TASTE FOR MUTTON IN JAPAN

Sheep in Large Numbers Being Imported into Flowery Kingdom From Antipodes.

The visit of a Japanese government official to Australasia to buy sheep is reported from Sydney, N. S. W., remarks East and West. This official—T. Higuchi, chief of the stock farm in the Hokkaido—lately, it seems, bought some merino and Romney rams at Monaro, in New South Wales, and then proceeded to New Zealand to get some Corriedales and Romneys, which Mr. Higuchi considers the best breeds for the northern island of Hokkaido.

There are now in Japan not more than 15,000 sheep, but by intensive efforts the country may be capable of supporting about 500,000—and Korea presents possibilities which may make a radical difference in Japan's standing as a consumer and importer of wool. The Sydney paper concludes:

"Even should Japan be able to raise the number of her sheep to 500,000, this number will not begin to meet the demand for wool and mutton, and the nation will doubtless have to continue importing both. The war, more especially by reason of the tremendous military demands of Russia, has given the Japan woolen trade a great impetus, and, moreover, the younger generation of Japanese have acquired a taste for mutton."

Might Not Be Alive.

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Ocie Jett, of this place, writes: "I don't believe I would be living today, if it hadn't been for Cardui. I lay in bed 27 days, and the doctor came every day but he did me no good. Finally he advised an operation, but I would not consent, and instead took Cardui. Now I am going about the house, doing my work, and even do my washing. Cardui worked wonders in my case. I am in better health than for five years." Cardui is a strengthening tonic for women, it relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength. Try it. At your druggist's. Advertisement.

The June American Magazine.

In the June American Magazine Dale Carnegie has an interesting article on money made in writing for the movies, giving the experience of hitherto unknown persons who have achieved vast wealth through the medium of the films. "Ambitious Business Men Rising to a New Opportunity" by Albert W. Atwood is an original description of how the United States is taking Germany's place in the chemical and industrial world. There are many other articles distinctly worth reading, among them an interview with Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who advises every young man to get an idea of his own. "A Successful Surgeon's Own Story" by a famous specialist, tells how he attained an annual income of $20,000 a few years after graduating from the medical college and gives some of his thrilling experiences in the operating room. "Your Hidden Powers and the Key to Unlock Them," is a graphic account of a business man's rise to power and wealth through giving his subordinates due credit for their work. For the series on "The Glory of the States," C. P. Connolly has an article on Montana. Other articles are: "Those Rheumatic Twinges," by Dr. Arthur R. Reynolds, who claims that the cause of rheumatism has been discovered. "Heads Up and Use Corners Only," by Frederick Upham Adams, and "Are Drinks Worth Twenty-five Minutes Apiece?" by Dr. Edwin F. Bowers, who supplies scientific proof to show that each drink taken shortens life by about that length of time.

Music and Children.

Music preserves in children that idealty which is one of the most precious possessions of childhood, and which we would fain keep in after life; which loves flowers and animals, which sees the truth in fairy stories, which believes everything to be good and is alien to everything sinister, which sees the moon and stars, not as objects so many millions of miles from the earth, and parts of a great solar system, but as lanterns hung in the heavens.—Thomas Whitney Surette in Atlantic.

NORTHWEST HAS GROWN RICH

Statistics Show That Its Wealth Has Been Increased Remarkably During Last Few Years.

The tremendous growth of the Northwest is probably not appreciated in the far South, East and West, and even the people themselves who have been concerned in this rush of development are probably not broadly cognizant of what has taken place, the Milwaukee Journal observes. That from 1900 to 1915 Minnesota's bank deposits jumped from $76,000,000 to $551,000,000 reads like a tale of Aladdin's lamp. The dry plains of South Dakota also have evidently blossomed like the rose, for in this period bank deposits have grown from $14,000,000 to $111,000,000. This means that South Dakota bank deposits have risen 800 per cent in 15 years, a wonderful record. Montana's bank deposits in the same period have leaped from $17,000,000 to $101,000,000.

In the aggregate here are four contiguous northwestern states, the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota, whose bank deposits have risen in 15 years from $118,000,000 to $800,000,000, and whose crop values have risen from a negligible amount in 1900 to $600,000,000 in 1915.

The 1900 figures show these states almost in the pioneering stage. The 1915 figures speak of the development of a vast farm empire with millions of contented families. And all accomplished in 1 1/2 decades, just a fraction of one lifetime. Perhaps the only man who is not surprised at this showing is a visionary like James J. Hill, who, even when his locomotives shrieked the first call of civilization over the western plains, spoke of the Northwest in eleven-figured terms. He has seen his wildest dreams come true.

LITERALLY.

"I think that trapeze performer is in love with the fellow who performs with her."
"She threw herself at him, if that is any sign."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE LONELY DEATH.

One day they witnessed the execution of a spy. They returned from that deeply moved. What impressed them most was the loneliness of such a death. The doomed man stood before a platoon. Then beyond that, and all about him, was a solid square of infantry. And beyond that, and all around, one felt hundreds of thousands of men, his enemies all of them; all of them thinking of him with hatred and contempt. And his own lines were so very far off, and in those lines no one thought of him at that particular moment when friendly thought would have been such a boon. No one over there thought of him at all except perhaps one; the one who had sent him here, who considered him merely as a pawn, and would make an eternal secret of his death and his deed. A lonely end, that of a spy!—James Hopper, in Collier's Weekly.
