"TYRANT FEAR" STRONG PHOTOPLAY OF THE FAR NORTH

Dorothy Dalton Will Be Seen in Her Latest Vehicle.

"TYRANT FEAR," the latest Paramount picture starring Dorothy Dalton, will be the feature at the Princess theatre. This is said to be one of the most pretentious photodramas of the Canadian Northwest ever made by Thomas H. Ince, master producer. The picture was directed by R. William Neill under Mr. Ince's direction, from a scenario written by R. Cecil Smith.

This famous Thomas H. Ince star will be seen in a story dealing with the life of the French-Canadians, and the scenes are not only thrilling to a marked degree, but beautiful. Miss Dalton portrays the role of a girl, who has been obsessed by nameless fear since childhood, and who by a chain of unusually stirring events, casts off the tyranny of fear and becomes a brave and resourceful woman.

How this metamorphosis is brought about must be seen to be fully appreciated. In the supporting cast of players are such artists as Thurston Hall, Melbourne MacDowell, William Conklin, Lou Salter, Carmen Phillips and others. The photoplay will be presented with all necessary accessories to insure adequate display.

REX TO-MORROW.

Cart Holds Up Production of The Sudden Gentleman.

A jaunting cart may be most common in Ireland, but it's like looking for a proverbial "needle in the haystack" to find one of the Pacific Coast. This was discovered when Director Thomas N. Heffron called for one in the making of his latest Triangle picture, "The Sudden Gentleman."

After days of futile search it was decided to make one in the shops at the Culver City studios. The jaunting cart, the kind in which the passengers sit back to back with their feet on a shelf, was completed, and then the fun began. "Old Whitney," the steed chosen to draw it, took exception to the strange vehicle which persisted in following him about, and before the necessary shots were completed "Whitney" found his chance for revenge and ran away, completely wrecking the cart.

So the trip of William Desmond, as Garry Garrity, village blacksmith who had inherited a vast estate in "Amerika," had to be held up until a new jaunting cart was built.

WHEN MAN INSULTS COURT HE RECEIVES HEAVY FINE.

(By International News Service.) Chicago, Ill., June 1.—John Lopuch was thrown out of a saloon and nearly mobbed because of disloyal utterances. He was brought before Judge John A. Swanson.

"Two hundred dollars and costs—take that man out of here," roared Swanson.
