

BAGBY CASE IS CALLED

Frank Rives and Other Negroes Charged With Attack on Merchant.

HENDERSON ON BENCH

Circuit Court Resumed Commonwealth's Docket Yesterday.

With Judge Carl Henderson, of Marion, on the bench, Circuit Court is again trying commonwealth cases. Yesterday, Dave Cole, a negro boy charged with housebreaking, was given two years in the penitentiary. Clifton Sharp, for chicken stealing, got one year. Both boys are about 16 or 17 years old. Will Bailey was tried for carrying a concealed weapon and acquitted. The trial of Frank Rives, col., indicted for a murderous assault on Luke Bagby, at Noah's Spring last winter, was set for yesterday afternoon. Two others, Top and Will White, were tried in March for complicity in the affair and given 5 years each.

Frank Postell, col., convicted of murdering J. J. Robinson, was sentenced to be put to death in the electric chair Dec. 8, and was granted until June 24 to prepare an appeal.

Judge W. M. Reed, of Paducah, will be here to hold court next week.

Too Late.

She kissed the old man; she showered upon him kisses and tears. She told all the people how good he was. I thought if she had only given half a dozen of those kisses a year for the last ten years, how the tender-hearted old gentleman would have smiled through his tears. But now he took it very coolly. He was dead. He was old and poor; she was rich. She had ten rooms but no room for her father. Yet he made room for her when he had only two. The old man was not educated. She was—at his expense. He had fed and clothed her for twenty years at home and at college, until she had risen in more refined and cultured society, and married among new friends. The old people's address and dialect were too coarse. She kissed him and buried him in a beautiful coffin. Dear father is to have a beautiful monument. A warm kiss while living is better than cold marble when dead.—Young Woman.

No Primary in Several Districts

The coming August State primary will be very tame in several districts of the State. In the First congressional district the Democrats will have no candidate, only the Republicans having a nominee for Congress to select. In the Second and Third districts no primary for either party will be held. In the Fourth district the Republicans will have the primary all to themselves in nominating a candidate for Congress and the same conditions will prevail in the Fifth district. In the Sixth and seventh districts there will be no primary, while in the Eighth and Ninth warm contests are on for Democratic nominations for Congress, and in the Ninth the primary will be a two-party affair as there are several candidates seeking the Republican congressional nomination. While there will be no congressional primaries in the Tenth and Eleventh districts these districts as well as part of the Ninth, comprising the Seventh appellate district, will have a heated Republican primary for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Postponement.

The date of the meeting of Bethel Baptist Association at Allensville has been postponed for one week, from August 8th to August 15th.

OUTSIDE OF UNITED STATES

Uncle Sam Intends to Build Lighthouse on Navassa Island, a "No Man's Land."

Because the Panama canal, when it comes into its own with the close of the European war, will refashion the trade routes of the world and lead an endless procession of vessels through waters hitherto unfrequented, the United States government is preparing to go afield and establish a lighthouse on Navassa Island, a small rocky islet of the West Indies east of Haiti.

The light will be unique, says the Washington Star, in that it will be the only one maintained by the United States alone on land not a part of its national domain. The government is not wholly without claim to the half mile of rock that constitutes the island, however, for a generation ago guano deposits were exploited by an American company, which found it a "no man's land."

At that time the courts of the United States assumed jurisdiction when a murder was committed on the isolated patch of rock, and brought the murderer to book at Baltimore. When the need of a lighthouse on the island was felt, therefore, it was not deemed necessary to negotiate with any other country, although several countries have at times claimed ownership.

Congress appropriated $125,000 for the erection of the Navassa light and the federal lighthouse bureau will soon call for bids. The light will have a beam of 55,000 candle power that can be seen for 27 nautical miles.

There is one other lighthouse that is in a way comparable to Navassa. This is the light on Cape Spartel, the Moroccan headland across from Gibraltar, which has been maintained since 1867 by joint contributions from Great Britain, the United States, Morocco, Austria, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, the Netherlands and Portugal.

FOUND MASTER IN TRENCHES

Faithful Dog, Left Behind in London, Followed Soldier to Fighting Line in France.

As curious a story as any that the war has brought to notice is that of how a dog which a British soldier left behind him in London succeeded in following him to the fighting line in France, and is now running about at his heels almost as if they were both back in their native Hammersmith. The story would be unbelievable if it were not well authenticated, the dog's owner, James Brown, being a private in the First North Staffordshire regiment. Private Brown went to the continent in August, and September 30 his wife missed the dog, an Irish terrier named Prince. She heard nothing more of the animal until some weeks ago, when she got a letter from her husband, in which he said:

"I am sorry you have not found Prince, and you are not likely to while he is over here with me. It is a very strange thing I should have got him. A man brought him to me from the front trenches. I could not believe my eyes till I got off my horse and he made a great fuss of me. I believe he came over with some other troops. Just fancy his coming and finding me. He is quite settled down with me, and I have made him a coat out of some old greatcoats, which will keep him warm. He is the pet of the regiment."

Economy of a Stock Company.

The economy of a stock company offered interesting instances here at the old Boston museum. Some of the actors had no intention of letting grass grow under their feet. One player was a barber by day; another, the beloved "Smithy," was a tailor—very properly, the tailor played fops. I had a particular friend who was a cab driver. Who shall point the finger of scorn that these had two strings to their bow? Their example might be well followed; an honest barber or, for that matter, an honest cab driver, may be the noblest work of God. And well may the actor's study of mankind be multiplied a thousandfold by the scraping of innumerable chins or the driving of the accidental wayfarer from the cradle to the grave. Who could better take man's measure than the tailor, dissect him to a hair than the barber, or consider his final destination than the cab driver.—From "My Remembrances," by E. A. Sothern in Scribner's Magazine.

Invention of Worth.

In a list of epoch-making inventions of the last fifty years given in an official report, thirty-six are credited to "people of the United States," fourteen to foreign inventors. The first ten in each list, respectively, are as follows: American—Telephone, typewriter, cash register, incandescent lamp, talking machine, electric furnace reduction, electrolytic alkali production, transparent photograph film, motion picture machine, buttonhole sewing machine. Foreign—Electric steel, dynamite, artificial alizarine (dye), siphon recorder, gas engine, wireless telegraphy, smokeless powder, Diesel oil motor, centrifugal creamer, manganese steel.

Make School a Temporary Home.

Ranchers of the McLucas (N. D.) school district solved the problem of winter schooling for their boys and girls by converting the schoolhouse into a home for them from Monday morning until Friday night each week. Parents planned an addition to the school and fitted it up as sleeping and eating quarters for the children to live there in care of the teacher.

SESSION WAS SUCCESSFUL

Howell High School Made Excellent Record During The Past Year.

The Howell High School, which recently closed its session, had a most successful year and the school has organized for another year. The commencement exercises were high-class. Prof. L. E. Foster was present and delivered an excellent address. Seventeen pupils of the 8th grade received diplomas in their work. The attendance the past session averaged 90 per cent. of the enrollment, which is a fine showing, considering the fact many of the pupils reside from four to seven miles from the school house. Three of twenty-five pupils came nine months without missing a day.

Prof. L. J. Kinley has been re-elected principal. Miss Lena Foster, of Pembroke, will be primary grade teacher and Miss Frances Lander, of this city, will assist in High School work. Miss Elizabeth Fox, of this place, will teach music. It will be the purpose of the faculty to divide the work so that, of the four majors required in high school work, an equal division can be made between the high school teachers.

Prospects are brilliant for the next year's work in the school and the same excellent co-operation is expected that was evident during the past session.

COULD NOT BE KEPT HIDDEN

Many Nations Have Vainly Tried to Prevent Other Countries Purchasing Sources of Wealth.

The following national secrets that have become world property are described in Farm and Fireside:

"There was a time when the Turkish government imposed the death penalty on persons caught trying to smuggle out of the empire the best breeds of Angora goats. In 1881, a Californian, Doctor Bailey, bought four goats in Turkey, carried them on mules, camels and in a closed carriage for some hundreds of miles, sheared off their luxuriant wool, rolled them in coal dust to make them look common and disreputable, and escaped with the sultan's goats and a whole skin. The descendants of these goats are found on ranches in the West and Southwest, crossed with Angoras from South Africa and other parts of the world.

"Once the governments of China and Japan guarded with similar jealousy the exportation of the tea plant. Some one escaped with some seed or cuttings, however, some forty years ago, and the original plantation of smuggled tea plants is still flourishing in South Carolina.

"Fifty years ago Brazil was engaged in an effort to keep the rubber tree in confinement in that empire. The seed was smuggled to Ceylon, however, and for half a century East Indian planters have been perfecting the rubber tree until now the best plantations are there, rather than in Brazil, and the Brazilians who want the best varieties send to Ceylon, Java and other Asiatic countries for their trees for planting.

"The sultan lost his goat, the mandarins their tea and the dons their rubber trees—and in return Brazil has given the Asiatics the plague of the water hyacinth and the Mongolians have sent us the San Jose scale, the gypsy moth and several other pests.

"There are at least two sides to the matter of free exchange, but it is one of the most fascinating subjects connected with agriculture."

WOMEN SEEK BARBER'S AID

Not Even the Softest Down is Allowed to Stay on the Faces of Japanese Ladies.

In Japan not only men but women go to the barber if there be any sign of hair on their faces; they do not permit even the soft down to grow, which the Japanese are often astonished to see left unmolested on the faces of some Western women. Often, too, the eyebrows are shaved. In recent years the female barber has become a feature of the profession in Tokyo, most of these being the wives of barbers who wish to make themselves useful to their husbands, though some are independent.

The seventeenth of every month is regarded as a barber's holiday, when they close up shop and go to theaters and places of amusement, for which they are often furnished with free tickets, because they allow the playbills and other advertisements of the places of amusement to be posted in their shops free. Most of the instruments now used by Japanese barbers are made in Japan, thought at first they were all imported.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sanative Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

KENTUCKY GIRL

Wins Prize in Competition With 31,237.

Farm and Fireside, an Ohio paper, recently printed a picture of a lady pointing to a spot on the map of Ohio, with a little girl standing by. The paper offered prizes for the best answer to the question, "What's She Telling Teacher?" The Farm and Fireside of June 17, says:

"First place and a prize of $5 was won by Miss Josephine Willis, of Vine Grove, Kentucky, in Farm and Fireside's contest, 'What's She Telling Teacher?' which closed June 1st with 31,237 contestants entered. Miss Margaret K. Railey, R. F. D. No. 2, Clarksdale, Missouri, was awarded second place and the prize of $3. Third place and a prize of $2 was won by Miss Rachel Sheldon, Fresno, California.

The other awards with a prize of $1 were: Fourth place, Rev. F. A. Bisbee, Boston, Massachusetts; fifth place, Mrs. D. C. Parrshall, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 21, Cimarron, Kansas; sixth place, Miss Sena M. Rath, R. F. D. No. 1, Avoca, Minnesota; seventh place, Miss Fay Speck, R. F. D. No. 1, Dalton, Georgia, and eighth place, Miss Daisy O. Geberding, La Grange, Indiana.

Few men entered the contest because they were so busy in the fields, with the result that all of the prize-winners except one were women. The youngest contestant was six years old, while the oldest person was 93 years old. Every State in the United States was represented. With few exceptions all of the letters were remarkably well written.

Among the 31,237 persons entering answers in the contest, 389 were so close on the heels of the leaders that it was indeed difficult to select the prize-winners.

First prize, by Josephine Willis: Of all the farm papers that stand the test, My dad says, Farm and Fireside's best. It tells us all we need to know, and is published at Springfield, O-h-i-o.

Surely Doing His Best.

"Why, Willie, what in the world are you doing in there?" asked the mother of a small boy as she opened the door of the big refrigerator and discovered him sitting inside. "Well, you see, I've got to speak a piece at school this afternoon," explained Willie, "and papa said I'd got along all right if I kept cool."

ELLIS WHITE KILLED SELF

Uses a Double-Barrel Shotgun as Instrument of Destroying Life.

DEED IS PUBLICLY DONE

Was an Employe of the Model Laundry Company—Funeral Yesterday.

Ellis White, a driver for the Model Laundry Co., aged 35 years, died at 3 a. m. Thursday from the effects of a self-inflicted gunshot wound made in his right side at 8 o'clock, Wednesday night.

The ball made a severe flesh wound, lacerating a muscle, but it was not thought to be a fatal injury when a physician examined it shortly afterwards.

White's wife and little girl were at the house of a neighbor on Twelfth street and J. C. White, his father, was cutting some grass in the yard with a hand scythe.

White entered the house, walking over a freshly painted porch floor, although his father called his attention to it. Returning with a shotgun in his hand he walked to the edge of the porch and calling out loudly "Good-bye everybody," placed the muzzle against his breast and fired. His father and Ben Hadden ran to him and prevented his firing the other barrel. The charge ranged around the cavity, wounding the right arm also in its passage under the arm.

While his wound was being dressed White insisted that he wanted to die, saying his wound would be fatal. Funeral services were held at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, by Rev. C. M. Thompson, pastor of the Baptist church, of which White was a member.

His former home was at Lafayette and his wife was Miss Mattie Henry Stegar, a daughter of John T. Stegar, of Beverly.

Mr. White was one of the "Ferrell's Boys."

WAS NEAR CENTURY MARK.

Gemima Stites, col., died Wednesday night at her home on Vine street, of senility. She was 97 years old and was born in Virginia, coming to this county when a child. She joined the Christian church before the Civil war and retained her membership until death.

MRS. KIMMONS BETTER.

A report of the illness of Mrs. Will Kimmons reaching the Cadiz Record was exaggerated. Mrs. Kimmons is slowly improving and is now able to sit up some every day. The ropes blocking the approaches to the house have been removed. She expects to go to Battle Creek as soon as she is able to travel.

Caught Them, That Time!

The latest story from Sandhurst Military college is given in the London Evening News: Over night the cadets conspired. When next morning the sergeant gave the order "Number off from the right!" the voices rang out, "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six, eighty-seven, eighty-eight, eighty-nine, ninety, ninety-one, ninety-two, ninety-three, ninety-four, ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven, ninety-eight, ninety-nine, one hundred."

The National For June.

The National Magazine for June comes to us full of articles of unusual timely interest. Besides his "Affairs at Washington," with its chatty stories about people and happenings at the nation's capital, Joe Chapple devotes several pages to a forecast of "Political Issues and Presidential Possibilities," and there is, too, a talk about the members of the Republican National Committee, fully illustrated. "The Birthplace of the G. O. P." by James H. Skewes, shows us that the Republican party was born in a little schoolhouse in Ripon, Wisconsin.

Which Jew Think?

Mr. Brandies has now been a justice of the supreme court for a couple of weeks with no noticeable effect on the foundations of the republic except for a widespread doubt as to whether he is pronounced Brand-iss or Brand-ice.—Columbus Journal.

Wanted to Be Ready.

A story is told of an old Irish gentleman who was the only undertaker in an upper Michigan city years ago. He was what might be called a forehanded man. One day he met on the street the young son of a citizen who was reported to be at death's door. "How is yer fa-ther this mornin'?" asked the undertaker. "He's stinking fast," said the boy. "Is that so? Poor boy! By the way, how tall is yer fa-ther?"
