WOMEN CARE FOR HORSES

Scarcity of Man Workers in England Has Brought About a Peculiar State of Affairs.

A notable example of the utilization of female labor in war-time is afforded by three large military horse depots at Reading.

There is not a single man on any of the staffs, the work of attending to the horses being done by gentlewomen. Some of them have been brought up in Australian and Canadian horse-ranches, but most of them are members of the South Berks and other hunts. The depots are convalescent homes for army horses. They have been organized by Mr. Cecil Aldin, the sporting artist and a joint master of the South Berks hunt.

The fifty ladies working at the depots wear caps, short breeches, and gaiters. They meet the horses at the railway stations and do all that is necessary for their comfort, duly dispatching them from the railway stations when they are restored to health.—London Mail.

"HOUSEHOLD EMPLOYEE" NOW

Cincinnati Has Entered Into Movement to Abandon Old Titles of Servants.

Cincinnati women who may need household assistance will be asked hereafter seeking help to ask for a "household employee" instead of a "girl" or "maid" or the now practically obsolete "hired girl."

In an address in New York several days ago Miss Elizabeth Dodge, national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., stated that all housemaids should be called household employees, as the term carries with it the proper dignity and an accurate description of the work indicated. It is distinctly favored by Miss Elizabeth Attee, secretary of the Cincinnati Y. W. C. A., and by Miss Margaret Maxon of the woman's department, city-state labor exchange, who stated their intention of using the term and doing all in their power to make its use general.

A RESPITE.

"How would you like to be an explorer and visit unfrequented parts of the earth?"

"I would like that first rate," replied the weary mortal. "It would be a positive relief to find myself in a place where I wouldn't hear any war news for six months or a year."

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Sapleigh—How do you—aw—like me new monocle, Miss Cutting?

Miss Cutting—Oh, it's all right as far as it goes; but really you should wear a double eyeglass.

Sapleigh—And why, pray?

Miss Cutting—Because it would hide more of your face.

WORTH CULTIVATING.

"Are your new neighbors the kind of people you care to associate with?"

"Well, rather! They own three motor cars."

DESERVES THE TITLE.

"Why do you call Mrs. Twobble a superwoman?"

"When she says, 'Wait a minute,' she means approximately sixty seconds."

A TIFF.

Newwed—It is hard to ask for bread and get a stone.

Mrs. Newwed—It is worse to ask for a stone and get paste.

AS EXPLAINED.

Mrs. Waggs—Does your husband suffer from chronic thirst?

Mrs. Jiggs—I should say not. He doesn't wait long enough.

NATURALLY.

"Our man is promised the support of all the fraternal orders."

"Of course, he must be the logical candidate."

THE PUZZLE.

"The De Smythes are going to give a big blowout."

"How do they manage to raise the wind?"

FAR BEHIND.

"Is your son pursuing his studies at college?"

"Yes, but he hasn't caught up with any of them yet."

Woman's Greatest Trouble.

Big Sandy, Tenn.—Mrs. Lucy Cantrell, of this place, says: "Every two weeks, I had to go to bed and stay there several days. I suffered untold misery. Nothing seemed to help me, until I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic. Although I had been afflicted with womanly weakness for seven years, Cardui helped me more than anything else ever did. It is surely the best tonic for women on earth." Weakness is woman's greatest trouble. Cardui is woman's greatest medicine, because it overcomes that weakness and brings back strength. In the past 50 years, Cardui helped over a million women. Try it for your troubles, today.—Advertisement.

"Too Thin."

"Too thin" was given currency by Hon. Alexander Stephens of Georgia, in the United States congress of 1876. Some members had made a reply to Mr. Stephens, and the latter had his chair wheeled out into the aisle and said in that shrill, piping voice, which always commanded silence: "Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's arguments are gratuitous assertions made up of whole cloth. And cloth, sir, so gauzy and thin that it will not hold water; it is entirely too thin, sir."

Using Old Bottles.

A bottle may be cut off by wrapping a cord saturated in coal oil around it several times, then setting fire to the cord, and just when it has finished burning plunging the bottle into cold water and tapping the end you wish to break off. Oddly shaped or prettily colored bottles make good vases. The top of a large bottle having a small neck makes a good funnel. Large, round bottles make good jelly glasses.

WHEN ALL OIL IS GONE

Likely to Be a Problem to Find Something That Can Replace It.

How much petroleum there is in the United States no one knows, writes Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, in an article on "Economic Preparedness," published in the Scientific American. But at the present rate of consumption—265,000,000 barrels a year—it will soon be exhausted, for the geological survey's maximum estimate is 23,000,000,000 barrels.

"Whatever the supply," says Secretary Lane, "it should not be allowed in its crude state to compete with coal as fuel. Petroleum is a priceless resource, for it can never be replaced. Trees can be grown again on the soil from which they have been taken. But how can petroleum be produced? It has taken ages for nature to distill it in her subterranean laboratory. We do not even know her process. We may find a substitute for it, but have not yet. It is practically the one lubricant of the world today. Not a railroad wheel turns without its way being smoothed by it. We can make light and heat by hydro-electric power, but the great turbines move on bearings that are smothered in petroleum. From it we get the quick exploding gas which is to the motor and the airship what air is to the human body. To industry, agriculture, commerce and the pleasures of life, petroleum is now essential."

THIS GOLF BALL HARMLESS.

Another knick-knack has been added to the golfer's indoor equipment.

A woolly little ball, the size and shape of a regulation golf ball, now enables one to take one's stance in a corner of the living room and aim at any piece of bric-a-brac, cut glass or hand painted vase without fear of serious consequences. Of course there is always the chance that the ball will not go where it is directed, but if it should, and if it should pop the porcelain dairy maid square in the nose it would rebound without causing any damage.

The indoor ball was placed on the market in Kansas City several weeks ago, and already several hundred are in use. The material is soft wool tied so it retains its spherical shape.

ADDING INSULT TO INJURY.

"Pray compose yourself," said the man who was getting the best of the argument.

"Compose myself!" exclaimed the other. "I'd have you know, sir, that I am already a self-made man."

MAKING A DISTINCTION.

Mrs. Owens—I'm going to the butcher's, Tom. Shall I order the Sunday dinner?

Owens—No, don't order it; just ask for it. Last month's bill isn't paid yet.

MARITAL HINT.

He—I see where the government wants women to save their rags.

She—Well, if the government only takes a look at the clothes I have to wear, it can see one woman's doing it.

TREATING A FAVORITE 'AS SUCH.

"You haven't been heard yet on your favorite topic."

"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "I think too much of that topic to risk making it unpopular by bringing it up at the wrong time."

AWFUL.

Bix—I've smoked an awful lot of cigars lately.

Dix—You're right, if that one
