The new bonds are to be tentatives at 3 per cent interest.

Miss Christine Bradley will, it is said, offer to go to the front as a nurse.

With the enemy making no effort to get out, it looks like the Merrimac was wasted.

THE DAILY KENTUCKIAN appears in six-page form this morning, to make room for the unusual demand for advertising space.

Now that the bond people have got what they went after, let the war be brought to a close. There is no longer any pretext for delay.

The President is still nominating generals and the country is seriously threatened with another army of generals.

There is very little news to interest Southern readers in the list of generals appointed by the President. Most of them are unknown in the South.

Kentucky's entire force of three regiments of infantry and two troops of cavalry has been sent, or will be sent, to Chickamauga. Others will do the dress parade business at Washington.

The Americans have plugged the Spaniards in at Santiago and the Spanish have plugged the Americans out at Cardenas. Now that there are no holes in the fence, the dogs of war will proceed to "sick" themselves on each other.

The First Kentucky regiment has been ordered to Chickamauga, but will not be ready to move for several days, probably not before Wednesday. Four companies were mustered into the Federal service Friday and the rest yesterday.

It is all very well from one point of view to sacrifice a ship to block Santiago channel and keep Cervera in, but another question arises. How are we going to get in to destroy his fleet? We still believe Dewey's plan was better.

The press boys are preparing to have a great time at Macinac this year, but for once the editor of the Kentuckian cannot be with them. He is sitting up o' nights with an infant daily that requires all his attention.

We began the war on account of the starvation policy of the Spaniards, and then at once adopted the same policy ourselves, applying it alike to friends and foes in the beleaguered cities of Havana and Santiago. The consistency in this is not visible to the naked eye.

Every effort is being made to improve the KENTUCKIAN'S carrier service in the city. The carriers are started out on their routes at 5 o'clock and subscribers should receive their papers all over the city by 6:30 a. m. Papers are required to be delivered on the doorsteps and not thrown in the yards. Any irregularities reported will be promptly remedied.

The Kentuckians at Chickamauga celebrated their arrival in Georgia by trying to lynch a colored soldier from Maine for cursing a white sentinel who refused to let him cross his picket line at will. They had secured a rope, climbed a tree and were preparing for the swinging up when the officers appeared and stopped the proceeding. Being near Rome (Ga.) they thought it proper to do as Romans do.

The withdrawal of Ollie James from the Congressional race in the First district is regarded by Democrats generally as a deliberate and patriotic sacrifice of personal ambition to avoid a contest inside the party at this time. Without disparagement to Charlie Wheeler, who has made an excellent record, it can be truthfully said that Ollie James is easily the most popular Democrat in his district and the best posted politicians in the Purchase say he would have been nominated. His time will come later.

The war revenue bill has been agreed upon as it will become a law. It provides for the issue of $300,000,000 of bonds and $100,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness. The vote upon the final amendments was 45 to 31. Caffery, Lindsay, Faulkner, Gorman, Gray, Mitchell, and Murphy voting with the Republicans for bonds and Butler, Cannon, Heitfield, Jones, Mantle, Pettigrew, Rawlins, Roach, Stewart, and Teller, voting with the Democrats. The Wolcott amendments taking the place of the seigniorage amendment proposed by the Democrats, was passed by a vote of 48 to 31. It is as follows:

"That the secretary of the Treasury shall immediately cause to be coined, as fast as possible in to standard silver dollars, to an amount of not less than $4,000,000 per month, which shall be of like weight and fineness and of like legal tender quality as those provided for under existing law, all the silver bullion now in the treasury.

"That the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized and directed to issue, as said silver is coined, silver certificates of similar design and denominations and of the same quality, payable and redeemable in like manner as those authorized by law, to the amount of the gain or seigniorage derived from the purchases of silver bullion by the Treasury under the act of July 14, 1890, until the sum of $42,000,000 shall have been issued.

That controversy between Pike and Oldham is waxing warmer: Oldham says:

"Yes, and we are ready to fight, bleed and die in defense of our assertion that the 'personal pulchritude' of the Trenton girls can not be surpassed on land or sea. If Brother Pike don't like the sound of those final remarks, all he's got to do is to say so—by the Telephone, of course."

Pike says: "So certain are we of the merit of our claim that we would consent for Editor Meacham to pass upon the controversy. If our Trenton neighbor has the courage of his convictions let him say the word with the full knowledge of the fact that it would be treasonable for our nominee to arbitrate. He is a good judge of such matters."

Since we are asked to decide, we will settle the contrary by splitting the difference and deciding that the prettiest girls are to be found half way between the contending towns.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

Schley naturally would rather be a conqueror than a cork.

A Chicago bicyclist who ran against the heels of a mule is not dead, but he is in the hospital.

Between papa and the politicians there will be many inexperienced officers in our new army.

As the Spaniards are not expert marksmen, Gen. Miles may wear as gaudy a uniform as he likes.

"A Glass Famine" is a headline in one of the morning papers. This is pretty hard on the glass-eaters.

As soon as the army gets its supplies of potatoes and onions it will be expected to go to planting Spaniards.

Orator Webster Davis' clock of ages is a good thing, but who will wind it when Webster Davis will have passed to eternity.

May weather in Chicago must have been of the Klondike variety. A man found dead on Fullerton avenue had on three pairs of trousers.

If the President stopped the war long enough to receive Mr. Wurzbarger, it is entirely proper for the friends of Mr. Wurzbarger to say that he saw him.

The climate of Florida is not adapted to the preservation of meat. Tons of it have spoiled in the camp at Tampa. Still we shall in a general way save our bacon.

We are quite familiar with the ragged regimentals of the old continentals, but the volunteers of today should have complete apparel. A hero with a hole in his breeches at the beginning of a war is not an up-to-date soldier.

Assessing the Corporations.

Frankfort, Ky., June 4.—(Special.)—Audition Stone, Treasurer Long and Secretary Finley, composing the Board of Valuation and Assessment, met yesterday morning in the Auditor's office and began the assessment of corporate franchises of the various big corporations of the State. The telegraph, water, electric light companies, railroads, and corporations of all kinds have filed voluminous reports with the board. Notice of franchise assessments will shortly go out to companies.

If pretty girls, like Miss Christine Bradley and Miss Alice Castleman, are to nurse our wounded soldiers, the places of danger are liable to be crowded with Kentuckians.

One Merrimac has been converted into a bottle stopper, but we still have the Merry Mack in the White House left.
