WILL CELEBRATE.

The Colored People Preparing for a Big Jollification.

The colored people of this and neighboring cities will rally in this city on Saturday, August 27 and celebrate the victory of our arms in Cuba, Porto Rico and Manila harbor. The celebration is intended by its promoters to be an expression of the admiration of the colored people for the men of the Ninth and Tenth cavalry and Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth infantry, the four colored regiments of the regular army.

Excursions will be run from Evansville, Henderson, Bowling Green and Clarksville on the L. & N. railroad and from points as far down as Mayfield on the I. C.

Half a dozen brass bands will be in the grand procession which will parade the streets. Companies will be formed to represent in the parade the regiments honored.

At Mercer Park there will be a number of novel and interesting features, including a balloon ascension, tight rope walking, sack and wheelbarrow races.

There will also be a ball game between teams from Mayfield and Evansville.

REV. T. N. COMPTON

Will Accept a Call to a Baltimore Church.

Rev. Theodore Compton, who so acceptably filled the Madisonville and Cadiz pulpits of the Baptist churches for a long time, and later the same position at Baton Rouge, La., has resigned the pastorate of the latter church and has accepted a call to a church in Baltimore, Md. The rise of Mr. Compton has been rapid. He was born and reared near Nebo. He took advantage of the schools of his county, went to others, graduated with honor and to-day is one of the leading ministers of his denomination in the South.

RECEPTION TO-NIGHT.

At Mr. Morris Cohen's in Honor of Miss Glick.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cohen will open the doors of their hospitable home this evening, in honor of Miss Glick, their charming guest. The invitations are numerous and a large attendance is expected.

HAD HIS HOG.

But the Negro Lost His Fresh Meat After a Long Chase.

Mr. Stephen E. Everett, a well known Sinking Fork farmer, purchased a lot of stock hogs about a week ago, among the number being some fat fellows. When he went out to see after them Saturday one of the largest ones had disappeared. On going out to the public road he noticed hog tracks and he did not go far until he saw a negro driving one of his swine off. He gave chase, but being lame in one leg, made rather slow progress, and he ran about two miles before he came up close to the would be thief. When he got within about two hundred yards of the negro he abandoned the hog and jumping over a wire fence, disappeared in the woods.

Mr. Everett then drove the animal back home. He was unable to identify the negro and it is not at all likely that he will ever be apprehended.

OF TYPHOID FEVER.

George Williams Dies at His Home Near Oak Grove.

Mr. George Williams, a prominent and highly esteemed young man of the Oak Grove neighborhood, a son of Mr. Thos. A. Williams, died this morning at an early hour of typhoid fever. He was about 30 years of age and lived with his father. The time for the interment has not been announced yet.

CLARDY FARM NOT SOLD.

A Bid of $37 an Acre Rejected Too Low.

The Clardy farm at Bell was offered for sale Saturday by Dr. J. D. Clardy, the Executor of the estate, but was not sold. Dr. Jno. P. Bell offered $37 an acre for the farm, but it was rejected, as the land will not be sold for less than $40 an acre. It is one of the finest tracts of land in the county.

FAMILY REUNION.

A Gathering of the Winfree at Casky Saturday.

Descendants of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Winfree Hold a Family Reunion and Have a Barbecue.

The Winfree family had a family reunion at Casky Saturday, at the home of Mr. Geo. W. Winfree, that was attended by 47 of the 70 descendants and family connections of the venerable Mr. S. T. Winfree and wife.

Of the fourteen children born to this estimable couple twelve are still living and ten of these were present. The various families represented were as follows:

S. T. Winfree and wife, W. P. Winfree and family; eight present, two absent.

Jas. H. Winfree and family; four present.

Geo. W. Winfree and family; six present, three absent.

M. F. Winfree and family; eight present.

Thos. S. Winfree and wife.

Alex. A. Winfree and family, four present.

Three representatives of the family of J. R. Winfree, deceased, were present and one absent.

The two children of Jno. W. Winfree, deceased, were not present.

Of the daughters the following were present:

Mrs. Irene McMullen, of San Francisco, three present and six absent.

Mrs. Florence Callnon, San Francisco, two present and one absent.

Mrs. Susie Cunningham, Evansville, Ind., four present and one absent.

Mrs. Carry Boyle, Evansville, one present and one absent.

The two absent children were Mrs. N. E. Gray, of Redwood, Calif. and Mrs. M. E. Gray, of Brentwood, Calif. There were two absentees from the family of each.

The total absentees were 23 out of 70 in all.

The reunion was strictly a family affair, the only outsiders being the family of the old couple's pastor. Mr. Winfree is now in his 79th year and his wife is 75. Both are hale and hearty and enjoying good health.

Artist Bowles, of this city, was on hand and took a group picture of all the family present.

The day was most enjoyably spent in a nice grove of trees and a barbecued dinner was spread for all.

The numerous friends of this excellent family, one of the best in Western Kentucky, will wish for them all a happy future and many more such pleasant reunions.

South Kentucky College.

We learn that South Kentucky College has secured the services of Prof. W. L. Eiseman, of Nashville, Tenn., to teach the classes in violin and other stringed instruments. Prof. Eiseman is the leader of the noted Vendome orchestra, and is Nashville's most prominent leader of violin music. We congratulate the college and the people of Hopkinsville upon this acquisition to our music loving society. Prof. Eiseman will lead the college orchestra.

Prof. Woolwine has just returned from a successful visit in the interest of S. K. C. to Henderson and intermediate points.

Prof. Kuykendall returned yesterday from a trip to Glasgow and left for Morganfield yesterday. He reports most gratifying success.

His associate is Prof. S. W. Alexander, who has been associated with Prof. Harrison for a number of years.

Colored Excursion.

The I. C. railroad carried out a colored excursion on the early train this morning for Paducah. Fifty tickets were sold here at $1.50 for the round trip and excursionists were picked up all along the route and the number largely increased. They will return to-night.

KICKED BY A COW.

Tucker Buckner Killed By a Peculiar Accident.

Mortally Injured By an Unruly Cow He Was Helping to Milk.

Tucker Buckner, a colored man about 30 years old, was killed Sunday morning at Longview by a peculiar accident.

He was helping a colored woman named Lizzie Moore to milk a kicking cow, on the farm of Mr. T. P. Johnson.

Buckner had a long pole with which he was holding the cow against a fence, when she gave a sudden kick or jump knocked the pole against Buckner's body with fatal force. He was hit in the pit of his stomach and knocked senseless upon the ground. Witnesses who hastened to him only had time to turn him over, when he gasped a few times and expired. He lived less than five minutes. The woman escaped unhurt.

The Coroner went down the same day and held an inquest, empaneling a jury consisting of T. P. Johnson, Ed Irwin, Wm. Wright, Wallace Torian and Marion Davie. The verdict was death from an accident in accordance with the facts set forth above.

Dr. Jno. P. Bell was sent for but was of course unable to revive the man, as he was dead in a few minutes after he was struck.

His body was buried at Pembroke to-day.

SHE KISSED HIM.

Hobson the Hero of Another Gallant Episode.

New York, Aug. 18.—Folks who read about the kiss bestowed upon Lieut. Hobson by Miss Emma Arnold of St. Louis at the Long Beach (L. I.) Hotel Friday night in the presence of several hundred guests, perhaps regarded it as an unconventional proceeding.

But they would have changed their minds could they have heard all about it direct from the enticing lips of Miss Arnold herself, and would have agreed with her that it was certainly the most natural thing in the world for her to have kissed the hero of the Merrimac.

Miss Arnold is a very pretty girl, and a look at her is calculated to fill the masculine bosom with a huge desire to be a Hobson herself.

Here is the statement: You see, the fine sword had been presented to him in the ballroom, and then every one went into the parlor, where all the guests were introduced to Mr. Hobson, and every one shook hands with him, but he kissed two or three of the little girls who went up to him.

"When I saw him kiss the little girls I said to Mr. Dick, the proprietor of the hotel 'I almost wish I were a child again,'" and Mr. Dick answered:

"I dare you to say that to Mr. Hobson when you meet him."

"I replied: 'You'll see if I'm afraid.'"

"The next minute my turn came to be formally presented and after we had shaken hands I said:

"Mr. Hobson, I almost wish I were a little girl again."

"He was very quick and said: 'Why, I'll treat you as if you were a little girl,' and he bent over me and kissed me. I am not sorry in one way, but I am sorry that it made people talk about me so much. I don't think I would have invited that kiss if I had known all the fuss was to be made over it. It was such a little kiss too."

"Of course I kissed him on the spur of the moment," said Miss Arnold in explaining to a Post-Dispatch reporter who was sent out to Long Beach to talk with the young woman. "You don't suppose that I had planned it a long time beforehand, do you?"

"Did a motive go along with the kiss?"

"Yes, and a big, important one. Pure patriotism was the motive."

Hobson before in all my life."

"Was it any particular kind of a kiss?"

"No, just a plain, ordinary one."

"Did he kiss you, or did you kiss him?"

"Why, he kissed me and I kissed him. That is, I kissed the historic and courageous act. It was not Hobson I kissed."
