minister happened to go five minutes overtime—whew!

Some people seem to think that they can't run a church without oyster soup. The more soup there is, the faster the church is going to the devil. I believe in oyster soup, but I don't believe in coaxing quarters out of men's pockets to pay the back salary of the preacher.

We need one accord in the churches more than we need high-priced opera singers up in the choir lofts to sing chromatic scales like a squirrel climbs a tree.

You can pray until you are black in the face and bald-headed, but you're wasting your time unless you agree with God.

Lots of you women have not religion enough to go home and burn that pack of cards, take that beer out of your cellar and dump it in the sewer, or take that dish you won at the card party, you black-legged gambler, and bust it.

Manners may be overdone; courtesy never.

It is a bad day for a boy when he gets so big in his own conceit that former President Taft's overcoat wouldn't make him a vest.

If every dark cloud held a cyclone, this country would have been blown to smithereens long ago.

If you have a grouch, take it behind the barn and bury it.

You may know you are right just as surely as Solomon and Brigham Young knew they were married.

They go up an alley and pick up an old shirt that a billygoat has passed up as a dyspepsia-bringer. They turn that shirt into glucose. They turn the glucose into booze. They turn that booze into a man, and they turn

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

A dead fish will go with the tide. A live one will wriggle against it.

You can't tell a man's size by the fuss he makes. A frog makes more noise than a whale, a baby cries louder than a giant.

You can't look up to a runt in character.

Get out of the cellar and get on the roof garden.

The devil has a teacher in every man who cusses.

A highway of dime novels will make a criminal of any boy.

Aim high. It is no harder to knock the feather off an eagle than to kill a skunk.

Try to stop a runaway horse with your nose and you will feel as if you had been hit by an auto run by your mother-in-law.

It takes more than a college diploma, a mortar-board cap, a frat pin, a varsity suit and a "Rah-Rah-Rah-sis-boom-bah-Tiger" to make a man of you.

Stop your knocking and go to climbing.

A plow horse makes more miles in a year than a Kentucky thoroughbred.

Talking about confidence, we have the example of the man who went home loaded at night. He saw a rattlesnake, all coiled, ready for business. "Strike away, old fellow," he said; "I was never better prepared." The newspapers of today are a better college than Abraham Lincoln had.

Signs.

"I hear your husband is great for sports."

"He's that crazy about them that he won't even have roses or vines in our garden that are not runners."

Theory Only.

"This is a free country."

"Yes, in theory."

"Why, what do you mean?"

"Isn't it composed mainly of married men?"

Bad Prospect.

"Don't call your boat Will o' the Wisp."

"Why not?"

"Don't you know it has a tendency to a swamp?"

NATURALLY.

"Say, pop, what is meant by a bump of destructiveness?"

"Why, er, a railroad collision, of course."

Shortage of Paper.

The war in Europe has taught us many things. It has opened wide our eyes. One thing that will be doubly impressed on the American people within the next few months is the importance of economy and the thrift of saving.

No one except people in a position to know dreamed that this country imported rags from Europe. We have been doing this for years. Because of the necessities of European cities and the extent of poverty, rags are saved as valuable assets. Here we have given the subject but little thought. Few American citizens pay any attention to what becomes of their old newspapers, magazines and rags. They are usually consigned to the ash barrel, and we let it go at that.

Now comes a critical issue, and for the good of the nation let every man and woman, boy and girl take heed of the petition of the national paper manufacturers of the United States when they ask that all old paper, rags and other raw material be saved.

A conference held last week at which public attention was called to the great amount of such material daily wasted. More than this, the fact was frankly stated that the American people are face to face with a possible paper famine.—Commercial Appeal.

Forgiveness.

A Swedish count has an autograph album in which three statesmen have written a sentence of their respective philosophies. The eighty-year-old French minister, Guizot, wrote: "During my long life I have learned two wise rules; the one is, to forgive much, the other, to forget nothing."

Underneath these words the French statesman Thiers wrote: "I have found that a little forgetting does not detract from the sincerity of the forgiving."

On the same page there was space enough for an autograph of the German chancellor, Bismarck, who said: "During my life I have learnt the need of forgetting much and having much forgiven me."

Three True Steels.

Iron and carbon steel, vanadium steel, and tungsten steel, are pointed out by Prof. J. O. Arnold, British metallurgist, as the three true steels. The second kind is iron and carbon steel with five per cent of vanadium, the iron carbide having ceased to exist, and vanadium carbide being present, and the third kind is iron and carbon steel having 11.5 per cent of tungsten, the iron carbide having been expelled by the tungsten. Iron and carbon steel hardens at 730 degrees C.; vanadium steel, just below 1450 degrees, its melting point, and tungsten steel at 850 degrees to 1,200.

Her Business.

"I certainly do pity any poor seamstress."

"Why a seamstress especially?"

"Because she's bound to see so much of the seamy side of life."

Natural Inference.

"I suppose wires are made of quick-tempered metal."

"Why do you think that?"

"Because it is so dangerous to cross them."

Not in His Line.

"Have you studied political economy?"

"No, sir. Economy is all right in its place. I'm one of those who believe in keeping business out of politics."

The dates of the State meeting of the Travelers Protective Association have been fixed for April 28 and 29, to avoid conflicts with other meetings, and committees have been named to prepare for the meeting. The following are the chairmen, who will meet at an early date: Reception—Mayor F. K. Yost. Entertainment—Archie Higgins. Transportation—J. J. Metcalfe. Program—A. W. Wood. Decoration—N. B. Edmunds. Publicity—Chas. M. Meacham.

APRIL IS THE MONTH

In Which to Take School Census all Over the State.

April is the month in which the school census is taken all over the State of Kentucky. The law provides that the census shall not be taken before the first of April and all census reports must be filed with the County Superintendent on or before the 10th of May. A full supply of blanks for taking the census have been sent to the office of County Superintendent Foster. The trustees may get same by calling at his office. The County Superintendent requests that all trustees either call or send for his blanks, as it is rather expensive to mail them. The Superintendent further urges that the trustees and patrons of the entire county be careful to see that every pupil of school age is listed, as it means a larger portion of the State fund for this county.

STONE CONTRACT

Is Again Let to the Hopkinsville Stone Co.

At the meeting of the Commissioners Tuesday several important matters were attended to.

The contract for supplying the city with crushed stone was again let to the Hopkinsville Stone Co., at 80 cents per yard for 7,500 yards. This price is 12 cents cheaper than last year, and more stone will be used.

John Stites was named as city revenue agent to ferret out omitted tax lists.

The State pays 20 per cent commission for this class of work and Mr. Stites will be paid the same if it is justified under the law.
