What Counts?

We offer the suggestion that it is what you SAVE, not what you earn, that counts.

It is nice to have a big salary or to be doing a big, profitable business, but what does it amount to if you do not save? That's where a reliable bank like ours is a big help. We will be glad to help you save by carefully guarding your deposits, by suggesting safe, profitable investments, and in every way in our power assisting you to accumulate something for a "rainy day" that's sure to come. We invite you to start an account with us, no matter how small.

WASTE IN U. S. BUILDINGS

Stone Shipped Thousands of Miles When Quarries Are Near By Scene of Operations.

"It isn't any wonder that there is a cry against the public buildings bill as a 'pork barrel' measure when one considers the excessive cost of some of the public buildings authorized by congress," remarked former Postmaster Crammette of Aberdeen, Wash., the Washington Post states. "The government itself is to blame for this cry, because it has shown anything but businesslike methods in the construction of many of its buildings.

"Take, for instance, the new post-office at Aberdeen, which is now under construction. The limestone that is being used is being shipped to Washington state all the way from Indiana, because Indiana limestone is called for in the specifications, and yet we have quarries in Washington state that produce just as good a quality of stone as is found in the Hoosier state. The specifications also call for southern pine for the floors, and a large quantity of this pine has been sent diagonally across the continent from one end to the other—that is, from Florida to Washington—to build the floors of the new post office. Yet we have in Washington a better quality of pine flooring, the Douglas fir, which is not only preferred by builders, but which has proved its superiority for this work. The government, however, has to go to the expense of shipping material four thousand or five thousand miles just because someone had the specifications call for southern pine."

HEREDITARY

First Bunny—Here comes that grouchy old rabbit. He's too quarrelsome to agree with anyone.
Second Bunny—Well, I suppose he must be a descendant of a Welsh rabbit.

LOVE OF WORK.

Here is a letter from an old contractor which expresses a sentiment that will do your heart good: "I have a fair share of this world's goods to live on," he said, "yet I like to work and do something worth while. There are several nice houses here to my credit, and they are all well built and substantial."

It is worth while to love our work so well that we will not want to quit just because we do not need the ages any longer. It is worth while to have such a pride in our work, a pride that is not measured by the dollars we get out of it.—Prairie Farmer.

FROM BAD TO WORSE.

Weeks—I understand your baby has been very sick. Is the worst over?
Weeks—I'm afraid not. His health is all right, but we haven't named him yet.

DEFINITE LIMITS.

"What grounds of complaint have you against me?" asked the dentist. "Ground!" scornfully echoed the patient. "I have achers of it."

THEIR BENEFIT.

"Some people hold rubber pavements are the healthiest."
"They certainly ought to make people walk with an elastic step."

CALLING A PAINFUL BLUFF.

"I never yet saw the man who could take my nerve."
"Then let me introduce you to my dentist."

HEARD AT THE CROSSING.

Obese Lady—Could you see me across the street, officer?
New Officer—Sure, ma'am, it's tin toimes th' distance Oi cud see yez.

EAST CLAIMS BIGGEST CAT

Brownie Corriveau of Roxbury, Mass. Woman, Weighs Forty Pounds.

Brownie is supposed to be the biggest pet house cat in New England. Brownie weighs forty pounds and he is as big as a man round the waist, that is, he's as big as some men and a whole lot bigger than the ordinary cat. Brownie's exact waist measure is thirty inches, and within that vast feline circumference beats a great feline heart that is true blue to Mrs. Alice Corriveau of Roxbury. Brownie is a coon cat and his tremendous avoirdupois was not built up on too much food. He eats lightly twice a day with a drink of warmed milk night and morning. He refuses cold milk or water.

This winter while his mistress was visiting several weeks in New York, Brownie boarded at the Angell Memorial Animal hospital of the S. P. C. A. Mrs. Marion P. Frost, who has charge of the pets' boarding department of the hospital, says Brownie is positively the biggest cat she has ever seen—and one of the best.

Mrs. Corriveau intends to enter her Brownie, who is nine years old, in the next cat show in Boston. If they have any heavyweight class in a cat show, the management might just as well mail the blue ribbon to Brownie Corriveau now and have that much off their minds.—Boston Globe.

COULDN'T STAND THAT.

Sir Vazey Strong, who presides over the city tribunal which hears the appeals of men called up under the military service act, told me an amusing story the other day about a man who claimed total exemption on the ground of conscientious objections to fighting and killing. The man was passed for noncombatant service only. Next day this same man appeared before Sir Thomas in the magistrate's court, brought up on a charge of assault.
"So you have assaulted this man?" said Sir Thomas, after the prisoner had pleaded guilty. "Yes," replied the conscientious objector. Sir Thomas—"But I thought you had conscientious scruples against fighting?" C. O.—"I have." Sir Thomas—"Why, then, did you attack him?" C. O. (indignantly)—"Why, he tried to take ten shillings from me!"—London Mail.

High Standard.
Let us so live that when we are nominated for a public office we shall not have people saying of us that once upon a time we milked a widow woman's cow while the owner was at church.—Dallas News.

Beautiful Bust and Shoulders are possible if you will wear a scientifically constructed Bien Jolie Brassiere. The dragging weight of an unconfined bust so stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled.

BIEN JOLIE
BRASSIERES

Put the bust back where it belongs, prevent the full bust from having the appearance of flatness, eliminate the danger of dragging muscles and confine the flesh of the shoulder giving a graceful line to the entire upper body.

They are the delectable and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, Hook Front, Strapless, Bandeau, etc. Bonded with "Walloha," the rustless lining—permitting washing without removal.

Have your dealer show you Bien Jolie Brassieres. If not stocked, we will gladly send you prepaid samples to show you.
